LAST WEEK AGAINST THE COLTS

Following their Week 5 bye, the Titans hosted the division rival Indianapolis Colts at Nissan Stadium last week. The Titans took a 17-10 lead into the fourth quarter, but the Colts scored the game's final 10 points to escape with a 20-17 win.

Starting quarterback Will Levis was back in the lineup after missing most of the previous contest at Miami with a right shoulder injury. He passed for 95 yards and completed a nine-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Nick Westbrook-Ikhine in the first quarter.

The Titans' second touchdown against the Colts came courtesy of running back Tony Pollard. During the opening drive of the second half, with the Titans facing a third-and-19, Pollard found the end zone on a 23-yard rushing attempt. He finished the contest with 93 rushing yards, and through five contests he leads the team with 339 rushing yards and 421 total scrimmage yards (82 receiving).

On the defensive side, safety Amani Hooker registered his first interception of 2024 and the eighth interception of his six-year career. He set up the team's first touchdown with a 30-yard return.

Through six weeks of the NFL season, the Titans rank first in total defense, allowing opposing offenses an average of only 248.8 yards per game. They rank second in the league in passing defense, yielding only 137.0 passing yards per contest.

THE BILLS

Led by head coach Sean McDermott, the Bills carry a streak of five consecutive playoff seasons and four straight AFC East titles into 2024. They won their first three contests of 2024 before dropping consecutive games at Baltimore and at Houston. Their Week 6 matchup is scheduled for Monday night, Oct. 14, at the New York Jets.

Bills quarterback Josh Allen is in his seventh NFL season since he was selected in the first round of the 2018 NFL Draft out of the University of Wyoming. Allen and Patrick Mahomes are the NFL's only quarterbacks who have passed for more than 4,000 yards in each of the past four campaigns.

* The Bills' 3-2 record is prior to their game on Monday, Oct. 14.

SERIES HISTORY

The Titans and Bills rivalry brings together two of the original teams of the American Football League, founded by two of the visionaries who helped set in motion one of the most significant eras in football history. It was in 1960 that K.S. "Bud" Adams, Jr.'s then-Houston Oilers and Ralph Wilson, Jr.'s Bills became two of the eight teams that began play in the newly-formed league. Adams, Wilson and the other original AFL owners were dubbed the "Foolish Club" for their choice to accept the seemingly-impossible task of competing with the National Football League. Ten seasons later, the burgeoning league's success was more than apparent, as the AFL and NFL completed a historic merger.

In the regular season and postseason, the Titans and Bills have met a total of 50 times. The Titans hold a 30-20 advantage in the series, dating back to the inaugural AFL season.

The momentum in the series has swung back and forth. From 1967 until 1978, the Oilers had a 10-game winning streak over the Bills, the longest streak in the series. From 1983–94, Buffalo controlled most of the results, going 8-3. Tennessee then won eight out of nine, including five consecutive matchups from 2003-12, before the Bills won the next three games.

The Titans took the last two meetings at Nissan Stadium. Most recently, on Monday night, Oct. 18, 2021, they hosted the Bills and won 34-31. Derrick Henry rushed for three touchdowns, including a 76-yarder.

The last time the Titans and Bills met at Highmark Stadium was Sept. 19, 2022. In front of a Monday Night Football audience, Allen completed four touchdown passes—three to Stefon Diggs—to lift the Bills to a 41-7 win. It was the largest margin of victory by either team in the historic series.

The franchises have met three times in the playoffs, with Buffalo holding a 2-1 advantage. The last playoff matchup between the two teams was in 1999, when the Titans defeated the Bills 22-16 in an AFC wild card game. In a play known as the "Music City Miracle," Kevin Dyson returned a Frank Wycheck lateral on a kickoff return 75 yards for a touchdown with only 16 seconds left in the game, giving Tennessee the win. The Titans went on to beat Indianapolis and Jacksonville before falling to St. Louis in Super Bowl XXXIV.

In a 1992 wild card game, the Bills achieved a similarly miraculous win. Trailing 35-3 in the third quarter, the Bills rallied to score 35 consecutive points and eventually won 41-38 in overtime.

On Jan. 1, 1989, the Bills hosted the Oilers in a wild card game and won 17-10.

TITANS-BILLS: THE LAST MEETING

2022 Week 2: Titans 7, Bills 41
Monday, Sept. 19, 2022 • 7:15 p.m. ET • Highmark Stadium

In Week 2 of the 2022 season, the Titans traveled to Buffalo to face the Bills on Monday Night Football and fell by a score of 41-7.

Buffalo got on the board first on their opening drive as Bills QB Josh Allen guided his team on a 75-yard scoring drive that culminated in an 11-yard touchdown pass to Bills FB Reggie Gilliam, 7-0 Buffalo. The Titans responded on their opening drive with a touchdown of their own to tie the score. QB Ryan Tannehill connected with WR Treyton Burks for a 14-yard first down, with TE Austin Hooper for a 19-yard first down, and WR Nick Westbrook-Ikhine for a 13-yard pass. Facing a fourth-and-one at the Buffalo two-yard line, RB Derrick Henry took the handoff and plunged into the end zone for a two-yard score, 7-7.

In the second quarter, Buffalo strung together two scoring drives on consecutive possessions to make it a 17-7 score heading into halftime. First, the Tennessee defense forced Buffalo to settle for a field goal as Bills K Tyler Bass converted a 49-yard kick, 10-7. Then, facing a fourth-and-one at the Tennessee four-yard line, Allen connected with Bills WR Stefon Diggs for a four-yard score to make it 17-7.

On their first drive of the second half, Allen found Diggs in the end zone for a 46-yard touchdown to extend the lead, 24-7. Buffalo then added three more scores to put the game out of reach. After the Titans defense forced the Bills to punt, WR Kyle Philips muffed the punt return and it was recovered by Bills LB Tyrel Dodson to give Buffalo possession at the Tennessee 20-yard line. Buffalo capitalized on the turnover with a 37-yard field goal, 27-7. On the ensuing Titans possession, Tannehill's pass was tipped and intercepted by Bills S Jordan Poyer and the turnover gave Buffalo possession at the 50-yard line. Allen found Diggs in the end zone for the third time as a 14-yard touchdown made it a 34-7 game.

On the ensuing Tennessee possession, Tannehill threw a pick six to Bills LB Matt Milano, who returned the ball 43 yards for a score to make it 41-7. The deficit proved too large for the Titans to overcome as Tennessee fell on the road to Buffalo.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR THIS WEEK

TITANS DEFENSE

- If the Titans defense holds its opponent under 200 net passing yards for the sixth consecutive game, it will be the team's first time doing so in each of the first six games of the season since 1975.

S QUANDRE DIGGS

- Enters the game with a streak of 72 consecutive games started, which trails only Kevin Byard (127), Patrick Queen (73) and Daron Payne (73) for the NFL's longest active streak among defensive players.
- Needs one interception to join seven other active NFL players to reach 25 for his career. Diggs is tied with Jordan Poyer (24) for the eighth-most interceptions among active players.

K NICK FOLK

- Enters the game with an all-time NFL-record streak of 79 consecutive field goals made on attempts from less than 40 yards.
- With 390 career field goals, he needs three more to surpass Stephen Gostkowski (392) for 16th place in NFL history.
- Enters the game with a streak of 17 consecutive field goals made since Nov. 12, 2023, which is the fifth-longest streak of his career. The franchise record for consecutive field goals made is 20, accomplished on five different occasions, including once by Folk in 2023.

WR DeANDRE HOPKINS

- With 79 touchdown receptions entering the contest, he can become the 33rd player in NFL history to reach 80 career touchdown receptions.
- Can extend his active streak to 168 consecutive games with a reception—every game he has played since he entered the NFL. He would move ahead of Keyshawn Johnson (167) for the second-longest such streak to begin a career in NFL history behind only Marvin Harrison (190 consecutive games).
- Can register his 43rd career 100-yard receiving game and his fourth 100-yard game as a member of the Titans.

OLB HAROLD LANDRY III

- Enters the game with 45.5 career sacks, which ranks ninth in franchise history. He needs 2.5 sacks to tie Robert Brazile (48.0) for eighth place on the list. Landry owns the third-highest sack total for the team in its "Titans era" (1999–present), trailing only Jevon Kearse (52) and Jurrell Casey (51).
- Enters the contest with 9.5 sacks in his last 11 games.

LB KENNETH MURRAY JR.

- Can record his fifth consecutive game with at least eight tackles. It would mark the longest such streak of his career. He previously had four consecutive performances with at least eight tackles in 2023.
- Can record his fifth consecutive game with at least one tackle for loss. He would become the first Titans player since Harold Landry III in 2021 to accomplish the feat. His current streak of four games is the longest of his career.

TE CHIG OKONKWO

- Needs three receptions to reach 100 for his career (97 entering the game).

RB TONY POLLARD

- Needs 40 rushing yards to reach 4,000 for his career (3,960 entering the game).
- Can record his third consecutive game with at least one rushing touchdown, which would tie for the longest streak of his career (Nov. 19-30, 2023).

P RYAN STONEHOUSE

- Can record his 13th consecutive game with at least one punt of 55-plus yards. Currently at 12 games, he holds the NFL's longest such active streak, which is also tied for the longest streak of his career (2022).

TE NICK VANNETT

Sean McDermott was named head coach of the Buffalo Bills in January 2017 after spending six seasons as the defensive coordinator for the Carolina Panthers.

After joining a franchise that had not earned a postseason berth since 1999, McDermott has led Buffalo to six playoff appearances, four division titles and an AFC Championship game appearance in his first seven seasons at the helm. He ranks second in Bills head coaching history with 81 wins, including postseason.

Since McDermott took the reigns in 2017, the Bills defense has given up the league's fewest total yards per game (314.9), passing yards per game (201.2) and yards per play (5.1).

The Bills also rank in the top-10 in both passing and rushing touchdowns since 2017. McDermott has helped develop 2018 first-round pick Josh Allen. Since he was drafted, Allen has accounted for 231 total touchdowns, ranking second in the NFL during that span, trailing only Patrick Mahomes (237).

In 2023, Buffalo went 11-6, locking up their fourth-straight AFC East crown. Buffalo's .639 regular season winning percentage since 2017 ranks third in the NFL and they've finished with at least nine wins and a postseason berth in six of seven full seasons.

In 2020, the Bills went 13-3 and captured their first division title and their first playoff win since 1995. The 13 wins tied for the most in team history. McDermott finished second in voting for the NFL's Coach of the Year honors and the Bills qualified for the AFC Championship Game.

In his first year in Buffalo (2017), McDermott led the Bills to their first playoff berth since 1999 with a 9-7 record. He became the third coach in Bills history to earn a playoff berth in his first season at the helm (Joe Collier and Wade Phillips).

While in Carolina, McDermott developed a top-10 defense in four of his six seasons. During his time in Carolina, McDermott helped the Panthers to three division titles and a trip to Super Bowl 50.

McDermott arrived in Carolina following 12 seasons with the Philadelphia Eagles (1998-2010). He spent his last two seasons in Philadelphia as defensive coordinator, helping the Eagles to the playoffs in each of those seasons (2009-10). McDermott coached the secondary and linebackers before becoming defensive coordinator, learning under the late Jim Johnson (2004-08).

McDermott worked as Philadelphia's assistant defensive backs coach in 2003 and as the defensive assistant/quality control coach from 2001-02, assisting with linebackers. He joined the organization in 1998 as a scouting administrative coordinator before being promoted to assistant to the head coach in 1999.

An All-Atlantic 10 Conference choice at safety for William & Mary as a senior in 1997, McDermott graduated with a degree in finance and began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at his alma mater in 1998.

McDermott is a native of Omaha, Neb.

LAST WEEK VS. THE COLTS

Week 6: Titans 17, Colts 20 Sunday, Oct. 13, 2024 • 12:00 p.m. CDT • Nissan Stadium

In Week 6 of the 2024 NFL season, the Titans hosted division rival Indianapolis and lost by a score of 20-17 to fall to 1-4 on the season.

Indianapolis scored on the opening possession of the game as QB Joe Flacco led the Colts 70 yards down field on 10 plays and capped it with a 22-yard touchdown pass to WR Josh Downs to take an early 7-0 lead.

The Titans offense was held to a three-and-out and forced to punt on the next possession. The Colts took over at their own 36-yard line. Two plays later, S Amani Hooker intercepted a Flacco pass and returned it 30 yards to bring the Titans to the Indianapolis 27-yard line.

QB Will Levis found WR Tyler Boyd for a quick eight-yard gain before RB Tony Pollard broke off for 10 yards to bring Tennessee to the Indianapolis nine-yard line. Levis then found WR Nick Westbrook-Ikhine in the end zone for the score on Westbrook-Ikhine's first reception of the season to tie the game at 7-7.

The Colts punted on their next possession and the Titans took over at their own 18-yard line. Levis then constructed a 15-play, 56-yard drive that ran 9:02 off the clock and was capped off by a K Nick Folk 44-yard field goal. The drive featured nine combined rushes from RB Tony Pollard and RB Tyjae Spears.

Both teams then traded punts before Indianapolis got the ball at their own 29-yard line with 3:39 left in the half. Two penalties by the Titans helped bring the Colts to the Titans 15-yard line before K Matt Gay tied the game with a 26-yard field goal to make it 10-10 at the half.

The Titans came out of the half with a 14-play, 70-yard touchdown drive to retake the lead. The drive featured three third-down conversions, including the 23-yard touchdown run by Pollard which came on third-and-19. The drive took 8:41 off the clock, making it the longest touchdown drive in time of possession for the Titans this season.

The Colts answered with a long drive of their own. After marching down to the Tennessee two-yard line on 13 plays, Indianapolis was facing third-and-two when OLB Harold Landry III and Hooker combined to stuff RB Trey Sermon for a two-yard loss that forced another Gay field goal, this time from 22 yards out to make it 17-13 with 14:57 left in the fourth quarter.

Indianapolis then took the lead after forcing the Titans to a three-and-out and then driving to the Tennessee 10-yard line before Flacco found WR Michael Pittman Jr. in the end zone to make it 20-17 with 7:27 left in the fourth quarter.

The Titans were unable to rally as the Colts forced two punts, an interception and a stop on the final four Tennessee offensive possessions of the game to drop the Titans to 1-4 on the season.

NOTES FROM LAST WEEK'S GAME

TEAM NOTES

- The Titans out-rushed the Colts 146 yards to 80 yards. Their 66-yard differential in rushing was their best of the season through five games.
- For the third time in 2024, the Titans won the time-of-possession battle. They held the ball against the Colts for 30 minutes and 32 seconds, compared to 29 minutes and 28 seconds by the Colts.
- The Titans offense did not allow a sack against the Colts. It was the team's first time not allowing a sack since Oct. 18, 2021 against the Buffalo Bills.
- For the second consecutive game, the Titans offense did not allow a sack in the first half.
- The Titans offense opened the second half with a 14-play, 70-yard touchdown drive that consumed 8 minutes and 41 seconds. It was the team's longest touchdown drive in time of possession since Dec. 24, 2023 against Seattle, when a touchdown drive took 8 minutes and 49 seconds.
- The Titans' touchdown to open the third quarter marked their first time scoring a touchdown on their opening drive of the second half since they did so in the 2023 season finale against Jacksonville (Jan. 7, 2024).

TEAM NOTES – DEFENSE

- The Titans went into their game against the Colts ranked first in total defense. They allowed 269 yards by the Colts, bringing their season average to 248.8 opponent yards per game. That is the best number for the team through its first five games of a season since 1976, when Oilers opponents averaged 208.2 yards per game through five contests.
- The Titans defense kept the Colts to 189 net passing yards, marking the fifth consecutive game to begin the season in which their opponent did not reach 200 net passing yards. It is team's first time doing so in each of the first five games of a season since 1986.
- Through five games in 2024, the Titans have not allowed a player from an opposing team to pass for 300 yards, rush for 100 yards, or post a 100-yard receiving game. This is the seventh time in franchise history the club has started the season without allowing any such performances in its first five games. The last time was 2000. The Titans and Los Angeles Chargers entered Week 6 as the only NFL teams that had not allowed a 300-yard passing game, 100-yard rushing game or 100-yard receiving game in 2024.

- The defense's streak of not allowing an individual 300-yard passing performance reached 10 games. The last time they had a streak of 10 such games was a 12-game stretch from November 2018 to September 2019.
- The Colts offense averaged only 5.0 yards per pass attempt, marking the fourth time in five games that the Titans defense kept their opponent under 6.0 yards per attempt. Through the early afternoon games of Oct. 13, the Titans defense averaged an NFL-best 5.5 passing yards per attempt in 2024.

HEAD COACH BRIAN CALLAHAN

All right. Injury-wise, (Tyjae) Spears left with a hamstring, did not return. He's the only significant injury that did not return to the game at any point. So we'll monitor that and see where he's at next week.

Story of the game; kind of penalties at critical times. Had to get off the field in some of those spots to create some plays and we weren't able to. We had a three-and-out on offense or two, had too many. We had a couple really nice drives and a couple of ones that didn't do much. We didn't really eliminate the chunk plays. They had a few that we were trying to get rid of. Positive side, ran the ball well. The run defense was good. First interception we got in the game, we went down and scored seven points. So, we flipped it on that one, which was good to see. And then, we had two really, really good drives on offense, but not enough. At the end of the day, just didn't make enough plays when we had to make plays, particularly down the stretch in the fourth quarter when we needed something to happen, and we couldn't get anything going. So, frustrating. I still think we're better than what our record says we are, but we also aren't making enough plays to win tight games, and we got to find a way to do that, and I got to find a way to help us get there because right now, losing games in our one score games is tough. We're in the mix and we're fighting, and guys play hard as hell, but right now we're not doing enough to win the games and that's why we've only won one.

Can you walk us through the decision to punt on the fourth-and-seven there at the end of the game?

The fourth-and-seven at the end of the game. We were going to turbo punt and try to see—it was only a three-point game. So, we tried to turbo punt, get the ball back. If you get a stop, then you're going to have a little bit of time left to try to manage a field goal drive out of it. So that was the thought. Fourth-and-seven would have been a tough conversion for us. And then we thought if we could—our defense would be able to put us in decent position to get the ball back and try to get into field goal range. That was the rationale behind it.

You targeted Calvin Ridley eight times, he didn't catch a single ball today. Can you win without him being involved in the offense?

No, we can't. We can't win like that. I'm sure he'll be the first one to tell you that that was disappointing. But he's one of our best players and he's—we look to him to try to make a play or two and we didn't get it done at the end of the game. We got to be better all the way around, offensively. We just don't have enough consistency from series to series. We do a lot of things well and then we stall, and then we do some more things well, and then we stall. And so, I got to figure out the best way to get us out of those slumps, to get us a little more consistent so we can put together more scoring drives because again, 17 points a game is not going to win you many games in the NFL at this point.

What's happened specifically with him (Calvin Ridley)?

I can't comment on anything specific. I mean, there's nothing that would have let me believe that he would have had no catches in the game or whatever it ended up being or eight targets. I don't know the stats off the top of my head. But yeah, I wouldn't have expected that. So, there's nothing I can point to at this point.

On the pick, did the ball just end up hanging up there for too long?

Yeah, the ball hung. We had a little bit of pressure, but I thought that if we got it up a touch quicker, we would've had a shot. I knew they were going to be in a man coverage on that get-back-on-track spot—it's what they had done earlier—and try to take a shot to (Calvin) Ridley. Just wasn't timed out right, and then the ball kind of hung up. Again, didn't kill us, but it lost us time. It wasn't a scoring play or anything like that. But it didn't give us a chance to try to go win the game. We lost some time off that drive.

With the lack of success in the passing game, how much does that force you to be a little more conservative? How can you get out of that and find a way to get Will Levis going?

Yeah, that's my job. I got to figure that out because right now we're not—we're running the ball well. But as you can see, even running the ball well doesn't give you enough. You got to be able to throw it and throw it with some efficiency, and we've not done a good enough job of that. And that ultimately is on me. That's my job. I got to find ways to put guys in better position, got to find things that we can execute better than we have, and that's really all there is to it. You got to throw the ball in the NFL to win, and that's the bottom line. I mean, you can run the ball really well and we do. We do that well. But we got to find ways, when the game is tight and we got to throw it, to make enough plays to give us a chance to win the game.

So you admit that the struggles passing the ball has forced you to be a bit more conservative?

Yeah, I think we try to lean into our strength, which right now is running the football. We did a lot of that throughout the course of the game. We ran the ball well, tried to do what we do well and then try to pick our spots to go throw it. And as of right now, again, we're a one-win football team. Nothing really is good enough at this point.

Was it something more that the Colts were doing or was it by design? It seemed like all the throws until you got desperate there on the last drives at the end were shorter by design. There weren't very many intermediate throws that could maybe move the chains.

We had a couple. I called a couple deeper shots. They pressured a few of them. But yeah, I mixed it up relatively well. I try to make sure we were trying to get the ball in guy's hands. They do—it is what it is. I mean, I called quite a bit of different things and some of them work, some didn't.

For Will Levis, do you still remain committed to him?

I do. Yeah, I thought, outside of that turnover, I thought he did a nice job with the game. I thought we needed more help around him. Guys need to make more plays for him when he puts the ball in certain spots. And I think we just didn't do a good enough job of that today.

Dennard Wilson said this week that L'Jarius Sneed is the best cornerback in the league. Do you feel like he looked like the best cornerback in the league today?

I don't need to comment on that. I think L'Jarius (Sneed) is really a good football player and I'm glad we have him. (Alec Pierce) has beat a lot of guys on go-balls so far this season. That one—there was one jump ball, and it was one down the sideline that got called for PI. But I'm glad we have him. He's a really good football player.

Nick Westbrook-Ikhine caught a touchdown with his only target for the game. Is there a way you would like to get him more involved in the offense to put those weapons that you mentioned around Will Levis?

Yeah. I mean, he's a consistent player. There's room for him to get some action. He plays quite a bit but there are some passes called that may not go to him and all that. But yeah, I mean he can help us for sure. So anyway, they can help us, I'm all for.

The lack of plays, do you put that on what the defenses are doing? What you're not doing as an offense? How much is it hurting you when you have to put together long drives?

Yeah, it's not really an overall sustainable way to play. I mean, it's not for lack of effort. There's plays that are called that take advantage of deep shots and sometimes you don't have them. But we got to find ways to be more explosive in the passing game in general because it's all the same thing. The explosive plays is what wins in this league, and we're not doing a good enough job of finding them, hitting them, calling them, however you want to say it. It doesn't really matter where the blame is placed. We just have to do a better job of it, and it's ultimately on me to do.

What's the sense of urgency like at 1-4? How much do you feel like you've got to get things fixed?

I don't think our sense of urgency has dipped at all. I mean, we—our team's competitive. They play hard, and we've got to find ways to make plays when it matters to win the game, which through the Chicago game, through this Indy game, through the Jets game, we didn't make the plays in any part of the game to give us a chance to actually win the football game. And so, our urgency has been high since we started. I don't think I've ever felt the dip in it, and we just had to keep going. I mean, we got a lot of games to play and then we got to keep rolling. The next one's coming right at us again. So, we got to go play some good football teams and we've got to find ways to get better.

We saw you talking to the sideline judge after the no-call on DeAndre Hopkins. What was the explanation there?

You guys know that I can't—I didn't agree with a lot of the things that got called in this game.

But what's the explanation they gave you?

They don't give a lot of explanation. They just said, 'He didn't see it the way I saw it,' and that's what it is. So, there's nothing I can do about those, and I can't really comment on them, even though I'd like to, but I can't.

Are guys getting enough separation in the past game for the quarterback to be able to make on-target throws?

I think so. I think at times—again, probably nothing that we're doing is probably at the level it needs to be. So yeah, I think there's times when it is. I mean, we try to help guys get open and try to manufacture separation and do all the things to help them keep find ways to do that. But yeah, I don't feel like we lack separation necessarily. I just don't think we've had enough plays made.

Who is responsible for the illegal formation on the kickoff and how is that penalty humanly possible?

I'll be honest with you, I didn't see where the penalty was. I didn't see a replay or anything like that. And then the picture didn't look like there was a penalty. So, again, I don't know. That's ultimately my responsibility. So, that was surprising.

What were they doing to get Josh Downs open effectively beside the fact that he's a very good player?

Yeah, he's a very good player. Dennard (Wilson) does a good job mixing the coverage schemes and they just found every which way they could to get him the ball because he's great with it. So, they found some bubbles and they found some underneath stuff. And that's sort of what he does. And he's really good after catch and with the ball in his hands. So, he just had a—felt like a high volume of targets with quick throws that over time add up a little bit.

SELECT TITANS POSTGAME QUOTES

QUARTERBACK WILL LEVIS

What were some of the reasons do you think the last several drives did not have much production for you guys?

I think just across the board, we just need all of us to play at a higher level. I think at all position groups, we can step up and say and admit of things we could have done better on that drive. I could have been a little more accurate in a couple of those throws to Hop (DeAndre Hopkins). He knows he can make those plays. The O line can get a little more push on that Duo call in third-and-short. And those guys who had opportunities, they know they can make those plays. So, it's just, I mean—I've got to look internally at what I can do better. But everyone has to do the same. And we know that we can be better than what we put out there.

The offensive line kept you pretty clean for most of the game. Was it easier for you to operate with that kind of time?

I felt good, yeah. I felt like I had the time to see things through. Another thing to critique myself, I'd say there were a couple of times where I got out, got a few yards, protect myself, get down. But if I were to just trust the protection and get to that backside of the progression, I had a couple of completions there. So, they did a great job giving me time. Did I get sacked?

No.

So, that's awesome. I was able to play on time, see things clearly. They did a good job mixing up the coverages and giving us different looks. But at the end of the day, we just got to make more plays, and we know that's a game we can win.

How frustrating is it that these games are there to be had and guys not being able to make plays when you need to?

I mean, that's the NFL. That's how it's going to be. It's just about giving your team a chance to win in the last 5 percent of the game. And we've had three of those games and we haven't won any of them. So, we've got to start figuring out how to score some points in the fourth quarter. And it starts with all of us. You can't point any fingers, and we've got to just look inside and what we can do better to put ourselves in a better position. But we can't have the performances we've had in the fourth quarter if we expect to be a playoff football team.

Why has it been so hard for you and Calvin Ridley to get on the same page consistently? There's a rough day all around for him today, zero for eight.

We just got to keep working. I trust him. We've gotten so far from where we started, and I have great feel for where he's going to be. He knows he can make a couple of those plays. I know I can put the ball in a little better spot and make it easier on him. But yeah, I got to do what I can do to get him better and he just got to stay positive and trust that this relationship's going to continue to develop because I know it will. And I know it's been aggravating and frustrating. And it's been one of those things where, like, 'When's it going to happen? When's it going to happen?' And that's just kind of the feel of the whole team right now. Like we thought this was a moment for us to kind of flip that switch and get it started. And obviously, you're going to have to keep fighting. But that's all we can do is just keep working and trusting, loving each other.

On the pick, did you feel like maybe you just wanted to put too much air under it on that?

I think I could have given myself some more depth away. Peter (Skoronski) came up, told me he got a little push, but I can't let that be the reason for a pick. But that was one of the throws today where I kind of felt the lack of arm strength or whatever, where I feel like on a healthier day, I'm putting a better ball on it, on more of a line. So, it's frustrating. We were able to get the ball back and still make an opportunity after that. We didn't make it work. But yes, that's a throw I'd like to have back for sure.

On the shorter throws, is that just where the offense is taking you, as opposed to intermediate throws?

I'm just throwing the ball to who I think it should be thrown to. There's no quick game emphasis. There's no 'Hey, we're just trying to get the ball out here.' We have plays dialed up and I'm just throwing it to who I feel like is the right one to throw it to. And there were a couple of times today where I did have a couple of those quicker throws that I just took and we went back and looked at it and if I would have progressed backside, we would have had something. But the first time you bypass that first throw and get back to that, then it's a sack and why don't you take the first one, you know? So, it's playing that game. There's times to know when we can really hunt up something in the second, third, fourth part of a progression. But I'm just trusting what I see, trying to make the throws when they're there.

On the touchdown pass, did you check out of a run or another pass to get there?

Yeah, we're just trying to dress it up a little bit. Obviously, Nick (Westbrook-Ikhine) out there does a lot of great stuff for us, and we like to use him in different ways, and he gets rewarded with stuff like that. So yeah, that was part of the play call. Just dressing it up a little bit, trying to show that bubble. That was pretty sweet, dial it up just how we thought it would be.

It looked like there may have been PI on the one pass to DeAndre Hopkins, what did you see there?

I thought he got pulled down a little bit. Yeah, but we can't point fingers at the refs. And I think everyone in the stadium had some frustrations about the officiating, but it's never something that we can blame, and we can only look at what we can do better ourselves. Would have loved to have the call, but can't do anything about it.

It seems like the team's highs are very high and the lows very low, what are the ways you as the quarterback can manage and rally the team more?

I think the biggest thing now is just keep coming to work, being the same person. We can't allow the mistakes of the past affect our work ethic and our mental. I had to look at myself the last couple of weeks. Coming off that Monday night game with the injury, I had a slight dip in my behavior, I'd say, or just had to pick myself back up. And just having that just kind of bring yourself back to reality, what it takes. We got at least 13 straight more weeks of this stuff. We can't let up at all if we want to have a chance to win these games. So, we have to have the right mindset. I'm going to come in tomorrow the same person as I would have if we won today and everyone else got to the same thing.

Did you get to the point where you felt good in the week? Felt 100 percent today or is there still work to do to build back up?

I'm still working. I'm not 100 percent physically, but just working to get there eventually. But I know, based on my performance today, that I'm able to go out and win games even though we didn't win today. But I know I can play quarterback in this state.

The play calling is trying to gear you into a game manager, situational manager type of role. How do you feel that transition is going, and do you feel like it's making it tough for you to play the position?

No, I think it's made me better at the position. I think I'm seeing things well. I think the more that I get reps in this offense, the more I'll know when I can see when those bigger plays are there, where I can start bypassing some of those first or second reads. And that just comes with reps and that comes with trusting the coverage that you see and the space that you see. And yeah, I just hope to get there in these next few weeks once we get into the meat of the season and hopefully, we can just get this thing rolling here pretty soon.

SAFETY AMANI HOOKER

Did your eyes just light up when you saw that ball? What did you see there?

I just saw him overthrow it, and I had to make sure I collected it, and caught it, and then try to get as much as I can.

What was the moment like with the defense where that was the first interception of the year for you guys?

SELECT TITANS POSTGAME QUOTES

I mean, it was good. I'm glad it happened. Wish we had had some more in this game. But I mean, it's good to get that in.

That final drive where they scored a touchdown pass, it looked like L'Jarius Sneed was in good position. Do you just chalk that one up to Michael Pittman making a play?

That's what happens in football. Sometimes they win, sometimes you win. I mean, you can be in good position, and be just an inch off, and they catch it. I mean, he was in position, he just made a play.

How frustrating was it to not be able to get to stop and get off the field?

It was very frustrating. I mean, we felt like we were getting stops, and you see a yellow flag come in. So definitely frustrating. We feel like we played good ball. We coach good techniques and the calls are just not falling our way.

You've been a leader in the locker room for a while, how important is it to kind of keep this team, focused early on still, in the season?

We don't have any other breaks coming up to reflect or whatever. So guys, have got to come back to work tomorrow, and fix whatever needs to be fixed, and just focus on the little things.

WIDE RECEIVER DeANDRE HOPKINS

What did you think of the offense's performance and the close nature of the game down the stretch?

We didn't make enough plays, had opportunities, had the ball, enough time. We just didn't make enough plays.

What can you do to move the needle when it seems like so many times you guys are that close?

Just execute. Got to make a play when your number's called and just details. We've got to be at our best.

What do you think goes into your connection with Will (Levis) and some of the plays you were able to make, especially in the second half? What works well about it?

Well, we didn't make enough plays. So, we got to work on that connection. But it's not just me and Will (Levis), it's everybody, it's offensive line, it's running backs, other receivers. We made plays at times; we just didn't execute like we should have.

How do you move toward trying to play complementary football on a consistent basis? I know it's something we've talked about before.

You just got to keep going. It's a long season, our first division game. So, it's not like we're out the division or everybody need to panic. So got a tough team next week, so we've got to go back to the drawing board.

LINEBACKER ERNEST JONES IV

How frustrating was that last long touchdown drive that they were able to get?

It's frustrating, I mean we got them there and let that one slip through our hands. We just have to be better. It's frustrating though.

L'Jarius Sneed looked like he had pretty good coverage on Michael Pittman, but that's kind of what Pittman does, isn't it?

Yeah, they get paid, too. They get paid good money too, so they have to make plays on their side, and he has to do the same thing. And we know, the majority of the time, (L'Jarius) Sneed is going to come through, and today they made a play, and that's all it is. We've got to move on and go out there and stop them like we did on the drives after.

1-4, is obviously not where you want to be. A couple of rough road games coming up. How do you guys kind of circle the wagons and just kind of stay with it mentally?

You've got to. Because I mean, 1-4 is bad, and 1-5, is even worse. So, you've got to figure this shit out. We've got to figure out what we can do to get wins. We're right there. We're just not capitalizing, and other teams are.

Does it feel different in here now than it did maybe even a day ago now that you have that first win?

Yeah, we knew we were going to come in. It was a mindset coming in here. We were going to get this dub and go into the bye week and feed off of it.

DEFENSIVE END SEBASTIAN JOSEPH-DAY

On your one PI call, you had your hand up to block the ball, did you not?

Yeah, I pulled down. That's on me. I've got to be better on that. I think if we eliminate that, as a defense, it'll be a different story. So, we've got to be better on defense, and it starts with myself. I take accountability for that play.

You did have several long drives against you. You guys just need to get off the field sooner?

I think that the penalties, that's what extended. I mean, my penalty extended us. We got a stop, field goal, we had a PI on one, we had an interception that was a PI. So, it's like, we're shooting ourselves in the foot. We've just got to look at ourselves as a defense and be better. Be more disciplined. If we're more discipline, that's a whole different game, I really, truly believe. You know, those penalties don't happen, and it's a different game. We've just got to be better on defense, starting with myself. Got to look myself in the mirror.

You guys are 1-4, right now, going to Buffalo, and to going to Detroit. How precarious is the situation for you right now?

Such a great word. Precarious. I like that word. Honestly, I think we're still hungry. We're still ready to go. We have all the pieces here. We have so many great pieces here, and so many great players here. And I don't think, even though the record doesn't look good, I don't think we're satisfied. We're going to continue to get better and continue to hone in on little things. And right now, it's truly just little things. Like Jeff Simmons said early in the locker room, it's just the little things, the details, the penalties. Those five penalties, again I'm going to reiterate, those five penalties don't happen, those three penalties—I don't know the number—it's a whole different ball game. So, again, I'm going to look myself in the mirror. I got to be better, and we just have to be better as a defense to not get those penalties and get off the field. We get off the field and it'd probably be a different game.

OFFENSIVE LINEMAN LEROY WATSON IV

I am sure this is not the Titans this debut you wanted. What is this week been like, getting signed by the team and then starting today day against the Colts?

The activation was always a blessing. Have been working nonstop with all of the guys. Not a good day right now, definitely don't like to lose.

How tough is it to come out here and play your butts off, what you did for four quarters and come up short today?

It just hurts because we know how good of a team we are as a whole. We know how much how hard we work and how much we know we can really shock this league because we can do a lot of things. So, it hurts a lot to not get it done. We've been in a lot of close games, and it hurts not to get it done.

Those last couple drives, did any do Indy do anything defensively that you guys weren't expecting?

No, they did a phenomenal job. Their front is exactly where we thought it was. They're a great group, a lot of energy and a lot of pressure, but we just didn't execute on offense, didn't make the plays.

2024 TITANS SCHEDULE NOTES

SEASON NOTES

- PLAYOFF OPPONENTS: The Titans have six total games against five playoff teams from last season. They have home games against Green Bay and Houston and road contests at Miami, Buffalo, Detroit and Houston. Four of those six games are against 2023 division winners: Houston twice (AFC South), Buffalo (AFC East) and Detroit (NFC North). The six games against reigning playoff clubs are the fewest for the Titans since they had five such games entering the 2020 campaign.
- TV BREAKDOWN: Excluding their Week 18 matchup with the Texans, which has yet to be assigned a broadcasting network, the Titans are currently scheduled for nine contests on CBS, six games on FOX, and one game on ESPN. Due to the NFL's flex scheduling, some contests could be moved to a different network from the one appearing on the initial schedule.
- TIME (ZONE) TRAVEL: Besides a trip to Los Angeles to face the Chargers in Week 10, the Titans stay in either the central time zone (10 games) or eastern time zone (six) for the duration of 2024, including the preseason. Other than Los Angeles, the farthest west they travel is Houston.
- HIGH NOON: During the regular season, 14 of the Titans' 16 games prior to Week 18 are scheduled for Sundays at noon CT.
- FIRST-YEAR COACHES: Brian Callahan is one of eight NFL head coaches in their first season with their current team. He and the Titans face three of the others, all within a five-week span: Jerod Mayo's New England Patriots, Jim Harbaugh's Los Angeles Chargers, and Dan Quinn's Washington Commanders. Additionally, the Titans go against the Seattle Seahawks and new head coach Mike Macdonald in the second week of the preseason.
- QUARTERBACKS 1-2-3: The 2024 NFL Draft featured quarterbacks in the top three selections, beginning with Caleb Williams going first to Chicago, followed by Jayden Daniels to Washington and Drake Maye to New England. The Titans face each of those teams this season, in addition to the Minnesota Vikings, who drafted J.J. McCarthy with the 11th overall selection.
- DIVISIONAL WAITING GAMES: The Titans must wait until Week 6 against Indianapolis to play their first AFC South matchup of 2024. It is their longest wait for a divisional game since 2010 (Week 6 at Jacksonville). However, the Titans conclude 2024 with divisional games in five of the final seven weeks, including three consecutive division battles to conclude the schedule.
- THREE GAMES BASED UPON 2023 FINISH: Every NFL team has two intraconference games and one interconference matchup based on the previous year's standings. As a result of the Titans' fourth-place finish in 2023, they host the AFC North's fourth-place Bengals, and they visit the fourth-place Chargers from the AFC West and the Washington Commanders from the NFC East. Overall, the Titans' strength of schedule is .491 (142-147) based upon their opponents' combined 2023 record, which is tied for the 21st most difficult schedule out of 32 NFL teams.
- FACING TOP OFFENSES AND DEFENSES: The Titans face four of the NFL's top 10 offenses from last season: Miami (No. 1 overall offense), Buffalo (No. 4), Detroit (No. 3) and Minnesota (No. 10). They also contend with four of the top 10 defenses from 2023: the New York Jets (No. 3 overall defense), Miami (No. 10), Buffalo (No. 9) and New England (No. 7).

Ran Carthon was named the 14th general manager in franchise history on Jan. 18, 2023. He joined the Titans after spending six seasons with the San Francisco 49ers, including the last two as the team's director of player personnel.

A year after initially joining the franchise, Carthon was promoted to executive vice president/general manager. His duties expanded to include all areas that impact the football team: roster control, team activities and personnel decisions including draft and free agency acquisitions, oversight of head coach Brian Callahan and his coaching staff, scouting, sports medicine, and player engagement.

"Over the past year, Ran has impressed me and our staff with his innovative approach to roster building," said Titans controlling owner Amy Adams Strunk upon Carthon's promotion in 2024. "Ran's exceptional reputation around the league as a talent evaluator and culture builder was a clear competitive advantage during last year's free agency and draft process, as well as our recent search for a head coach. Simply put, Ran Carthon makes the Tennessee Titans a destination for the league's top talent. By expanding his role to include full roster control and oversight of the coaching staff, our organization will now benefit more completely from Ran's unique ability to build and lead a championship-caliber football team."

Shortly after receiving his promotion, Carthon and his staff embarked upon the 2024 offseason. Their efforts resulted in several notable signings in free agency: cornerback Chidobe Awuzie, linebacker Kenneth Murray Jr., defensive lineman Sebastian Joseph-Day, center Lloyd Cushenberry III, running back Tony Pollard, quarterback Mason Rudolph and wide receiver Calvin Ridley. The Titans then used a trade to acquire former Kansas City Chiefs cornerback L'Jarius Sneed before circling back in free agency to add wide receiver Tyler Boyd and safety Jamal Adams. Prior to the start of the 2024 season, another trade brought linebacker Ernest Jones IV to the Titans from the Los Angeles Rams.

During the 2024 NFL Draft, Carthon orchestrated the selection of seven total players. With the seventh overall pick in the first round, the Titans chose Alabama tackle JC Latham, and at No. 38 in the second round, they took Texas nose tackle T'Vondre Sweat.

In his first year with the Titans, Carthon re-worked the roster with several veteran additions who would become key starters for the team in 2023, including wide receiver DeAndre Hopkins, outside linebacker Arden Key, linebacker Azeez Al-Shaair, cornerback Sean Murphy-Bunting and offensive lineman Daniel Brunskill in free agency. In his first draft, offensive lineman Peter Skoronski, quarterback Will Levis and running back Tyjae Spears were selected in the first three rounds, respectively. Carthon also used a trade to acquire kicker Nick Folk.

Carthon arrived in Tennessee with a range of experience from multiple teams. In San Francisco, he was the 49ers director of pro personnel for four seasons (2017–20) and then promoted to director of player personnel in 2021, serving in that capacity until joining the Titans. In his role as director of player personnel, Carthon was responsible for evaluating the top college prospects and assisting in the construction of the pro free agent board and evaluations. He joined the 49ers when head coach Kyle Shanahan and general manager John Lynch took over in 2017 and played a part in the team's three playoff appearances, two division titles and an NFC championship in 2019. Additionally, the 49ers had nine players account for 13 total Pro Bowl selections from 2021 (seven selections) to 2022 (six selections)—evidence of the talented roster the personnel staff amassed.

Before joining San Francisco, Carthon spent five seasons (2012–16) with the St. Louis/Los Angeles Rams as their director of pro personnel. He entered the NFL scouting world as a pro scout with the Atlanta Falcons for four years (2008–11).

As a player, Carthon spent three seasons in the NFL (2004–06) primarily with the Indianapolis Colts, after entering the league as an undrafted college free agent. At the University of Florida, he tallied 1,353 career rushing yards over four seasons and was part of the Gators' 2000 SEC Championship team.

Carthon was raised in an NFL family with his father, Maurice Carthon, having a distinguished playing and coaching career. Maurice Carthon played for the Colts and New York Giants, and he coached for New England, the New York Jets, Detroit, Dallas, Cleveland, Arizona and Kansas City.

Following his playing career, Ran Carthon received his bachelor's degree in sociology from the University of Florida in 2008. As a member of the Rams (2013) and 49ers (2018) he was selected to participate in the NFL Career Development Symposium at the Wharton School of Business, and in 2022, he took part in the inaugural NFL coach and front office accelerator program.

Born Arandic Kornell Carthon in February of 1981, in Osceola, Ark., he attended Key West High School in Key West, Fla.

Brian Callahan was named head coach of the Titans on Jan. 24, 2024, becoming the 20th head coach in franchise history.

"This is an exciting time for our franchise, and we're thrilled to have Brian as our head coach," said Titans controlling owner Amy Adams Strunk. "We went through a thorough candidate search and Brian stood out as the best person to lead our football team. I want to thank the other candidates who were part of this process and wish them well moving forward.

"Brian has a track record of success and a range of experience that has prepared him for this opportunity. His football knowledge and his enthusiasm for the game really stand out, and beyond that, we think his ability to lead will make him the ideal fit for our franchise.

"If you look at his history, Brian has been a part of a Super Bowl winning team (Denver, 2015) and another team that advanced to the Super Bowl (Cincinnati, 2021). He's worked in a variety of dynamic offenses with top-flight quarterbacks. At each step of his career, he's shown the flexibility and intelligence to make an impact.

"During his time with the Bengals, he was trusted with a number of responsibilities—offensive design, quarterback development, a contributor to the free agency and draft processes—and showed the ability to be a resource in all of those areas. As we seek sustained success and pursue a championship, Brian has seen firsthand what that looks like, and he is the right person to lead us there.

"To our fans, thank you for your support and for sticking with us. You deserve a championship team, and we're going to get there. I can't wait for you to get to know Brian and his family."

Callahan arrived in Tennessee with 18 years of coaching experience and 14 years of NFL coaching experience, including the previous five seasons as the offensive coordinator for the Cincinnati Bengals.

During his time in Cincinnati, Callahan served under head coach Zac Taylor and was part of two AFC North titles, two AFC Championship appearances and a Super Bowl berth. He also helped guide quarterback Joe Burrow from the No. 1 overall draft pick in 2020 to multiple single-season franchise records by his second year and Pro Bowl honors within three years.

Over Callahan's final three seasons in Cincinnati (2021-23), the Bengals offense ranked in the NFL's top 10 in several categories: sixth in scoring (24.9), seventh in passing (250.8 yards per game), seventh in red-zone efficiency (61.5 percent), 10th in third-down percentage (41.0) and sixth in time of possession (31:00).

From the time Burrow entered the NFL in 2020 through the 2023 campaign, he recorded the league's seventh-best passer rating (98.6) and tied for the third-best completion percentage (68.0). His 270.8 passing yards per game in that period ranked fifth.

Additionally, Cincinnati's offense under Callahan featured a trio of 1,000-yard wide receivers in Ja'Marr Chase (2021-23), Tee Higgins (2021-22) and Tyler Boyd (2019). Chase quickly emerged as one of the NFL's top wide receivers after being drafted in the first round in 2021. He earned three consecutive Pro Bowl nods and became the eighth player in NFL history to reach 1,000 receiving yards in each of his first three career seasons, including 1,216 yards on a career-high 100 receptions in 2023. Boyd's statistical highlights included 1,046 receiving yards in 2019, while Higgins contributed 1,091 yards in 2021 and 1,029 yards in 2022.

Bengals running back Joe Mixon exceeded 1,000 scrimmage yards four times in five seasons with Callahan as his offensive coordinator. From 2019 through 2023, he joined Christian McCaffrey and Aaron Jones as the NFL's only players with at least 4,500 rushing yards (4,618) and 1,500 receiving yards (1,556). Mixon was named to the Pro Bowl in 2021.

In 2023, Burrow was limited to 10 total games due to multiple injuries. Backup Jake Browning stepped into the lineup, and in the first action of his career, he registered a season passer rating of 98.4—qualifying as the seventh-best number in the NFL.

In 2022, the Bengals ranked seventh in the NFL in points per game (26.1), eighth in total offense (360.5 yards per game) and fifth in passing offense (265.0). Burrow earned his first career Pro Bowl selection while setting single-season franchise records for completions (414) and touchdown passes (35). The third-year signal caller also placed fifth in the NFL with 4,475 passing yards. The team's new-look offensive line came together during the season and did not allow more than two sacks in any of the final eight games of the regular season.

En route to an appearance in Super Bowl LVI, the 2021 Bengals ranked seventh in passing offense (259.0 yards per game) and tied for seventh in points per game (27.1). Burrow, after returning from a knee injury suffered in 2020, led the NFL in completion percentage (70.4) and established single-season Bengals records for passing yards (4,611) and passer rating (108.3). Chase was named the AP Offensive Rookie of the Year after posting a team-record 1,455 receiving yards, while Mixon placed

NISSAN STADIUM

In 2015, the Titans and Nissan North America announced the formation of an exclusive naming-rights partnership that rebranded Nashville's downtown stadium as Nissan Stadium.

NISSAN STADIUM

Eight years later, on Nov. 17, 2023, the Titans and Nissan North America announced a new agreement: a 20-year, exclusive naming-rights partnership that brands the new Titans home venue as 'Nissan Stadium.'

Slated for completion in 2027, the new Nissan Stadium will host Titans home games, Tennessee State University football games, concerts, large-scale events and other community events.

"This partnership is a natural extension of our already longstanding friendship with Nissan," said Burke Nihill, Titans President and CEO. "Our mission at the Titans is to Win, Serve, and Entertain. We pride ourselves on collaborating with organizations who love this city and state as much as we do, and for the past 40 years, Nissan has invested more than $10.5 billion statewide, serving as a great example of an outstanding corporate steward and community advocate. We look forward to the continued positive impact of this relationship for the Titans organization and the City of Nashville."

"Since 2015 our fans and organization have called our home 'Nissan Stadium,' and we are proud to continue that tradition in the new stadium as we deepen and expand our relationship with them," said Titans Chief Revenue Officer Adam Nuse. "The new stadium will host the world's largest events, as well as serve as a community hub for our local neighbors. We're excited to have a partner like Nissan embark on this journey with us as we look towards the future."

The partnership will feature dedicated areas in the new stadium for brand experiences and displays, innovative technology integration, and involvement in Titans broadcast platforms. Nissan also will support a to-be-determined program in the Titans' ONE Community philanthropic platform, which reaches Nashville's most underrepresented and marginalized communities with a focus on three areas – Opportunity, Neighborhoods and Education.

"Nissan Stadium is a centerpiece of the Nashville skyline and has become a household name in Middle Tennessee. It is important for Nissan to keep our name on the new stadium," said Jérémie Papin, chairperson, Nissan Americas. "As more people come to Nashville both to visit and to live in this wonderful city, Nissan Stadium is true showcase for our brand and for the career opportunities we've offered here for more than four decades. This partnership sends a strong message about the bright future for Nissan, the Titans, Nashville and the State of Tennessee."

Nissan's ever-growing footprint in Tennessee includes vehicle and powertrain manufacturing facilities in Smyrna and Decherd respectively, along with its North American headquarters in Franklin. Nissan is home to more than 11,000 employees across all three locations.

"Nissan has been a strong partner to middle Tennessee for four decades, and I'm thrilled that the Titans have united with a partner that invests in our community and its people," said Nashville Mayor Freddie O'Connell. "The familiarity and trust they've established with the Titans in the last eight years will undoubtedly be a great asset as we plan for the stadium's opening in 2027."

The new Nissan stadium will be built on the east side of the current stadium campus, along Nashville's East Bank. Features of the building include: a circular translucent roof; exterior porches with panoramic views of Nashville; improved sightlines for all spectators through a range of diverse seating experiences; and a 12,000 square foot community space available for use year-round. A waitlist for those interested in purchasing PSLs or suites is now open at NewNissanStadium.com.

Quarterback Will Levis was selected by the Titans in the second round (33rd overall) of the 2023 NFL Draft. He was the fourth quarterback chosen in the draft after the Titans traded up in the second round to select him.

In his debut season, Levis recorded starts in all nine games in which he appeared, becoming the third rookie quarterback in franchise history to start at least nine games. Only Vince Young (13 starts in 2006) and Marcus Mariota (12 starts in 2015) preceded him in the accomplishment. Levis' rookie passing totals included 255 attempts, 149 completions, 1,808 yards, eight touchdowns and four interceptions. His 84.2 passer rating was the second best in franchise history by a rookie quarterback (91.5 by Mariota in 2015), and the number also ranked first in NFL history among second-round quarterbacks in their rookie season (minimum 200 attempts). Levis had an additional 57 yards and a touchdown rushing.

Prior to entering the NFL, Levis spent two seasons at the University of Kentucky after transferring from Penn State. In four combined college seasons, he appeared in 39 games with 26 starts. At Kentucky, Levis went 17-7 as a starter, tying Terry Wilson for the second-most quarterback wins since 1993. The two-time team captain completed 418 of 636 passes for 5,233 yards with 43 passing touchdowns and 11 rushing scores for the Wildcats. His six 300-yard passing games were the fourth-most in school history.

As a senior in 2022, he started 11 games at quarterback and connected on 185 of 283 passes for 2,406 yards with 19 passing scores, while ranking fourth in the SEC in pass efficiency (151.9). He finished fifth in the SEC with 19 passing scores.

As a junior in 2021, he transferred from Penn State to Kentucky and started in all 13 games, helping to lead UK to 10 wins for the fourth time in school history. He totaled 3,203 yards total offense, becoming the seventh player in school history to reach 3,000 yards of total offense in a season. He was 233-of-353 passing for 2,826 yards and 24 touchdowns, and he also registered 107 rushes for 376 yards and a team-high tying nine rushing touchdowns.

#10 • WR DeANDRE HOPKINS

6-1, 212, 12th Year/2nd with Titans, Clemson

Click for complete bio

Wide receiver DeAndre Hopkins is in his 12th NFL season and his second campaign with the Titans in 2024. He was signed by the team prior to training camp in 2023.

Hopkins entered the league as the 27th overall pick in the 2013 NFL Draft out of Clemson and spent his first seven seasons with the Houston Texans before being traded to the Arizona Cardinals in 2020.

Over NFL 11 seasons, Hopkins established himself as one of the premier receivers in NFL history. Among all players during that 11-year period, he ranked first in receptions (928), first in first-down receptions (642), first in receiving yards (12,355), third in receiving touchdowns (78), and first in receptions of 25-plus yards (113). He has been named to five Pro Bowls (2015, 2017-20) and received AP All-Pro honors four times—first-team All-Pro from 2017 to 2019 and second-team All-Pro in 2020.

From 2013 through 2023, Hopkins surpassed 100 receptions four times, had seven seasons reaching 1,000 receiving yards, recorded three seasons with at least 10 touchdowns, and posted 100 or more receiving yards in a game 42 times. Hopkins was the only NFL player to have 100-plus receptions every season between 2018 to 2020.

Hopkins became one of 17 players in NFL history to reach 900 receptions, 12,000 receiving yards and 75 touchdown catches during a career. Only five players—Hopkins, Marvin Harrison, Jerry Rice, Brandon Marshall and Larry Fitzgerald—reached all three milestones within their first 11 NFL seasons.

He concluded the 2023 season tied with Antonio Brown for 21st place in NFL history with 928 career receptions. His 12,355 career receiving yards ranked 23rd all-time, and his 78 touchdown receptions were 35th in history.

Through 2023, he had at least one reception in all 162 career games he played during the regular season. That represents the longest active streak in the NFL at the conclusion of 2023 and the third-longest streak in NFL history to begin a career behind only Marvin Harrison (190 consecutive games) and Keyshawn Johnson (167).

During the 2022 campaign with the Cardinals, Hopkins finished with a team-high 64 receptions for 717 yards (second on the team) and three touchdowns despite being limited to nine contests. His average of 7.1 receptions per game ranked fourth in the NFL among all players. His three games with 10-plus receptions matched the second most in franchise annals behind Larry Fitzgerald's four such performances in 2017.

At the conclusion of his tenure with the Texans (2013-19), Hopkins owned several franchise records, including franchise marks for career receiving average (13.6), receptions in a season (115 in 2018; tied Andre Johnson, 2008), receiving touchdowns in a season (13 in 2017) and receiving first downs in a season (83 in 2015). When he left Houston, he ranked second on the franchise's all-time career charts in receptions (632), receiving yards (8,602) and touchdown catches (54), trailing only Andre Johnson in each category.

The Central, S.C., native appeared in 39 games with 32 starts over three seasons (2010-12) at Clemson and totaled 206 receptions for 3,020 yards and 27 touchdowns. He left Clemson ranked first in school history in receiving yards, first in receiving touchdowns, first in 100-yard receiving games (12) and second in receptions. As a junior (2012), he led the team with 82 receptions for 1,405 yards and 18 touchdowns.

2024 Game Notes:

- At Chicago (9/8), tallied an eight-yard reception.
- Against the N.Y. Jets (9/15), tallied a nine-yard reception.
- Against Green Bay (9/22), led the team with six receptions and 73 receiving yards, including a touchdown. He scored his first touchdown of the season on an 11-yard pass from Will Levis in the third quarter and also hauled in a 20-yard pass in the third quarter. It was his 80th career game in which he totaled at least six receptions.
- At Miami (9/30), tied for the team lead with two receptions and 31 receiving yards, including a 16-yard grab and a 15-yarder.
- Against Indianapolis (10/13), led the team with four receptions and 54 receiving yards, including a 23-yard catch in the second quarter. He logged his 111th career game with at least four receptions and 50 receiving yards. He also extended his active streak to 167 consecutive games with a reception—every game he has played since he entered the NFL. He tied Keyshawn Johnson (167) for the second-longest such streak to begin a career in NFL history behind only Marvin Harrison (190 consecutive games).

Outside linebacker Harold Landry III is in his seventh NFL season in 2024. He was selected by the Titans in the second round (41st overall) of the 2018 NFL Draft after the Titans traded up 16 spots in the second round (57 to 41) in order to take the former Boston College standout.

During his first six NFL seasons, Landry totaled a team-leading 41.5 sacks. He finished the 2023 season ranked 11th for the franchise in career sacks, and in the organization's "Titans era" (1999–present), his total trailed only Jevon Kearse (52), Jurrell Casey (51) and Derrick Morgan (44.5).

In 2023, Landry played in all 17 games (10 starts) after missing the entire 2022 campaign due to injury. He ranked second on the team with 10.5 sacks, producing his second-best career total (12 sacks in 2021). In doing so, he became the NFL's third veteran player since 1982 to miss an entire NFL season and come back the next year to record at least 10 sacks. The only previous players to do so were a pair of New Orleans Saints: Joe Johnson in 2000 (12 sacks) and Charlie Clemons in 2001 (13.5 sacks). Landry's 14 tackles for loss led the defense and matched his career high, and his 48 quarterback pressures were third on the squad and were one off his career high in 2021 (49). His statistics also included 70 tackles.

Landry was placed on injured reserve on Sept. 2, 2022, ending his fifth NFL season before Week 1. Prior to the injury, he recorded 64 consecutive games played and 52 consecutive starts.

From the start of his rookie campaign through 2021, Landry's 31 total sacks led the Titans. Other than Jevon Kearse (37), Landry produced the highest sack total by a Titans/Oilers player in his first four NFL seasons since individual sacks became an official NFL statistic in 1982.

From 2018 to 2021, Landry joined Pittsburgh's Cameron Heyward as the NFL's only players to be credited with at least 250 tackles (press box statistics), 30 sacks and two interceptions.

In 2021, Landry was named to his first Pro Bowl after starting all 17 games. He registered his third consecutive season to start every contest, extending his streaks to 64 consecutive games played and 52 consecutive starts. At the conclusion of 2021, his starting streak was the sixth-longest active streak in the NFL among all defensive players.

Landry's 12 sacks in 2021 led the Titans, ranked 10th in the NFL and established a career high. He became the first Titans player to record double-digit sacks in a season since Brian Orakpo (10.5) in 2016 and the first Titans player with 12 sacks in a season since Jason Babin (12.5) in 2010. Landry tied for second on the squad with 75 tackles, ranked second with a career-high 49 quarterback pressures, led the team with 14 tackles for loss, and added a forced fumble. Then, in the team's 2021 divisional playoff contest, he recorded 1.5 sacks. He improved his postseason career total to 4.5 sacks, becoming the organization's first player with at least four career postseason sacks since individual sacks became an official statistic in 1982.

In 2020, Landry recorded 16 starts for the second consecutive season. He led the team with 5.5 sacks, a then-career-high 32 quarterback pressures and a then-career-high 10 tackles for loss. He totaled 69 tackles and added one interception and a career-high five passes defended. In one playoff contest, he led the team with 10 tackles and two sacks.

Landry started all 16 games in 2019 and led the Titans with nine sacks. He also started all three postseason games and registered a sack and a team-high eight quarterback pressures.

As a rookie in 2018, he played in 15 games with three starts. His 4.5 sacks tied for third place on the team, and he also tied for second on the defense with 18 quarterback pressures.

In 46 career games playing defensive end for Boston College, Landry totaled 160 tackles, 26 sacks, 47.5 tackles for loss, seven passes defended, 10 forced fumbles, one fumble recovery and one interception. His 26 career sacks were exceeded in school history by only Mathias Kiwanuka (37.5 from 2002-05).

As a senior in 2017, Landry played and started eight games before a season-ending ankle injury ended his year. He finished second on the team with five sacks and totaled 38 tackles, 8.5 tackles for loss and two passes defended.

In 2016, Landry set the school's single-season record with 16.5 sacks, which led the nation. In 2023, Landry bounced back from the injury to participate in every game and record 10.5 sacks. In doing so, he became the NFL's third veteran player since 1982 to miss an entire NFL season and come back the next year to record at least 10 sacks. The only previous players to do so were a pair of New Orleans Saints: Joe Johnson in 2000 (12 sacks) and Charlie Clemons in 2001 (13.5 sacks).

Long snapper Morgan Cox is in his 15th NFL season and his fourth campaign with the Titans in 2024. He was signed by the Titans as an unrestricted free agent on March 19, 2021.

In 2023, Cox handled all of the team's long snapping duties for the third consecutive season. With 51 consecutive games played in his first three seasons with the Titans, he finished the 2023 campaign with the longest active streak of games played for the team. His efforts helped kicker Nick Folk lead the NFL in field goal accuracy (96.7 percent) and helped punter Ryan Stonehouse lead the NFL for a second consecutive season in gross punting average (53.1). He was also a finalist in 2023 for the NFL's Bart Starr Award.

In 2022, Cox was named to his fifth career Pro Bowl. He has more Pro Bowl appearances than any other player at his position since the league began naming long snappers to the Pro Bowl in 2004.

His steady play in 2022 helped Stonehouse, a rookie, lead the league and set a new NFL record with a 53.1-yard gross punting average. Stonehouse also finished fourth in the NFL and set a rookie record with a 44.0-yard net average. Meanwhile, kicker Randy Bullock made 17 of 20 field goals (85.0 percent) and made all 28 extra point attempts.

In 2021, Cox handled all of the team's long snapping duties in 17 regular season games and one postseason game. He helped Bullock finish ninth in franchise history with 120 points in a single season, including three game-winning field goals (Sept. 19 at Seattle, Oct. 31 at Indianapolis and Dec. 23 against San Francisco). He also snapped for punter Brett Kern, who had the league's third-best ratio of punts inside the 20 to touchbacks (18:1).

In his first 11 seasons, Cox appeared in 165 regular season games for the Baltimore Ravens, serving as the team's primary long snapper after entering the NFL as an undrafted free agent in 2010. He was selected to four Pro Bowls and was a part of five playoff teams in Baltimore, totaling 10 postseason games played.

In 2020, he earned his fourth career Pro Bowl selection. He helped kicker Justin Tucker record his fifth consecutive season with at least 130 points, tying the NFL record of consecutive seasons with 130-plus points. Tucker connected on 26 of 29 field goals (89.7 percent) and was 52 of 53 on extra points (98.1 percent). Cox also snapped on all 51 of Sam Koch's 51 punts, as Koch was the NFL's only punter to place at least 20 punts (22) inside in the 20-yard line and have no more than one touchback.

A native of Collierville, Tenn., Cox played 38 games in three seasons (2007-09) as the primary long snapper at the University of Tennessee.

Kicker Nick Folk is in his 17th NFL season and his second campaign with the Titans in 2024. He was acquired by the Titans in a trade with the New England Patriots on Aug. 29, 2023.

At the conclusion of the 2023 season, Folk's 382 career field goals ranked fourth among all active kickers behind only Matt Prater (401), Mason Crosby (400) and Justin Tucker (395), and Folk's number also ranked 19th in NFL history. His 1,632 total points scored ranked 23rd in league annals. Among all active NFL players at the conclusion of 2023, Folk's 228 career games ranked 10th.

Through 2023, Folk carried an all-time NFL-record streak of 78 consecutive field goals from under 40 yards—a streak going back to 2017. Tucker previously owned the record with 70 straight under-40-yarders from 2016 to 2020.

In his first season in Tennessee, Folk appeared in all 17 games and made 29 field goals on 30 attempts. His career-best 96.7 percent accuracy on field goals led the NFL and tied for the 14th-best single-season mark in NFL history. It also established a new franchise record for a single season, breaking the record of 92.3 percent by Al Del Greco (1998) and Rob Bironas (2010). Folk's initial season with the Titans also included 28 extra points on 30 attempts. His 115 total points tied for the 13th-best single-season total in franchise history.

In his first 15 NFL seasons prior to joining the Titans, Folk spent time with the Dallas Cowboys (2007-09), New York Jets (2010-2016), Tampa Bay Buccaneers (2017) and Patriots (2019-22). During that time, he connected on 82.9 percent (353 of 426) of his field goal attempts and 96.8 percent of his extra point attempts (458 of 473). He had 10 seasons with at least 100 points, including a league-leading 150 points in 2021 with the Patriots. He registered 11 game-winning field goals in the regular season and one in postseason play.

Over his four years with New England, Folk made 108 of his 121 field goal attempts (89.3 percent) in 57 games. He departed the Patriots in fifth place on the New England all-time field goal list and tied for seventh place on the franchise's all-time scoring list with 440 total points.

In 2022, he played in all 17 games for New England and totaled 128 points on 32-of-37 field goal attempts. He was also 32-of-35 on extra points. Folk became one of six all-time NFL players to have at least five seasons with 30 field goals, joining Tucker (eight), Stephen Gostkowski (five), Robbie Gould (five), John Carney (five) and David Akers (five).

Folk established the NFL record for consecutive field goals made under 50 yards with a streak of 64 such kicks from Oct. 5, 2017 to Oct. 16, 2022. He broke the record (56 consecutive) set by Ryan Succop of the Titans from 2014 to 2017.

While with the Patriots, he also set the franchise mark for consecutive field goals made (36) during a streak that spanned from 2020 to 2021 and posted the third-highest field goal percentage for a season by a Patriot in 2020 (92.9).

Folk entered the NFL as a sixth-round selection by the Dallas in the 2007 NFL Draft. As a rookie for the Cowboys, he earned a Pro Bowl selection and all-rookie honors.

A native of Sherman Oaks, Calif., Folk attended the University of Arizona, where he earned All-PAC 10 accolades in his final season.

Punter Ryan Stonehouse is in his third NFL season in 2024. He was signed by the Titans as a rookie free agent on May 13, 2022.

In only two NFL seasons, Stonehouse recorded the top two single-season gross punting averages in NFL history, and he also recorded two of the top three single-season net averages in franchise history. He became the first punter in NFL annals to lead the league in gross punting average in each of his first two seasons.

In 2023, he appeared in the first 12 games of the season before missing the final five contests on injured reserve. Despite his missed time, he averaged a league-high 53.06 yards per punt, grossing 2,812 yards on 53 attempts. The average qualified as the second-highest figure in NFL history behind his own record-setting 53.10 yards per punt as a rookie in 2022. He also finished sixth in the NFL with a 43.87-yard net punting average, which ranked third in franchise history.

In 2022, Stonehouse finished the season with a gross average of 53.10 yards per punt on 90 total punts (4,779 total yards). In doing so, he broke Sammy Baugh's single-season NFL record of 51.40 yards per punt, which was established in 1940 and was never matched among qualifiers (2.5 punts per team game) until Stonehouse's rookie campaign. Stonehouse's mark also surpassed Brett Kern's franchise record of 49.7 yards per punt in 2017.

With a net punting average of 44.0 yards per punt in 2022, Stonehouse also established a new NFL record for the highest net average by a rookie punter. He broke the record set by Indianapolis' Rigoberto Sanchez, who averaged 42.64 net yards per punt as a rookie in 2017. Stonehouse finished fourth in the NFL in net punting behind veterans Tommy Townsend (45.6),

Michael Dickson (44.5) and Johnny Hekker (44.1). In franchise history, his net average ranked second for a single season, trailing only Kern's 44.6 net average in 2017.

Stonehouse's 90 punts in 2022 made up the NFL's second-highest total. Only Denver's Corliss Waitman (96) had more. The 90 punts by Stonehouse tied Craig Hentrich's 1999 number for the fourth-highest total in team annals behind Rich Camarillo (96 punts in 1994) and Cliff Parsley (93 in 1979; 91 in 1978).

Stonehouse appeared in 53 games over five seasons at Colorado State (2017-21) and set an NCAA career record with a 47.8-yard gross punting average. His career totals included 244 punts for 11,656 yards with 91 punts inside the 20. He totaled 106 punts of 50-plus yards and became the first player in Colorado State history to log 11,000 punting yards in a career.

During his final college season in 2021, Stonehouse appeared in 12 games and averaged 50.9 yards per attempt on 58 punts, including a career-long 81-yard punt. He placed 27 punts inside the 20-yard line and totaled 32 punts of 50-plus yards en route to being named a second-team All-Mountain West selection and a Ray Guy Award semifinalist.

He is a native of La Verne, Calif.

NFL RECORD: SINGLE-SEASON AVERAGE

In 1940, Washington's Sammy Baugh punted 35 times for 1,799 yards, averaging 51.40 yards per punt. Eighty-two seasons later, the mark still stood as the best qualifying single-season punting average in NFL history, until Titans rookie punter Ryan Stonehouse broke the record in 2022.

Stonehouse, an undrafted rookie from Colorado State University, averaged 53.10 yards per attempt on 90 total punts—1.70 yards per punt ahead of Baugh's number.

Then, in his second season, Stonehouse averaged an NFL-high 53.06 yards per punt. His 53 attempts (2,812 yards) qualified him for the single-season charts, and as a result, he owns the top two numbers of all-time in his first two NFL seasons.

Prior to Stonehouse's rookie campaign, Baugh's mark was one of the NFL's longest-held records. In the 2022 NFL Record & Fact Book, only three single-season individual records predated Baugh's punting mark, and all three of those were later tied: most safeties in a season (two by Green Bay's Tom Nash in 1932 and subsequently tied 18 times), most fumbles returned for a touchdown in a season (two by Boston's Harold McPhail in 1934 and tied 44 times), and most opponent fumbles returned for a touchdown in a season (two by McPhail in 1934 and tied 41 times).

To qualify for the single-season average record, a punter needs a minimum of 2.5 attempts per team game.

Interviews with Titans players are not permitted on the field following the game. The press conference will begin approximately 10 minutes following the conclusion of the game and will be held in the interview room across from the Titans locker room. ## HEAD COACH BRIAN CALLAHAN PRESS CONFERENCE TRANSCRIPT

Monday, October 14, 2024

Only injury update that's no different than last night was Tyjae (Spears). He'll probably be week-to-week, so we'll just sort of see how that plays out. But it was significant enough to where he's kind of in question for this week and then we'll see where we get after that. But sometimes those guys fast, sometimes they need another week or two. So, we'll just kind of see where he ends up. Rest of the guys are normal bumps and bruises and nothing as of right now that would lead to any injury issues outside of that. Other than that, I'll let you guys go ahead.

(on catching a rhythm while trying to get the ball to all the playmakers on the team in his first season as play caller)

Yeah, it's all part of the process. We're trying to find ways to make sure guys are involved. It's just a give and take. There's not a whole lot more to it than that, and I feel pretty good about a lot of things. And then there's things that I that I definitely can do better. So that's probably the best way to put it.

(on what he would have done differently looking back on yesterday's fourth quarter)

I tried to get that ball to Hop (DeAndre Hopkins) and tried to get the ball to Rid (Calvin Ridley). Let those guys have opportunities to try to go help us win the game. At a certain point, we ran the ball once or twice, but it wasn't—we were in a chance where we had to get some yardage, and the clock was a bit of an issue. But I wouldn't necessarily take back a whole lot. I think that there was some plays that—we had to slant to Rid that would have been kind of a critical play for us, got us a first down at about midfield and we would have been in a pretty good spot. Probably—the third-and-one call—there's probably a better call there than that one. But we were running the ball well and tried to get a yard. I ran Duo and then we didn't get a yard. So yeah, there's always going to be plays—win or loss, there's always plays to look back on that a play could have been better here or better there. I wish I called this instead of that, that's pretty normal. But I feel okay about the fourth quarter and thought we had chances, and we didn't do much with it.

(on how similar he feels his play calling has been from what he initially thought it'd be, particularly with the conservative nature)

Yeah. I mean, that was obviously a conservative game plan style. I knew we were going to be able to run the ball well. I thought we did for the most part. Through three quarters, that game was about what I thought it would look like. And it was our defense is playing well, we were running the ball, we had two different 17-play drives and we scored off a turnover. We were playing the game in a way that I thought was good enough to win through that point and then obviously didn't get it done. We've got to find a way to finish in the fourth quarter. That's sort of been our issue over the course of the season so far in these tight games is we haven't done enough on offense to go win a game and you got to score more than 17 points. You want to probably always try to get to at least 24. That's going to put you in pretty good position to win and we haven't gotten that. So, I don't know that it—I think every game is different. Every week is different. I would certainly like to be a lot better in the passing game than we've been though, that's for sure.

(on the situation with Will Levis' shoulder yesterday and Levis' comments that his shoulder was in good enough shape to win the game yesterday)

Everything leading up to the game and in practice, everything felt like he was good enough to make the throws that he needed to make to win the game. And I didn't have any reservations necessarily about that. I didn't think there was any real ill effect. I knew there was going to be some pain. That's just part of it. I appreciate him trying to manage that and fight through it for his teammates and for our team. I didn't see anything that would have made me feel like he wasn't able or willing to actually be able to play at the level that he needed to play at. That throw, the interception, he had pressure kind of in his face and he couldn't quite get everything into it anyway. I don't know that an arm strength or a healthy shoulder would have made much of a difference, truthfully. But whatever he had to say is how he felt. But I didn't feel anything going into the week that would lead me to believe that he wasn't ready to make throws.

(on why Calvin Ridley hasn't been very effective in the offense so far)

Yeah, I don't—there's multiple things that you can point to that explain one route versus another route. There's all kinds of ways to explain it away, but I'm not really into doing that at this point. We've got to find ways to make more plays. Got to find ways to get the ball to him and he's got to find ways to make the plays. I think ultimately what we've lacked so far, really in all three phases, is one has been time to make a critical play or make the game-winning play, we haven't done that for whatever reason with spots. So got to keep working, got to find a way to get better. But I'm glad we have Calvin (Ridley). We just got to find a way to make that connection work. There's really no other way about it. And obviously the stats tell you what they tell you, but need more, need better.

(on if he feels he needs to make any adjustments to make Calvin Ridley more comfortable)

Yeah, I'll always take that into account when guys feel that. It's certainly not for—it wasn't for lack of intent, that much I can tell you. The things I talked to Calvin (Ridley) about—for all receivers, this is a common conversation. Calvin's not the first one to know that he wants to get in a rhythm, and he certainly won't be the last. The ability to get him the ball early is something that we try to do. Had a couple of plays called for him and he can't control where the ball goes all the time, and he can't control if the ball gets batted. Those are things out of his control. And so, I don't mind it. I know Calvin wants to win. That's all he really wants to do. He wants to help us win. I love his passion. I love his drive to want to help the team and do the right things because that's ultimately all he wants to do is win and be a factor in that process. And he is a factor. We got to find ways to get the production early, late, whenever because he's going to be part of the reason why we win. And that ultimately hasn't been enough at this point. But yeah, I certainly appreciate the feedback and those are the things that I talk about with those guys all the time and try to get him the ball when we can get him the ball.

(on if he feels differently now about the way they can utilize Calvin Ridley in this offense than when they signed him)

No, I don't feel any differently. I think there's some things we've tried to do with them that we haven't connected on that I think is how you use him and there's some things that he does really well that we keep trying to highlight more of. And at this point, we—again, there's a lot of reasons why—but haven't had enough production between him and Will (Levis) and in our passing game in general.

(on if the number of quick throws they called for Will Levis yesterday suggests he already has his verdict on Levis as a player)

No, I don't think that's the case. I think there's a lot of things that he can do better and there's things that I can do to help him better. And then there's around him can play better, too. I think that we're really close and there's a lot of things that we do well and there's a lot of things that we just haven't quite gotten over the hump on when it comes to losing one-score games. Lost three of them now where we're in position to have a chance to win and we haven't done it. I don't know that that's necessarily a—it's not all a Will (Levis) thing either. There's things that I can do better to help him and just haven't been there yet. And again, we're tight, we're close and we've got to play better, there's no doubt. And he's got to play better. But there's things that I think are encouraging and positive about it as well.

(on if the idea of the season being to get a full evaluation of Will Levis would lend to a more aggressive approach with him on offense)

There's definitely calls that go down the field that don't get thrown down the field. It was conservative nature in some of the runs because we were running the ball well. But yeah, we can just drop back and throw it down the field more, sure. I don't know. I don't know how to answer that.

(on if the conservative gameplan is what he envisioned at first and if not, what has led to this style over the first five games)

Quite a few things. But, at the end of the day, we've played brand of football that complements our defense that's played really well. We put ourselves in position to win, we've had leads at halftime, we've had leads going in the fourth quarter and we haven't finished the game. So, there's a way that we've had to play right now. We've made a lot of mistakes early. We're making less of them, which is encouraging. It's ultimately, for us right now, coming down to making the plays at the end of the game to go win it, and we haven't done that yet.

(on if the turnovers on deep shots have weighed into the decision to not take as many)

There's a balance. There's definitely a balance. The balls down the field, they're not necessarily high-percentage throws. You're going to hit some and you're going to not hit others. And we're trying to make sure we're trying to stay efficient and stay in front of the sticks and not get into these third-and-longer situations that hurt us early in the season, which I think over the last two games we've done a good job of. We've been in a lot more manageable spots on third down with a lot more opportunity to convert than we did probably the first three weeks. And so that's all part of it is trying to make sure that we're maintaining an efficiency that allows us to get into third-and-manageable spots as opposed to hitting one or two deep shots, but then missing two or three and now we're half the game at third-and-nine plus. So that's sort of the idea.

(on how he balances wanting Will Levis to make the right reads and throws within the offense while also letting Levis be his instinctive self)

I can't necessarily speak to last year but yeah, there's moments where you have to be aggressive at quarterback and you have to let go of a throw and let it rip. There's been a few of those. But again, we haven't had a lot of them either. So, there's probably a place for more of it. He can let it rip a little more often. But we just need to find more explosiveness in general if we want to be able to throw the ball well. So that's kind of where I'm at.

(on if Will Levis took a step back yesterday on the timing of some of his throws)

There's probably one or two that were a little bit off timing, but other than that, I don't think it was a step back. I think it was keep playing and keep finding ways to get the ball out where you need to get it out. But I think that's every game, though. You're never going to walk through a game at quarterback and be perfect in your timing every throw and every rep. Things disrupt your timing, coverage disrupts your timing. So, it's not a perfect science. You're never going to go through and say this is perfect. Every throw, every rep of every drop back pass. So, I think it's pretty normal, standard operating procedure for the most part at quarterback.

(on where the priorities stack between wanting to win week to week while developing player's tendencies and strengths in the offense)

The priority's always to try to find a way to win and I've always been just sort of whatever it takes, whatever style you have to play, however the game plan has to play out, it's whatever it takes to give us a chance to win the game. And I think, again, we've—outside of the Green Bay game—we've been in those spots. We've been in position to win a game, and we haven't found a way to do that yet. And I think that's the biggest issue right now is just finding their way to make the make the play, make the throw, make the tackle, make the interception, return a punt. Something that gives us a chance to make a play to win the game. And it's not solely—it's not just one phase. It's all three phases. Our focus is always going to be how do we best put ourselves in position to win a game.

(on how L'Jarius Snead played yesterday and if there is anything going on with him from a health standpoint)

Yeah, I don't think that—I mean, that was probably not his best game. I'm sure he would tell you that. Health-wise, no. There's nothing I don't think is going to be outside of the normal. Nothing came up in the game, if that's the question. But yeah, it certainly wasn't his best performance. But that's part of playing corner. Some days aren't great, and you got to bounce back and get ready to go again. I think he's a hell of a player and a really good corner and I'm happy we have him.

(on the clock winding down occasionally on Will Levis and if that is the play coming in)

Yeah, I look at all that stuff. Some of it's I try to get the plays in as fast as possible. Some of it's line of scrimmage mechanics that maybe we have two plays called or we have protection adjustment we have to make, or Will (Levis) is using this cadence to try to see if he can uncover a pressure or whatever that is. So, yeah, I mean, I can do a better job of probably getting the play in even faster. And we've got to do a better job of coming out of the huddle and getting set and getting lined up faster too. All elements of it could be better in certain instances. I know it's not been killer, it's like we're getting delay of game penalties left and right. But one of the delays I took on purpose because we had something go sideways. But outside of that, there's a couple of times that the clock runs down on us, but especially on third down, that's relatively normal across the league. And there's probably ways I can get better too.

(on if he has seen progress in Will Levis from what he saw from his rookie year)

Yeah, I think there's things that he's gotten better at, and I think there's things that he's going to continue to get better at. And there's things about what he did last year—it's just different circumstance, different everything. So, it's hard for me to make comparisons to what he did last year to what he did this year. I just know the things that I thought he needed to improve in and there's some things that he has done a lot better and there's things that he needs to continue to do better. So, comparing and contrasting the last year and this year, it's just the circumstances are totally different. Just everything is different. So, it's hard for me to make any real comparisons to that. But I do think that he's done some things better. He's been—the ball comes out quick right now which is good, we need it to. And I know he hasn't had some of those flash plays that came up last year. But that's not where we're at right now.

(on how he thinks Leroy Watson played and if his is a permanent move at right tackle moving forward)

I thought he played okay. I wouldn't say that position is locked down by any stretch and we'll see. I mean there's—we're trying to find an answer there. We haven't got the caliber of player that's required to have a right tackle that can function. And so far, its results have been not where we need them to be. And so, Leroy (Watson) wasn't terrible, but he wasn't great and we'll keep looking at it.

(on if he expects defensive penalties to happen as a product of how aggressive the team plays or if there is something he can do to address them)

Yeah, there's a little bit of a cost of doing business to some degree. We're going to be an aggressive coverage team. But yeah, the penalties were critical, in critical spots for big gains on third downs. So, we got to find a way to clean that up though. You can't keep giving up third down penalties and taking away turnovers and all those things. And whether they are the right call or not isn't really up to me. It's just we've got to find a way to eliminate those. I think if you give a 120-something yards of penalties on the game in general in a three point game, that's a lot of yards to lose out on and got to be able to clean that up. It's got to be better than it was.

(on the improvement in pass protection not fixing some of the team's offensive issues)

Yeah, and our pass protection has improved, I think every week. I don't know that there's any problems necessarily that were any different yesterday than there were other weeks. Again, we ran the ball a lot to try to mitigate some of those issues and try to limit the amount of times that we expose those pressure looks and pass rushers and all those things. So, it's all a part of the process of trying to make sure you're putting your team in position to win. And if dropping back is something that ends up being difficult over time, and if you do more, the more you do of it, the harder it gets for us, then we're going to have to do what we did yesterday and win in our run game and lean on our action game and try to keep finding ways to move the ball on the field.

(on the key for him to keep the team together and move it forward through a tough start)

There's no reprieve. You got to come back to work. You got to find ways to get better. Our detail and precision, we can keep improving that. And I think guys understand that we're close. We're not far from being a team capable of winning these games that we've lost. And there's a lot of positive things. Our guys play really hard. There's plenty of things that I can lean on and point out that are really positive. When you're 1-4, the negative obviously gets highlighted, as it should. I get that. But there still is a lot of good things that are going on. There's a lot of good individual performances, guys playing a high level of football for us that are giving us chances to win these games. And so that's it. That's the message. You got to get—you got to keep finding ways to get better. We got to find ways to close out a game. We got to find ways to take a three point game that's a loss for us and make it a win. And there's plenty of things that we can do to do that. But that to me is the ultimate message. You keep hammering and you keep going to your process. And you find ways to get better, and if you got to change some things, you change them. But yeah, there's plenty of positive to me about what we put on tape so far. And there's, again, plenty of things that have led to us being 1-4, and not 3-2, or 3-3 or 4 and whatever it is. And that's the message to me is you got to come back to work and you got to get ready to roll and you got to find things—fix what you can fix and control the things you can control from a personal—from a coaching level, from a playing level, from a unit, from a position. I don't really know any other way to go about it than that. And you keep focusing on trying to get better and hopefully that leads to some wins and you got to get one of these wins to put you over the hump and build some confidence and get some momentum. We haven't been able to do that enough yet. So that's all it is, that's the only way I know how to do it.

(on if he has concerns that this group may not have the culture he thought after seeing the response of frustration yesterday from the team)

Not at all. I do. I believe in our locker room and everything that we do on a daily basis tells me that. Outbursts after a loss and frustration after a loss is normal. It means the guys care, it means that they want to win. And I don't have any problem with that. That's not to me a detriment. That means the guys are passionate about what they're doing and that they want the result to be different. And I think that's great personally, because if you got guys that care and you got guys that want to keep going and they are frustrated by losing, that makes me feel really good that we can find ways to fix whatever it is and be able to win. But I love the locker room. Our guys are made of the right stuff. I've not wavered on that one bit and that's because I see it every day and you guys see some of it, but you don't see all of it. And you see the after the game and you see the back and forth. And look, that's pro football, it's emotional, guys get that way. I know there's times when I'm emotional too. But again, that makes me feel like we got the right people that want to win and want to do what it takes to win. And they do that. They do everything we ask them to do, and they work their ass off. I have no doubts about what our locker room is made of.

(on if his confidence level that Will Levis will win game for him is still as high as it was at the start of the year)

Yeah, it is. I think that there's plenty of things that we had to keep getting better at with him. There's things that he does well. I got to keep finding ways to highlight those things for him. He needs a little bit of success too, and he needs to get a little confidence going. I think that's right now where everybody's at. We need to find a way to start validating our work. And right now, we don't have enough of it. And so, the confidence parts—that's a real part of playing quarterback. You keep coming up on the back end of these things and not winning. You got to find a way to fight through that and you got to be—it's part of what I believe in. You have to be resilient. To play quarterback in the NFL, you got to be resilient. You got to be probably more resilient than any position because the scrutiny is so intense. And that's just how it is. And I think that he gets a little momentum going his way, and I'm confident that we can find ways to win.

(on where unlocking the potential of a young quarterback rank in the list of things that make winning in the NFL hard)

Yeah, very high. I mean this is a quarterback-driven league. The best teams have the best quarterbacks usually and the guys that are playing for division championships and conference championships and Super Bowls are usually the best quarterbacks in the league. To have a young quarterback, to be able to find a way to play well is the name of the game. That's what everyone's searching for. The ones that don't have them are looking for them. And I think we have a guy that's got the potential to be a really good quarterback. Thus far, we haven't met the potential and we have to keep working at it. But there are certainly—the passing game in the NFL and the quarterback position are huge factors in how your team wins and loses games.

TITANS-BEARS: GAME SUMMARY

Week 1: Titans 17, Bears 24
 Sunday, Sept. 8, 2024 • 12:00 p.m. CDT • Soldier Field

The Titans traveled to Chicago to face the Bears in Week 1 of the 2024 season and fell by a score of 24-17. The game was a tale of two halves as the Titans jumped to an early 17-0 lead before giving up 24 unanswered points in the second half.

The game got off to a slow start with both teams punting on their first two possessions. On the Bears second possession, DL Sebastian Joseph-Day halted the drive with a 19-yard sack of Caleb Williams that pushed the Bears back to the Tennessee 44-yard line and out of field goal range. Tennessee took over at their own 21-yard line after a Bears holding penalty gave the Titans an extra 10 yards on the punt.

RB Tony Pollard gave the Titans an early 7-0 lead after finding the end zone on a 26-yard touchdown run. The run capped off an eight play, 79-yard drive by the Titans offense in which Pollard racked up 54 yards.

On the ensuing kickoff, RB Julius Chestnut recovered a fumble at the Chicago 23-yard line after the ball bounced off of Bears WR Velus Jones Jr. The Titans cashed in the turnover for three points on a 40-yard field goal by K Nick Folk to go up 10-0 early in the second quarter.

The Titans defense continued their strong performance, forcing another Bears punt on the next possession after CB Jarvis Brownlee made a tackle for a three-yard loss on second-and-one and was on coverage for an incompleteness from QB Caleb Williams to WR DeAndre Carter.

Tennessee took over at their own 27-yard line after the punt. QB Will Levis then constructed a 14-play, 73-yard drive that culminated in a 17-yard touchdown pass to TE Chig Okonkwo. The drive took 8:23 off the clock and saw a 22-yard completion from Levis to WR Calvin Ridley on third-and-15 and a three-yard completion to WR Tyler Boyd on fourth-and-three to keep the drive alive.

A 24-yard field goal by K Cairo Santos made it 17-3 at the half.

Both teams were forced to punt on their opening second half drives, however P Ryan Stonehouse had his punt blocked and picked up by DB Jonathan Owens who returned it 21 yards to a touchdown to make it 17-10 with 9:07 left in the third quarter.

Neither team scored again in the third quarter as both teams continued to trade punts. The Bears then cut the lead to 17-13 on a 50-yard field goal by Santos that capped an 11-play, 44-yard drive with 14:51 left in the fourth.

On the next Titans possession, Levis was sacked and fumbled the ball which was recovered by the Bears at Tennessee's 31-yard line. The Titans defense stood stout and forced another Santos field goal, this time from 48 yards to make it 17-16 with 9:52 left.

Facing third-and-six on the next possession, Levis attempted to toss the ball near the sideline to avoid a sack but instead the ball was intercepted by DB Tyrique Stevenson who returned it 43 yards for a touchdown. Williams found RB D'Andre Swift for the two-point conversion to make it 24-17 with 7:35 left.

Punts by both teams gave the Titans the ball with 2:20 left in the game at their own 18-yard line. Facing fourth-and-10, Levis was intercepted again as he tried to find Boyd down field. Bears then took over with victory formation to seal the loss for the Titans.

TITANS-JETS: GAME SUMMARY

Week 2: Titans 17, Jets 24
 Sunday, Sept. 15, 2024 • 12:00 p.m. CDT • Nissan Stadium

In Week 2 of the 2024 season, the Titans hosted the New York Jets and fell by a score of 24-17. Despite a promising start and gaining more offensive yards than the Jets, costly turnovers and a blocked punt proved to be the difference as Tennessee fell to 0-2.

The Titans got on the board first when WR Calvin Ridley took a hand off from QB Will Levis 10 yards into the end zone scoring his first career rushing touchdown to give the Titans a 7-0 lead with 2:30 left in the first quarter. The touchdown capped a nine-play, 68-yard drive that also included a 15-yard completion from Levis to Ridley on third down.

The Titans defense then forced the Jets to punt after LB Ernest Jones IV and DT Jeffery Simmons stuffed RB Breece Hall for a two-yard loss on third-and-one. Tennessee's offense took over at their own 16-yard line. The Titans were able to drive down to the Jets seven-yard line with the help of a 15-yard run by RB Tony Pollard, a horse collar tackle penalty by the Jets, a roughing the passer penalty, a 17-yard catch from WR Tyler Boyd and an 11-yard catch from Pollard. But as Levis was being sacked on third down, he tried to pitch the ball back to RB Tyjae Spears which was ruled a fumble and recovered by the Jets at the 12-yard line.

The Titans defense once again forced another three-and-out after OLB Harold Landry III sacked QB Aaron Rodgers for a five-yard loss.

Levis was intercepted on a deep ball to WR Treyton Burks on the next play. The Jets were able to capitalize on this turnover, turning in a 12-play, 73-yard drive capped off by a 12-yard touchdown pass from Rodgers to RB Braelon Allen just 1:47 before halftime to tie the game.

The Titans took a 10-7 lead at halftime, however, on a 41-yard field goal by K Nick Folk. Levis connected with Pollard for a 22-yard completion and an unnecessary roughness penalty on the Jets put the Titans in field goal range.

The Jets took their first lead of the day on the first possession of the second half. Facing third-and-15, Simmons was called for a roughing the passer penalty that kept the drive alive. Hall broke through for a 30-yard run before Rodgers found him for a 26-yard completion in the end zone two plays later to make it 14-10 at the 12:08 mark of the third quarter.

Later in the third quarter, P Ryan Stonehouse had his punt blocked which gave the Jets the ball at the Tennessee 30-yard line. They cashed in on the mistake with a 33-yard field goal from K Greg Zuerlein to take a 17-10 lead with 5:58 left in the third.

The Titans answered on the next possession, scoring on a 40-yard pass from Levis to Ridley, who made the catch between two Jets defenders and rolled into the end zone. The score capped off a five-play, 71-yard drive to tie the game at 17-17 with 3:22 left in the third. The drive was kept alive on a 21-yard scramble from Levis on a third-and-one.

Both teams punted on their first two possessions of the fourth quarter before the Jets took over at their own 26-yard line. Rodgers constructed a seven-play, 74-yard drive that included a 26-yard completion to WR Garrett Wilson, a 19-yard completion to WR Mike Williams and was capped by a 20-yard touchdown run by Allen to take the 24-17 lead with 4:31 left in the game.

The Titans drove down to the Jets 10-yard line on 10 plays. But facing first-and-goal in the final minute, they were unable to find the end zone and the Jets ended the game in victory formation.

TITANS-PACKERS: GAME SUMMARY

Week 3: Titans 14, Packers 30
Sunday, Sept. 22, 2024 • 12:00 p.m. CDT • Nissan Stadium

In Week 3 of the 2024 season, the Titans hosted the Green Bay Packers and fell by a score of 30-14.

The Packers jumped out to an immediate 7-0 lead, scoring on a five-yard run by QB Malik Willis, which capped a six-play, 70-yard drive that saw Willis complete two balls for 30 yards each to open the game.

The Titans responded quickly, as QB Will Levis guided a 10-play, 70-yard drive that ended with a one-yard touchdown completion to TE Nick Vannett. The drive feature a 23-yard completion to TE Josh Whyle and a 20-yard connection to WR Tyler Boyd.

Willis brought the Packers to the Tennessee two-yard line on the next drive with 57 rushing yards but the Titans defense held up and forced a 21-yard field goal from K Brayden Narveson to make it 10-7 with 1:05 left in the first quarter.

Green Bay extended their lead to 17-7 on the next play from scrimmage after CB Jaire Alexander picked off a Levis pass and returned it 35 yards for a touchdown.

After both teams punted to start the second quarter, Green Bay took over at their own 25-yard line with 6:02 left in the half. The Packers were able to drive down to the Tennessee six-yard line, after converting two third-and-longs, and kicked a 26-yard field goal to take a 20-7 lead as time expired on the half.

Tennessee opened the second half with the ball and attempted to convert fourth-and-two on their own 37-yard line, but Levis was sacked and the Titans turned it over on downs.

The Titans defense was able to force a 48-yard field goal attempt from Narveson which he missed, but a holding penalty on DT Jeffery Simmons gave the Packers a fresh set of downs that they turned into a touchdown with a 30-yard pass from Willis to RB Emanuel Wilson two plays later to make it 27-7 with 8:25 left in the third quarter.

Tennessee showed some life on their next offensive possession, stringing together a seven-play, 68-yard drive that was capped off by an 11-yard touchdown catch by WR DeAndre Hopkins who muscled his way into the end zone to cut the deficit to 27-14 with 4:55 remaining in the third.

The Titans defense forced their first three-and-out on the next Green Bay possession and the offense took over at their own 30-yard line. Levis and Hopkins connected for two completions for 35 yards, but Levis was sacked and fumbled which was recovered by the Packers near midfield.

Both teams punted on their first two possessions to open the fourth quarter before Green Bay strung together an eight-play, 31-yard drive which resulted in a 47-yard field goal from Narveson to make it 30-14 with 3:29 left in the game.

Facing third-and-16, Levis took a shot deep, but was intercepted by S Xavier McKinney for the third Titans turnover of the day. The turnover sealed the loss as the Titans fell to 0-3.

TITANS-DOLPHINS: GAME SUMMARY

Week 4: Titans 31, Dolphins 12
Monday, Sept. 30, 2024 • 7:30 p.m. EDT • Hard Rock Stadium

In Week 4 of the 2024 season, the Titans traveled to Miami to take on the Dolphins on Monday Night Football and won by a score of 31-12 to improve to 1-3 going into their bye week.

The Titans were aided by a career-high-tying five field goals from K Nick Folk, including three of 50-plus yards, and limiting the Dolphins offense to just 184 total yards.

The first quarter ended scoreless after both teams committed a turnover. QB Will Levis was intercepted by LB Emmanuel Ogbah on the opening drive. But OLB Arden Key got the ball back for the Titans after jumping on a backward pass that was ruled a fumble, ending the Dolphins drive. On the next possession, Levis scrambled and dove for the first down but was marked a yard short and was injured on the play. He would remain out for the rest of the game.

The Titans took a 3-0 lead early in the second quarter on a 53-yard field goal from Folk that capped a nine-play, 21-yard drive orchestrated by QB Mason Rudolph.

Tennessee's defense then came up with a big stop as S Quandre Diggs, CB Jarvis Brownlee Jr. and LB Kenneth Murray Jr. worked to stop WR Tyreek Hill short on a fourth-and-one. The stop led to another long field goal from Folk, this one from 52 yards out, to give the Titans a 6-0 lead with 8:20 left in the second stanza. The drive featured four rushes by RB Tyjae Spears for 24 yards.

The Dolphins cut the lead to 6-3 on a 44-yard field goal from K Jason Sanders.

With 16 seconds left in the half and no time outs, the Titans offense took the field at their own 44-yard line after the defense forced a three-and-out. Rudolph found WR Tyler Boyd for 27 yards and the offense sprinted up the field to spike the ball with one second left on the clock. Folk finished the drive with a 47-yard field goal to give the Titans the 9-3 lead at the half.

Miami made it 9-6 on a 56-yard field goal from Sanders with 9:02 left in the third quarter.

The Titans scored their first touchdown of the night on the next possession. A defensive pass interference penalty brought the Titans to the Miami 49-yard line before Pollard broke out for a 41-yard run. Facing first-and-goal at the seven yard line, Spears lined up in Wildcat, took the direct snap and burst into the end zone to make it 16-6 with 6:00 left in the third stanza.

The Titans defense forced another three-and-out with the help of a 10-yard sack by DE Sebastian Joseph-Day on the next possession. Folk extended the Titans lead to 19-6 with his fourth field goal of the night, this time from 51 yards out with 36 seconds left in the third.

Tennessee defense came up with their second fourth down stop to open the fourth quarter as LB Ernest Jones IV and DL James Lynch combined to drop RB De'Von Achane for a one-yard loss on fourth-and-one at the Miami 39-yard line. The offense capitalized on the field position with a 29-yard field goal by Folk to make it 22-6 with 10:45 left in the game.

Miami then strung together an 11-yard, 70-play drive capped off by a one-yard touchdown run by QB Tyler Huntley. The Dolphins attempted the two-point conversion but S Quandre Diggs intercepted the pass to make it 22-12 with 3:36 left.

The Titans then scored on a safety, after pressure from the defense forced an intentional grounding penalty by Huntley in the end zone.

Tennessee closed out the night with a four-yard touchdown run by Pollard to make it 31-12 with 24 seconds left. The Titans earned their first win of the season and the first 30-point offensive performance in over 1,000 days.

TITANS-COLTS: GAME SUMMARY

Week 6: Titans 17, Colts 20
 Sunday, Oct. 13, 2024 • 12:00 p.m. CDT • Nissan Stadium

In Week 6 of the 2024 NFL season, the Titans hosted division rival Indianapolis and lost by a score of 20-17 to fall to 1-4 on the season.

Indianapolis scored on the opening possession of the game as QB Joe Flacco led the Colts 70 yards down field on 10 plays and capped it with a 22-yard touchdown pass to WR Josh Downs to take an early 7-0 lead.

The Titans offense was held to a three-and-out and forced to punt on the next possession. The Colts took over at their own 36-yard line. Two plays later, S Amani Hooker intercepted a Flacco pass and returned it 30 yards to bring the Titans to the Indianapolis 27-yard line.

QB Will Levis found WR Tyler Boyd for a quick eight-yard gain before RB Tony Pollard broke off for 10 yards to bring Tennessee to the Indianapolis nine-yard line. Levis then found WR Nick Westbrook-Ikhine in the end zone for the score on Westbrook-Ikhine's first reception of the season to tie the game at 7-7.

The Colts punted on their next possession and the Titans took over at their own 18-yard line. Levis then constructed a 15-play, 56-yard drive that ran 9:02 off the clock and was capped off by a K Nick Folk 44-yard field goal. The drive featured nine combined rushes from RB Tony Pollard and RB Tyjae Spears.

Both teams then traded punts before Indianapolis got the ball at their own 29-yard line with 3:39 left in the half. Two penalties by the Titans helped bring the Colts to the Titans 15-yard line before K Matt Gay tied the game with a 26-yard field goal to make it 10-10 at the half.

The Titans came out of the half with a 14-play, 70-yard touchdown drive to retake the lead. The drive featured three third-down conversions, including the 23-yard touchdown run by Pollard which came on third-and-19. The drive took 8:41 off the clock, making it the longest touchdown drive in time of possession for the Titans this season.

The Colts answered with a long drive of their own. After marching down to the Tennessee two-yard line on 13 plays, Indianapolis was facing third-and-two when OLB Harold Landry III and Hooker combined to stuff RB Trey Sermon for a two-yard loss that forced another Gay field goal, this time from 22 yards out to make it 17-13 with 14:57 left in the fourth quarter.

Indianapolis then took the lead after forcing the Titans to a three-and-out and then driving to the Tennessee 10-yard line before Flacco found WR Michael Pittman Jr. in the end zone to make it 20-17 with 7:27 left in the fourth quarter.

The Titans were unable to rally as the Colts forced two punts, an interception and a stop on the final four Tennessee offensive possessions of the game to drop the Titans to 1-4 on the season.

SIX THINGS THAT STOOD OUT FOR THE TITANS IN SUNDAY'S LOSS TO THE COLTS

BY JIM WYATT

OCTOBER 13, 2024

NASHVILLE – The Titans lost 20-17 to the Colts on Sunday at Nissan Stadium.

Here's a look at six things that stood out from the contest:

Pollard's Success

I'll start off with running back Tony Pollard, because he was a bright spot for the Titans. Pollard ran the ball 17 times for 93 yards on Sunday, and he ripped off a 23-yard touchdown run to give the team the lead in the third quarter. Pollard picked up some tough yards, many times making something out of nothing. On his touchdown run, which came on 3rd and 19, Pollard made a number of Colts miss on the way to the end zone. But, the Titans failed to pick up a critical third-and-1 on a Pollard carry when they needed a response to Indy's early score in the fourth quarter, and it led to the Colts getting the ball back and building on their momentum, and taking the lead.

Too Many Penalties

The Titans picked up a penalty on special teams on the kickoff prior to their opening possession because of an illegal formation. It was perhaps a sign of things to come. Against the Colts, the Titans were penalized 11 times for 113 yards, and some came at inopportune times. Tackle Leroy Watson was flagged for three penalties, including two false starts and a hold. L'Jarius Sneed was called for a pass interference penalty, Jarvis Brownlee was flagged for illegal contact, and defensive lineman Sebastian Joseph-Day was called for a 15-yard roughing the QB penalty. Peter Skoronski also had a hold. Sure, some of the flags were questionable, and the refs clearly missed a DPI on a Colts player defending DeAndre Hopkins. But there's no doubt the Titans made too many mistakes. "We can't point fingers at the refs," quarterback Will Levis said. "I think everyone in the stadium had some frustration about the officiating," Levis said. "But it's never something we can blame. We can only look at what we can do better ourselves."

0-for-8 Targeting Calvin Ridley

Titans Coach Brian Callahan promised during the week to get receiver Calvin Ridley more involved, and there was an effort to make that happen – Levis targeted Ridley eight times on Sunday. Ridley didn't have a single catch on Sunday, however, as his only contribution on the stat sheet was a nine-yard run. There was frustration aplenty about it after the game. In five games this season, Ridley has just nine catches for 141 yards. "We can't win like that," Callahan said. "I'm sure he'll be the first one to tell you that that was disappointing. But he's one of our best players and he's ... We look to him to try to make a play or two and we didn't get it done at the end of the game. We got to be better all the way around, offensively."

An Overall Quiet Day from Will Levis

Levis was back on the field a game after injuring his right shoulder against the Dolphins. Levis said he's not quite 100 percent, but good enough to play. On Sunday, the Titans weren't good enough on offense. Levis was 16-of-27 on the day, with 95 yards passing. Levis threw an interception on a deep ball intended for Ridley, and he's fortunate he wasn't picked off prior to that. After the game, Levis sounded a bit deflated regarding the lack of chemistry with Ridley, and the inconsistencies on offense. "We just have to keep working," Levis said. "I trust him. We've gotten so far from where we started, and I have a great feel for where he is going to be. He knows he can make a couple of those plays, and I know I can put the ball in a little better spot and make it easier on him. I have to do what I can do to get him better, and he just has to stay positive and trust that this relationship is going to continue to develop, because I know it will. And I know it has been aggravating and frustrating. It's been one of those things where it's like: 'When is it going to happen? When is it going to happen? And that is kind of the feel of the whole team right now. We thought this was a moment for us to kind of flip that switch and get it started, and obviously we are going to have to keep fighting. All we can do is keep working and trusting and loving each other.'

Defensive Issues

Safety Amani Hooker set up the team's first score with an interception. But on Sunday, the Titans needed more game-changing plays. Sure, there were moments when the Titans pressured Colts quarterback Joe Flacco, but the team didn't sack him once and he had way too much time on some drop-backs. And, again, the Titans were called for too many penalties on defense, even if some folks didn't agree with some of the calls. The Titans also couldn't get off the field on third down enough, as the Colts converted 7-of-15 (46.7 percent) on the day. "We have to stop shooting ourselves in the foot," defensive lineman Jeffery Simmons said. "We have to get off the field on third down. They converted, and we had penalties on third down. It's frustrating. It's frustrating as hell. ... We didn't do enough."

Callahan's Decision

Callahan was asked about his decision to punt on the fourth and seven with 2:26 left, and the ball at their own 25. I'm not saying whether it was the right call or the wrong call, but this is one that certainly drew questions. The Titans were unable to keep the Colts from getting a first down, and that allowed them to hold the ball until the very end. When the Titans got the ball back, it was at their own three-yard-line with 12 seconds left. It was pretty much game over at that point. "We tried to turbo punt, get the ball back. If you get a stop, then you're going to have a little bit of time left to try to manage a field goal drive out of it. So that was the thought," Callahan said. "Fourth-and-seven would have been a tough conversion for us. And then we thought if we could—our defense would be able to put us in decent position to get the ball back and try to get into field goal the range. That was the rationale behind it."

JOE FLACCO THROWS TWO TD PASSES AS THE BATTERED COLTS BEAT THE TITANS 20-17

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Joe Flacco has been around the NFL long enough to know the backup quarterback should always be ready to start.

The 39-year-old quarterback also understands to ignore reports about a teammate possibly going on injured reserve and look for wide receiver Michael Pittman Jr. when it matters most.

Flacco backpedaled to buy time, then hit Pittman in the end zone with Titans cornerback L’Jarius Sneed draped over him for the 10-yard touchdown pass with 7:27 left that lifted the Indianapolis Colts to a 20-17 win Sunday over Tennessee.

“He’s got to be one of the toughest players I’ve played with,” Flacco said of Pittman who practiced only Friday with a back injury that had the receiver questionable. “I think part of him was probably trying to prove a point.”

Flacco now is 1-1 in his second straight start for the Colts (3-3) who got a much-needed split of back-to-back road games inside the AFC South with second-year quarterback Anthony Richardson scratched again with an injured right hip.

“You just got to stay on your toes and prepare, and that’s kind of how it was, you know?” Flacco said.

Richardson, the fourth overall pick out of Florida in 2023, has yet to play against Will Levis who was the 33rd selection overall in the same draft by Tennessee. The battered Colts with nine on injured reserve also had 2021 NFL rushing champ Jonathan Taylor out for a second straight game.

The Titans (1-4) now have lost three straight to their division rival. They will have to wait until November to try and win their first home game this season for first-year coach Brian Callahan, who said he still thinks his team is better than its record.

“We also aren’t making enough plays to win tight games, and we’ve got to find a way to do that,” Callahan said of the Titans’ third loss by a touchdown or less. “And I got to find a way to help us get there because right now, losing games in one-score games is tough.”

Tony Pollard put Tennessee up 17-10 with a 23-yard TD run on a drive that used up more than half of the third quarter. Flacco answered by driving the Colts to 10 straight points and the lead they never lost.

He set up Matt Gay’s second field goal, a 22-yarder, in the opening seconds of the fourth quarter. Pittman, who did not practice Wednesday or Thursday, said he knew he was going to play. He credited Flacco with a great throw on the game-winning TD.

“I had to go up there and get it for him,” Pittman said.

The Titans had their chances. They went three-and-out after the Colts went up 20-17, then Julian Blackmon picked off Levis’ pass to Calvin Ridley with 4:52 left. Levis now has seven interceptions this season.

Tennessee had one final chance with 12 seconds left from its 3. Levis threw to DeAndre Hopkins, who started a series of laterals pitching to Chig Okonkwo before the ball was downed and time expired.

Flacco opened with a 10-play drive he capped with a 22-yard TD pass to Josh Downs for the 7-0 lead.

That more than made up for the pass Flacco threw directly to Titans safety Amani Hooker for Tennessee’s first interception this season. Hooker returned it 30 yards, and Levis capped a three-play drive with a 9-yard TD pass to Nick Westbrook-Ikhine on the receiver’s first target of the season, tying it up at 7.

The Titans took a 10-7 lead on Nick Folk’s 44-yard field goal, capping a 15-play drive that used nine minutes off the clock. Gay tied it up at 10 just before halftime.

Defensive Indy

Colts coach Shane Steichen gave a shout out to his defense, which held Tennessee to 241 yards and was at its best in the fourth quarter. The Titans held the ball for less than five minutes with a pair of three-and-outs, the pick and a punt.

“They stepped up big time there in the fourth quarter for us getting those stops,” Steichen said of a defense missing Pro Bowl tackle DeForest Buckner and two other linemen.

Self-inflicted issues

The Titans were flagged 11 times for 113 yards — both season highs. Callahan declined to comment when asked about a couple of plays where the Titans wanted interference flags for their offense, saying officials don’t really give explanations.

Injuries

Colts starting defensive end Dayo Odeyingbo hurt a hamstring in the second quarter on a unit with three linemen currently on injured reserve. He returned in the third. But center Ryan Kelly, who missed the past two games with an injured neck, hurt his calf late in the third quarter and didn’t return.

Titans RB Tyjae Spears hurt a hamstring and didn’t return.

TENNESSEE TITANS
LOOK GOOD FOR 3
QUARTERS, BUT LOSE
LEAD AND FALL TO JOE
FLACCO, COLTS

BY NICK SUSS
NASHVILLE TENNESSEAN

It's not as if the Tennessee Titans didn't have any opportunities.

The Titans (1-4) lost 20-17 to the Indianapolis Colts (3-3) on Sunday at Nissan Stadium, giving away a game where the Titans seemed to be in control for three quarters. Quarterback Will Levis and the offense had the ball four times with chances to extend or take the lead in the fourth quarter but gained 29 yards on 14 plays, punting three times and throwing one interception to give the game away.

This came on a day where running back Tony Pollard and the ground game averaged more than 5 yards per carry but couldn't put together the big plays when they were needed most.

The Titans led from early in the second quarter until midway through the fourth when quarterback Joe Flacco led the Colts on back-to-back scoring drives to take a 20-17 advantage. Levis had led the Titans on several long, plodding, run-heavy drives through the first three quarters, but a quick three-and-out on three run plays gave the Colts the ball back to set up their go-ahead score.

Levis and the offense retook possession trailing with 7:27 left and quickly went three-and-out again, this time on three incompletions. The defense responded with a stop of its own, getting the Titans the ball back with 5:34 left at the 30-yard line. Levis heaved a second-down interception to give the ball back to the Colts.

Yet another quick defensive stop got the Titans the ball again, this time with 3:49 from their own 6-yard line. And still, the Titans did little with their possession, punting after one first down just before the two-minute warning.

Flacco and the Colts' offense let the clock drip before punting the ball back to the Titans, pinning Levis inside his 3-yard line with 12 seconds and no timeouts.

Levis finished 16-for-27 for 95 yards with a touchdown and an interception. Staggeringly, he failed to complete a pass to wide receiver Calvin Ridley on eight targets and completed only one pass longer than 10 yards. Pollard carried 17 times for 93 yards and a score, but his success winnowed in the fourth quarter.

Penalties and struggles on third down kept the Titans' defense on the field longer than necessary early in the game, but stops piled up in the fourth quarter to keep the home team in the game. Star cornerback L'Jarius Sneed struggled, allowing a touchdown reception and two completions for first downs. He also was called for a 33-yard pass interference penalty that set up the Colts' winning touchdown.

The ball-control Titans

Going into Sunday, the Titans had only one drive that lasted eight minutes or longer. Against the Colts, the Titans put together scoring drives spanning 9:02 and 8:41. Levis was efficient, generally keeping the ball off the ground. But the real star of the show was Pollard, who carried nine times for 52 yards on those two drives, including a 23-yard touchdown scamper on a third-and-19 from just outside the red zone.

But that ball control identity completely disappeared when it mattered most. The three-and-out at the start of the fourth quarter might've been the most difficult to stomach, as the Titans had been running the ball exceptionally to start the game but were stuffed on a third-and-1 carry to force a punt that set up the Colts' go-ahead drive.

Shake-up on the O-line

The Titans replaced regular right tackle Nicholas Petit-Frere with Leroy Watson IV as starter Sunday and put together one of their better pass protection games in recent memory. It marked the first game the Titans didn't allow a sack since Oct. 18, 2021.

Watson had been a member of the Titans' practice squad before Sunday. The Titans acquired him in a trade with the Cleveland Browns in the offseason. Watson was flagged for a holding penalty and two false starts Sunday.

What's next?

The Titans return to action next Sunday in Buffalo against the Bills. Kickoff is scheduled for noon CT and the game will be televised on CBS.

The Titans took a 10-7 lead on Nick Folk’s 44-yard field goal, capping a 15-play drive that used nine minutes off the clock. Gay tied it up at 10 just before halftime.

Defensive Indy

Colts coach Shane Steichen gave a shout out to his defense, which held Tennessee to 241 yards and was at its best in the fourth quarter. The Titans held the ball for less than five minutes with a pair of three-and-outs, the pick and a punt.

“They stepped up big time there in the fourth quarter for us getting those stops,” Steichen said of a defense missing Pro Bowl tackle DeForest Buckner and two other linemen.

Self-inflicted issues

The Titans were flagged 11 times for 113 yards — both season highs. Callahan declined to comment when asked about a couple of plays where the Titans wanted interference flags for their offense, saying officials don’t really give explanations.

Injuries

Colts starting defensive end Dayo Odeyingbo hurt a hamstring in the second quarter on a unit with three linemen currently on injured reserve. He returned in the third. But center Ryan Kelly, who missed the past two games with an injured neck, hurt his calf late in the third quarter and didn’t return.

Titans RB Tyjae Spears hurt a hamstring and didn’t return.

Up next

The Colts host Miami in their lone home game in a five-game stretch.

The Titans start a two-game road swing at Buffalo.

PRO: The Titans signed Tyler Boyd as a free agent in the 2024 offseason. The 6-foot-2-inch, 203-pounder joins an experienced wide receiver room where he will add a proven track record of producing in the slot. The University of Pittsburgh product spent his first eight NFL seasons with the Cincinnati Bengals where he appeared in 120 games with 77 starts and recorded 513 receptions for 6,000 yards and 31 touchdowns.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Boyd had four touchdown catches of 50 or more yards from 2021 to 2023, tied for the third most in the NFL in that span.

TITANS TIDBITS:

36 JULIUS CHESTNUT

RUNNING BACK • 5'11" • 228 LBS

COLLEGE: SACRED HEART • ACQUIRED: FREE AGENT - 2022

NFL EXPERIENCE (NFL/TITANS): 3/3 • HOMETOWN: BOWIE, MD.

GAMES PLAYED/GAMES STARTED: 14/0 (PLAYOFFS: 0/0)

PRO: The Titans signed Julius Chestnut as an undrafted free agent following the 2022 NFL Draft to provide depth to the running back rotation. The 5-foot-11-inch, 228-pounder possesses excellent play strength as a bigger-bodied running back and also adds value on special teams. In 2023, he appeared in the first three games of the season before suffering a season-ending injury. He appeared in six games as a rookie in 2022, recording nine rushing attempts for 12 yards, three receptions for 41 yards while returning 10 kickoffs for 215 yards. The Bowie, Md., native logged 593 carries for 3,467 yards (5.8-yard avg.) and 29 touchdowns over four seasons at Sacred Heart (2018-21).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- As a rookie in 2022, Chestnut saw action in six contests and rushed nine times for 12 yards, caught three passes for 41 yards and returned 10 kickoffs for 215 yards.
- In 2021, Chestnut averaged 205.2 all-purpose yards per contest, which ranked first in the FCS.
- As a sophomore in 2019, Chestnut set career-highs with 293 carries for 1,495 yards and 11 touchdowns. His 1,495 rushing yards were the second-most in program history and third-most in the nation.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- While at Sacred Heart, Chestnut interned for the school's athletic department and assisted with statistical analysis, marketing, and ticket sales.
- His father, Keith, owns a landscaping company. Throughout high school and college summer breaks, Chestnut would wake up at 5 a.m. to help load trucks and lay mulch.
- Despite having the opportunity to enter the transfer portal and play for a larger program, Chestnut chose to remain at FCS-level Sacred Heart because of his relationships at the school and within the program. "Everybody thinks about it," Chestnut said. "But I was like, why would I leave a place where people love me and care about me? If I left, would I get the same love that I get here? I don't think so. The coaches care about me — and I care about them, as well. I've made a lot of good friends here, met a lot of good people, and there are a lot of connections I can make in the outside world from here. So I was like, no — no way I can do that."
- In 2022, Chestnut became the second player from Sacred Heart University to appear in an NFL game, joining former Bills defensive back Jon Corto (2008-10).

- Folk is a dual citizen of both the United States and Germany.
- Folk's mother is a direct descendant of William Bradford, an original Mayflower passenger and governor of Plymouth Colony.
- The Children's Tumor Foundation has a special place in Folk's heart. His cousin, Blake, has neurofibromatosis (NF), a genetic disorder that causes tumors to grow on nerves throughout the body. The term NF represents three distinct disorders: NF1, NF2 and schwannomatosis. For Blake, his NF impacts him most where his optic nerves cross in his brain. He currently has five brain tumors. Though NF affects over 2.5 million people worldwide, it is still relatively unknown in the general public. The Children's Tumor Foundation's MAKE NF VISIBLE campaign brings awareness and inclusion to all NF patients. Those with visible signs of NF struggle to be seen as more than just their NF, while patients whose NF is invisible struggle to make others understand. MAKE NF VISIBLE is about seeing NF, and seeing the person living with it. Learn more at makenfvisible.org.

Hooker played in 66 games in his first five NFL seasons and amassed 245 tackles, seven interceptions and 22 passes defended. He will be relied upon for his defensive leadership and saavy ballhawking ability in the Titans' secondary.

His 37-inch jump ranked fifth among safeties and equaled money for better equipment at his alma mater.

PRO: The Titans signed DeAndre Hopkins as a free agent in the 2023 offseason. The 6-foot-1-inch, 212-pounder brings a veteran presence to a young receiving room and possesses an impressive combination of size, catch radius, a talent to win contested catches and an ability to read defenses. Entering 2024, the four-time All-Pro (first-team 2017-19, second team 2020) and five-time Pro Bowl selection ranks first in receptions (928), first in first down receptions (642), first in receiving yards (12,355) and third in receiving touchdowns (78) since entering the league in 2013. Hopkins was selected with the 27th overall pick in the 2013 NFL Draft out of Clemson and spent his first seven seasons with the Houston Texans before being traded to the Arizona Cardinals in 2020.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In his first 11 seasons, Hopkins established himself as one of the premier receivers in NFL history with 928 receptions for 12,355 yards and 78 touchdowns while starting in 161 games.
- Hopkins is a five-time Pro Bowl selection (2015, 2017-20) and four-time All-Pro selection. Named first team All-Pro in three straight seasons (2017-19) and second team All-Pro in 2020.

58 HAROLD LANDRY III

OUTSIDE LINEBACKER • 6'2" • 252 LBS

COLLEGE: BOSTON COLLEGE • ACQUIRED: 2ND ROUND - 2018

NFL EXPERIENCE (NFL/TITANS): 7/7 • HOMETOWN: SPRING LAKE, N.C.

GAMES PLAYED/GAMES STARTED: 86/67 (PLAYOFFS: 5/5)

PRO BOWL: 2021

PRO: The Titans traded up to select outside linebacker Harold Landry III with the 41st overall pick in the second round of the 2018 NFL Draft. During his first six NFL seasons, Landry totaled a team-leading 41.5 sacks—good for 11th place on the franchise's all-time career sack list. In the organization's "Titans era" (1999—present), his 41.5 sacks through 2023 trailed only Jevon Kearse (52), Jurrell Casey (51) and Derrick Morgan (44.5). Landry's total included 10.5 sacks in 2023 after missing the entire 2022 campaign due to injury. Prior to the injury, he participated in 64 consecutive contests with 52 straight starts. The 6-foot-2-inch, 252-pound Boston College product possesses a unique ability to bend the edge as a pass rusher and use his speed, athleticism and long arms to get to the quarterback. He signed a multi-year contract extension during the 2022 offseason.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2023, Landry played in all 17 games after missing the entire 2022 campaign due to injury. He ranked second on the team with 10.5 sacks, producing his second-best career total (12 sacks in 2021). In doing so, he became the NFL's third veteran player since 1982 to miss an entire NFL season and come back the next year to record at least 10 sacks. The only previous players to do so were a pair of New Orleans Saints: Joe Johnson in 2000 (12 sacks) and Charlie Clemons in 2001 (13.5 sacks). Landry's 14 tackles for loss led the defense and matched his career high.
- In 2021, Landry was named to his first career Pro Bowl after ranking 10th in the NFL and leading the team with career-high 12 sacks. He also led the team with 14 tackles for loss and ranked second on the squad with a career-best 49 quarterback pressures.
- In 2021, Landry posted eight consecutive games with at least a half sack, the longest such streak of his career, joining Jevon Kearse (12 consecutive games from 1999 to 2000) as the franchise's only players to accomplish the feat since individual sacks became an official statistic in 1982.
- In 2020, Landry recorded 16 starts for the second consecutive season. He led the team with 5.5 sacks, a career-high 32 quarterback pressures and a career-high 10 tackles for loss.
- In 2019, Landry started all 16 games and led the team with a career-high nine sacks. He started all three postseason games in 2019 and tallied a team-best eight quarterback pressures.
- In 2018, made his NFL debut and appeared in 15 games on the season. His 4.5 sacks tied for third on the team and his 18 quarterback pressures tied for second.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Landry could have entered the NFL Draft following his 16.5-sack junior season at Boston College. However, he chose to stay in school and received his degree in communications in December 2017.
- Landry enjoys traveling. One of his favorite getaways is Destin, Fla.
- He and his son, Greyson, share the same June 5 birthday.
- Landry's 26 career sacks at Boston College were exceeded in school history by only Mathias Kiwanuka (37.5 from 2002-05).
- In 2016, he set a Boston College record and led the nation with 16.5 sacks. His seven forced fumbles also ranked first nationally.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

8 WILL LEVIS

QUARTERBACK • 6'4" • 229 LBS

COLLEGE: KENTUCKY • ACQUIRED: 2ND ROUND - 2023

NFL EXPERIENCE (NFL/TITANS): 2/2 • HOMETOWN: MADISON, CONN.

GAMES PLAYED/GAMES STARTED: 14/14 (PLAYOFFS: 0/0)

CAPTAIN: 2024

PRO: The Titans selected Will Levis in the second round (33rd overall) of the 2023 NFL Draft. The 6-foot-4-inch, 229-pounder is a strong-armed signal caller that displays leadership under center, accuracy from the pocket and grit as a runner. As a rookie in 2023, Levis took the quarterback reins midway through the season, starting nine games and throwing for 1,808 yards with eight touchdowns for a 84.2 passer rating. A native of Madison, Conn., he spent two seasons at Kentucky, after transferring from Penn State. During his two seasons as the Wildcats' starting signal caller, he directed the program to 17 victories and a pair of bowl appearances. He was the fourth quarterback drafted in 2023 after the Titans traded up in the second round to select him.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In his debut season in 2023, Levis recorded starts in all nine games in which he appeared and his passing totals included 255 attempts, 149 completions, 1,808 yards with eight touchdowns. His 84.2 passer rating was the second best in franchise history by a rookie quarterback, and the number also ranked first in NFL history among second-round quarterbacks in their rookie season (minimum 200 attempts).
- Levis made his first career NFL start against Atlanta (10/29/23) and completed 19 of 29 passes for 238 yards with four touchdowns for a 130.5 passer rating. He became the third player in NFL history to record four touchdown passes in his NFL debut, joining Minnesota's Fran Tarkenton and the Titans' Marcus Mariota. His passer rating of 130.5 was the best in franchise history among qualifying players (minimum 20 attempts) in the first start of a rookie season.
- Levis engineered his first career NFL game-winning drive at Miami (12/11/23), by completing 23 of 38 passes for 327 yards with a touchdown. He got the Titans within one score with a three-yard touchdown toss to DeAndre Hopkins in the fourth quarter and made it a six-point game at 27-21 with a two-point conversion pass to Nick Westbrook-Ikhine in the corner of the end zone in the fourth quarter. Levis then kickstarted the Titans' game-winning touchdown drive with a 36-yard connection to Hopkins late in the final stanza. In the process, Levis became the first NFL rookie quarterback to pass for 300 or more yards on Monday Night Football.
- Levis finished his career with a 17-7 record as a starter at Kentucky, tying Terry Wilson for the second-most quarterback wins since 1993.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Levis comes from a family of athletes. His great grandfather, Alva Kelley, was an All-America football player at Cornell University and won a National Championship in 1939. His mother, Beth Kelley Levis, was a two-time All-America soccer player at Yale and has been inducted into the Connecticut Girls' Soccer Association Hall of Fame. His father, Mike, was a tight end at Denison University. His uncle, David Kelley, also was an Academic All-America football player at Yale.
- Levis has used his platform to make a difference in the community. He set up a Cameo campaign to raise money for flood victims in eastern Kentucky in 2022 and organized an autograph signing with fellow teammates to gather funds for tornado victims in western Kentucky in 2021. He has also volunteered with Amachi, an organization that aims to assist children affected by incarceration.
- The best advice Levis has ever received is "never give up." His grandfather used to end every sentence he ever had with him with those words and it took him a while to realize how meaningful they are, but he now uses it as his personal mantra. It is the impetus behind the tattoo on his arm "2nd Chronicles 15:7." The verse says, "But as for you, stay strong and do not give up, for your effort will be rewarded."

- Levis hosted QBMotion for a LAUNCH Series camp, May 10-11 2024, at Lipscomb Academy in Nashville.
- Levis was a special guest at Special Olympics of Tennessee's Summer Games Opening Ceremonies in 2024. He shook hands, took photos, signed autographs and had conversations with a majority of the athletes participating in the games.

PRO: The Titans signed Kenneth Murray Jr. as an unrestricted free agent early in the 2024 offseason to bring speed, toughness and experience to the inside linebacker position. The 6-foot-2-inch, 241-pounder is a sideline-to-sideline defender with an uncanny knack for finding the ball carrier. The University of Oklahoma product entered the NFL as a first-round pick of the L.A. Chargers in 2020. He spent his first four seasons with the club, appearing in 59 games with 53 starts while amassing 321 tackles, five sacks, two interceptions, 21 stops for loss, 33 quarterback pressures, 10 passes defended and a forced fumble.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2023, Murray tied a career-best with 107 tackles to go along with a career-high three sacks.
- In 2020, Murray was named to the PFWA all-rookie team after leading the Chargers with a franchise rookie record 107 tackles, which was the second highest rookie total in the NFL.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Murray's family adopted three special needs children when he was 10 years old, and he has used his love for them and his family to motivate his success on the gridiron.
