TITANS-PACKERS SUPPLEMENTAL NOTES

GOING FOR SEVEN STRAIGHT WITH THREE SACKS AND AN INTERCEPTION: In last week's game against the Denver Broncos, the Titans defense registered a season-high six sacks and an interception. It marked the sixth consecutive game in which the Titans accumulated at least three sacks and an interception, dating back to Oct. 2 at Indianapolis.

With three more sacks and an interception this week at Green Bay, the Titans would become only the fourth team since the 1970 NFL-AFL merger to do so in seven straight games within a season. The Colts had an eight-game streak in 1975, followed by Washington in 1984 (seven games) and Chicago in 1985 (seven). The last team to record a six-game streak was the Raiders in 1998.

Linebacker David Long Jr. has a team-high two interceptions, while seven other players each have one: safeties Kevin Byard, Andrew Adams and Amani Hooker; defensive lineman Teair Tart; and cornerbacks Roger McCreary, Kristian Fulton and Mitchell. No NFL team in 2022 besides the Titans has recorded an interception from eight different players.

18 QUARTERBACK HITS A NEW BENCHMARK: The defense's six sacks against Denver accounted for the Titans' best total in the regular season since Mike Vrabel became head coach in 2018. The sacks were part of the total accumulation of 18 quarterback hits in the contest, all without the aid of several defensive starters who were inactive with injuries, including defensive tackle Jeffery Simmons and outside linebacker Bud Dupree.

Defensive end Mario Edwards Jr. and outside linebacker Rashad Weaver led the parade with four quarterback hits apiece. Also contributing were DeMarcus Walker (three), Denico Autry (two), Andrew Adams (one), Dylan Cole (one), Naquan Jones (one), Elijah Molden (one) and Teair Tart (one).

Kearse had 35 sacks in his first 50 contests from 1999 to 2002, and Landry had 20.5 sacks in his first 50 outings from 2018 to 2021. Simmons would be the club's first interior lineman to do so.
