TITANS-BILLS SUPPLEMENTAL NOTES

GOSTKOWSKI AMONG ALL-TIME GREATS IN LONG-RANGE FIELD GOALS: For his Week 3 performance at Minnesota, Titans kicker Stephen Gostkowski was named the AFC Special Teams Player of the Week, and he added AFC Special Teams Player of the Month honors to his résumé on the strength of his three game-winning field goals in September.

In the game against the Vikings, Gostkowski totaled a career-best six field goals. He made kicks, in order, of 39, 31 and 30 yards in the first half, followed by second-half field goals of 51, 54 and 55 yards. The 55-yarder provided the go-ahead points late in the 31-30 victory.

The 15th-year veteran tied an NFL record with three field goals of 50-plus yards in a game, matching a feat that had been accomplished on only nine previous occasions. Graham Gano of the New York Giants later matched the feat against Dallas on Oct. 11. Prior to Gostkowski's heroics, the most recent kicking performance of its kind was Baltimore's Justin Tucker on Nov. 27, 2016 against Cincinnati.

Gostkowski also was the fifth player in history to hit three field goals of at least 50 yards in a single half. Tucker, in the first half of the aforementioned contest with the Bengals, was the last to do it.

Most field goals of 50 or more yards in a game, NFL history:

Player	Team	Opponent	Date	50+ Yard Field Goals
1. Graham Gano	N.Y. Giants	Dallas	Oct. 11, 2020	3

The 36-year-old Gostkowski has a place among the all-time greats at his position in long-range field goals. Among all kickers with at least 30 attempts from 50-plus yards, he ranks second with an accuracy rate of 74.4 percent, hitting 29 of his 39 career attempts.

Current Detroit Lions kicker Matt Prater is at the top of the list, edging the Titans kicker with a rate of 74.6 percent (53 of 71).

TITANS' POINT MARGIN RARE FOR 3-0 START: The Titans have demonstrated a unique capacity to close out games by thin margins, winning their first three games of 2020 by a total of six points. They opened with a 16-14 win at Denver, followed by a 33-30 victory against Jacksonville and last week's 31-30 final at Minnesota.

Out of all teams to begin a season with a 3-0 record since the 1970 NFL-AFL merger, the Titans tied the 2005 Washington Football Team with the lowest total scoring margin.

Teams with the most narrow total scoring margins during a 3-0 start since 1970:

Team	Season	Point Margin in 3-0 Start	Season Results
1. Tennessee Titans	2020	6	?
Washington Football Team	2005	6	10-6, advanced to Divisional Round
3. Oakland Raiders	1976	7	13-7, won Super Bowl XI

BIG-PLAY RAYMOND: In the Week 3 win at Minnesota, Titans wide receiver Kalif Raymond enjoyed his first career 100-yard receiving game, collecting three passes for a team-best 118 yards. His performance included catches of 44 yards and 61 yards.

Four years after originally entering the NFL as a rookie free agent with the Denver Broncos, Raymond has emerged as one of Ryan Tannehill's favorite targets and one of the NFL's most viable deep threats. Since the beginning of 2019, including the 2019 playoffs, he has totaled 13 receptions for 333 yards—averaging 25.6 yards per reception, tops among all players with at least 10 catches.

According to Sportradar, Raymond has the most air yards per reception in that time among all players with 10 or more catches. His 13 grabs have averaged 22.9 air yards (yards downfield from the line of scrimmage), nearly six yards ahead of the second player on the list (17.0 by J.J. Arcega-Whiteside).

Highest average air yards per reception in the regular season and playoffs, 2019–2020 (per Sportradar; minimum 10 receptions):

BRINKLEY AND JONES HOLD PLACES WITH TEAM'S IRONMEN: When the Titans removed long snapper Beau Brinkley and defensive lineman DaQuan Jones from their reserve/COVID-19 list this week, they got back two of their most reliable, durable players.

At Minnesota, Brinkley appeared in his 131st consecutive game. Since he was signed as an undrafted rookie out of Missouri in 2012, he has served as the team's long snapper on every punt, field goal and extra point attempt.

On Sept. 14 at Denver, Brinkley moved ahead of Eddie George (128) for ninth place on the team's list for consecutive games played. Among current Titans, only punter Brett Kern (173) ranks higher.

TITANS CAN TAP PRACTICE SQUAD FOR ROSTER REPLACEMENTS: When a player on a team's 53-man roster is placed on the reserve/COVID-19 list, the club may replace that player by any approved player transaction, subject to the NFL's standard personnel rules and testing protocols for such transactions. One option available to teams is elevating a player from its own practice squad.

A practice squad player may be elevated to replace a player who was placed on the reserve/COVID-19 list at any time during the week prior to the transaction deadline on the last business day before the game (3 p.m. CT Saturday for a Sunday game; 3 p.m. CT Tuesday for a Tuesday night game). In addition, a club may elevate, on a one-for-one basis, a practice squad player to replace a player for whom the diagnosis (or need for preventative quarantine) was made or confirmed after the transaction deadline provided that the elevation is reported to the NFL office at least 90 minutes prior to kickoff. These elevations do not count against the two "standard elevations" available to teams (the "54th and 55th players"). Such elevations are irrevocable for the club's game in that week, and the designated player must count towards the club's 53-player active/inactive list for that game.

Any player elevated to the club's 53-player roster under this replacement protocol reverts back to the practice squad on the first business day following its game. If the player originally replaced on reserve/COVID-19 remains on that list for more than one week, the club will retain the right to replace that player by elevating the same practice squad player or a different practice squad player by the same method. A club is not required to elevate the same player each week to replace the same player on reserve/COVID-19.
