OFF THE FIELD

Any charitable causes that are meaningful to you: Worked for Metropolitan Ministries in high school ... wants to work in education or causes to help underprivileged children and victims of domestic violence

The thing(s) people find most interesting about you: "How dedicated I am to wherever I'm at and what I want to represent ... I represent my high school, Ohio State and now Tennessee any time I can."

Pregame rituals: "Sit in silence and focus, lock in. Just get ready to go play."

Outside of football and your family, what is something you're passionate about? "Cooking ... I got started during COVID quarantine. That's how I learned how to maintain my weight. I do a lot of pasta, but I'll cook anything. I just enjoy trying out new recipes."

Biggest challenge overcome in your life and/or football career: The passing of his grandparents in the past year. His grandmother (Julienne Lacarte) passed away in October and then his grandfather (Jean Petit-Frere) the week of the NFL Combine.

Football role model: High school football coach Dominick Ciao

Hidden talent: Played cello in middle school and now trying to learn piano ... can swing a golf club lefthanded and righthanded.

Outside of football, a skill you would like to have: Play a musical instrument, cooking, golfing, reading more books ... "to be really competent at a wide variety of things."

On your "bucket list": "Skydiving, but I'm too heavy, from what I hear, to start out because you need to do a tandem jump first."

Off-the-field interests and hobbies: Enjoys playing fantasy football and would always try to draft Derrick Henry ... also is a boardgame enthusiast, particularly Monopoly.

Prior jobs: None

Three apps you use the most on your phone: Instagram, YouTube, Twitter

Movie you can always re-watch: "Scott Pilgrim vs. the World"

Best TV show to binge: Competitive reality shows such as "Survivor" and "Amazing Race"

Favorite musician or band: Lil Uzi Vert
