CAROLINA PANTHERS

CAROLINA PANTHERS (1-1) AT NEW ENGLAND PATRIOTS (1-1)

PANTHERS TRAVEL TO NEW ENGLAND FOR FIRST ROAD TEST OF PRESEASON

The Carolina Panthers passed several hurdles in Week 2 of the preseason and now travel to play on the road for the first time when they meet the New England Patriots at Gillette Stadium Friday night. The second week of preseason play brought Carolina's first win, a 28-16 decision over Kansas City, but more importantly brought encouragement about the return to the field of two of their most prominent offensive players.

Quarterback Cam Newton played for the first time since offseason ankle surgery and guided the Panthers to a pair of first half touchdowns and a 14-6 halftime advantage while completing four of nine passes for 65 yards.

"He did the things we needed him to do," says head coach Ron Rivera. "It was his first live action and he was a little antsy and wanted to make some things happen. Once he settled in and started to move you saw him gain confidence and he made plays."

It was running back Jonathan Stewart, whose season started late a year ago with an ankle injury and ended prematurely with a knee injury, who jumpstarted the offense with a 17-yard run and punctuated it with two touchdown runs. He finished with 26 yards and two touchdowns on four rushes and now looks to rejoin the triple backfield threat of DeAngelo Williams and Mike Tolbert.

The Panthers rushing leader was Fozzy Whittaker, a training camp free agent signee who had 71 yards and a touchdown on 13 carries as the Panthers gained 129 yards on the ground against the Chiefs. Still seeking consistency behind a revamped offensive line, the Panthers totaled 279 yards total offense, 278 of which came in the final three quarters.

Equal distribution was the theme for the receivers as nine different players shared 11 receptions, including No. 1 draft choice Kelvin Benjamin and Brenton Bersin, who tied for the team lead with two each.

"The first few series weren't what we hoped to be but we felt we were on the verge," says Rivera. "Then all of a sudden things started to happen and guys started to make plays. We missed some opportunities, but how Cam finished up with is what we're hoping for and we're going to continue to work towards."

The defense also started slower than Rivera would have liked, but steadied itself to limit the Chiefs to two first half field goals. The pass rush that led the NFL in sacks last season exerted itself with a pair of sacks by Luke Kuechly and Star Lotulelei and the run defense stiffened but Rivera is looking for a faster start.

"It's happened to us for two weeks in a row. Eventually we bowed our neck and forced some field goals, but we can't hold on to them," says Rivera. "The hard part is that when you look at it, it's not one guy. It's a group of individuals. One guy on this play, one guy on that play."

In addition to the sacks, the Panthers came up with one take away as linebacker A.J. Klein intercepted a pass and returned it 29 yards to the eight yard line to set up Carolina's final score.

One of Carolina's most effective weapons in the first half was punter Brad Nortman, who averaged 64.0 yards with a net of 48.3 yards on his three first half punts. Kicker Graham Gano also returned after missing the opening game with a sore back.

"There was a lot to be encouraged about with the performance against Kansas City, but also a lot of areas that we need to work on," says Rivera. "The Chiefs were a playoff team from a year ago and we are facing another playoff team this week in the Patriots. It will also be our first road game so we will be going through a different routine on a short week."

DUAL-THREAT QUARTERBACK

In three full seasons, quarterback Cam Newton has totaled 92 touchdowns, passing for 64 and rushing for 28. Newton is the only player in NFL history with 50-plus passing touchdowns and 25-plus rushing touchdowns in a three-season span at any point in a career.

His 92 total touchdowns are the second-most in NFL history in a player's first three seasons.

MOST TOTAL TOUCHDOWNS / FIRST THREE SEASONS

Player	Total TDs	Pass TDs	Rush TDs
Dan Marino	100	98	2
Cam Newton	92	64	28
Peyton Manning	88	85	3
Andy Dalton	87	80	7
Jeff Garcia	85	74	11

Newton has used his legs and right arm to produce 13,331 combined rushing and passing yards, the most in NFL history through a player's first three seasons. Newton is the first player in NFL history to have 10,000 passing and 2,000 rushing yards in his first four seasons (accomplished in three seasons).

THIS WEEK IN THE NFC SOUTH

THE SERIES

The Panthers travel to New England for the first road game of the 2014 preseason. The game marks the seventh preseason meeting between the teams. The teams met in the preseason for four consecutive years between 1999-2002 and again in 2004 and 2007. The game is a rematch of last season's Monday Night Football contest that came down to the final play as the Panthers earned a 24-20 victory. The Panthers and Patriots have met six times in the regular season and playoffs, including in Super Bowl XXXVIII.

THE HEAD COACHES

Ron RIVERA

NFL: 18th season
Panthers: 4th season
Regular Season: 25-23 (.521)
Postseason: 0-1 (.000)

Ron Rivera became the fourth coach in Carolina Panthers history on January 11, 2011. In 2013, his third year with the Panthers, Rivera led Carolina to 12 wins, the NFC South division title and the first playoff appearance since 2008. After starting the season with a 1-3 record, the Panthers won 11 of their final 12 regular season games – including a franchise record eight-game winning streak – to secure the No. 2 seed in the NFC and a first-round bye. In recognition of that success, Rivera was named NFL Coach of the Year.

Carolina's record has improved every season since Rivera became head coach in 2011. Dating back to Week 12 of the 2012 season, the Panthers have won 17 of their last 22 regular season games.

Before joining the Panthers, Rivera worked with the San Diego Chargers from 2007-2010, coaching inside linebackers before taking over as defensive coordinator midway through the 2008 season. In 2010, San Diego led the NFL with an average of 271.6 total yards allowed per game and gave up a League-low 177.8 passing yards per game.

From 2004-06, Rivera oversaw the Chicago Bears defense, guiding the unit to two top-five finishes in the league. In 2006, the Bears defense led the NFL with 44 takeaways and finished fifth in total defense and third in scoring defense, helping propel Chicago to an appearance in Super Bowl XLI. In 2005, Rivera's defensive unit ranked second in the NFL in total defense and first in scoring defense. The Bears went 43 consecutive quarters without allowing more than seven points – the longest streak in the NFL since 1969.

Prior to serving as defensive coordinator with the Bears, Rivera was linebackers coach for the Eagles (1999-2003) and defensive quality control coach for the Bears (1997-98).

A second-round draft choice in 1984 by Chicago, Rivera played nine seasons with the Bears. Primarily an outside linebacker, he was a member of the Super Bowl XX championship team in 1985.

An All-American at the University of California, Rivera finished his career as the school's all-time leader in sacks with 22 and tackles with 336.

Born January 7, 1962 in Fort Ord, Calif. He and his wife, Stephanie, have two children – Christopher and Courtney.

Bill BELICHICK

NFL: 40th season
Patriots: 15th season
Regular Season: 199-105 (.655)
Postseason: 19-9 (.679)

Bill Belichick is in his 40th season as an NFL coach and is the only head coach in NFL history to win three Super Bowl titles in a four-year span. Belichick leads all active head coaches and is currently ranked fifth on the NFL's all-time list with 218 total victories. He is the eighth NFL coach to reach 200 career wins.

Belichick is in his 15th season as New England's head coach. Through 14 seasons, Belichick has delivered three Super Bowl championships, five conference titles, 11 division crowns and 18 playoff victories.

Belichick directed the Patriots to victories in Super Bowls XXXVI (2001), XXXVIII (2003) and XXXIX (2004), and in 2007 he became the first NFL head coach to guide his team to a 16-0 regular season. Only one coach (Pittsburgh's Chuck Noll, 4) has won more Super Bowls than Belichick, and his three Super Bowl titles tie Washington's Joe Gibbs and San Francisco's Bill Walsh for second place on the NFL's all-time list.

Belichick launched his coaching career in 1975 with the Baltimore Colts and continued as an assistant coach with Detroit (1976-77), Denver (1978) and the New York Giants (1979-90). Belichick was named head coach of the Cleveland Browns in 1991, becoming the youngest head coach in the NFL at age 38. By 1994, Belichick's Browns advanced to the second round of the playoffs. In 1996, Belichick joined New England and was a key contributor to the Patriots first division title in 10 years en route to an appearance in Super Bowl XXXI. He then spent three seasons with the New York Jets from 1997 to 1999.

Belichick was a center/tight end at Wesleyan 1971-74. He was born April 16, 1952 in Nashville, Tenn.

OPPONENT NOTES

In addition to home and away games against NFC South foes Atlanta, New Orleans and Tampa Bay, Carolina will play all four teams from both the NFC North and AFC North in 2014. The Panthers' remaining two 2014 intraconference opponents are based on the 2013 standings. Carolina will host Seattle and play at Philadelphia since all three teams finished first in their respective divisions.

2014 OPPONENTS

Cleveland Browns (4-12)	Baltimore Ravens (8-8)
Pittsburgh Steelers (8-8)	Cincinnati Bengals (11-5)
Seattle Seahawks (13-3)	Philadelphia Eagles (10-6)

Following are a few notes on Carolina's 2014 opponents:
- The Panthers will play nine games against teams that finished the year with a .500 or better record, including six contests against opponents who made the playoffs during the 2013 campaign.
- Carolina is tied with San Francisco for the 17th-toughest strength of schedule (.494) based on 2013 records. The Panthers had the toughest strength of schedule (.543) entering the 2013 season.
- The Panthers have compiled a 12-12 regular season record versus the NFC North since division realignment in 2002.
- The game against Minnesota will be played outdoors at the University of Minnesota's TCF Bank Stadium while the Vikings' new stadium is under construction.
- Carolina will host the Seahawks for the third consecutive year. It will mark the teams' fourth meeting in the last five years after they only played three times in the franchise's first 15 seasons.
- The Panthers own a 5-7 all-time record against the AFC North.
- The Panthers play 14 of their 16 games outdoors in 2014.

KEY PLAYER ACQUISITIONS

WR   JASON AVANT — FA '14

Avant spent the first eight seasons (2006-13) of his career with the Philadelphia Eagles. Including the playoffs, Avant has converted 81 of 94 career third down catches for first downs. Avant produced three consecutive seasons of 50-plus catches from 2010-12.

CB   ANTOINE CASON — UFA '14 (ARI)

A first-round draft choice of the Chargers in 2008, Cason has not missed a game in his six NFL seasons — a streak of 96 games, tied for the third-longest active streak among NFL cornerbacks. He is just one of five active NFL players with multiple interceptions in each of his first six seasons, joining Champ Bailey, DeAngelo Hall, Leon Hall and Aqib Talib.

WR   JERRICHO COTCHERY — UFA '14 (PIT)

A former record-setting receiver at NC State, Cotchery returned to North Carolina when he signed with the Panthers in March. Cotchery joined the Panthers after three seasons (2011-13) with the Pittsburgh Steelers and seven seasons (2004-10) with New York Jets. In 2013, Cotchery led the Steelers with a career-high 10 touchdowns. He posted back-to-back seasons of 82 catches in 2006 and 2007 with the Jets, tallying more than 1,000 receiving yards in 2007.

S   THOMAS DECOUD — FA '14

DeCoud played six seasons (2008-13) with the Atlanta Falcons. He has started all but one of the 83 regular season and playoff contests he played since the beginning of 2009. DeCoud earned a Pro Bowl selection in 2012 after leading the Falcons with a career-high six interceptions. DeCoud totaled more than 100 stops in three consecutive seasons from 2009-11, including a career-high 113 in 2009 and 2010.

TE   ED DICKSON — UFA '14 (BAL)

Dickson joined the Panthers after spending the first four seasons (2010-13) of his career with Baltimore. Dickson's best season came in 2011 when he posted career highs in starts (16), receptions (54), receiving yards (528) and touchdowns (five). He won a Super Bowl ring with the Ravens after the 2012 season.

S   ROMAN HARPER — FA '14

A two-time Pro Bowl selection (2009, 2010), Harper played the first eight seasons (2006-13) of his career with the New Orleans Saints. Since being drafted by the Saints in the second round of the 2006 NFL Draft out of Alabama, Harper has started 104 of 108 regular season games played. His 17 sacks since 2006 are the most among NFL defensive backs during that time. He earned a Super Bowl ring with the Saints in Super Bowl XLIV.

WR   TIQUAN UNDERWOOD — UFA '14 (TB)

Underwood spent the last two seasons (2012-13) with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. He previously played for the Jacksonville Jaguars (2009-10) and New England Patriots (2011). In 2013, he set career-highs in receiving yards (440), average per catch (18.3 yards) and touchdowns (four). Underwood averaged 40.0-yards per touchdown reception, with three of the four touchdowns coming from 20 or more yards.

2014 NFL DRAFT CHOICES

DT   KELVIN BENJAMIN
       D1 '14 (28)

As a senior in 2013, Benjamin earned second-team All-ACC honors and led the national champion Seminoles with 1,011 receiving yards and 15 touchdowns on 54 receptions. The 15 touchdowns ranked third in the nation, tying the school record. In his final four games, Benjamin caught 21 passes for a 21-yard average. In his final regular season game at rival Florida, Benjamin recorded career highs with nine catches, 212 receiving yards and three touchdowns. In the BCS National Championship game against Auburn, Benjamin scored the game-winning touchdown on a two-yard reception with 13 seconds left. In two seasons at Florida State (2012-13), Benjamin totaled 84 receptions for 1,506 yards and 19 touchdowns.

DE   KONY EALY, MISSOURI
       D2 '14 (60)

Ealy earned first-team All-Southeastern Conference honors as a junior in 2013, ranking second on the Tigers with 9.5 sacks and 14.5 tackles for loss while leading the team with 14 quarterback pressures — the second most in school history. In three seasons (2011-13) at Missouri, Ealy produced 93 tackles, 27.5 tackles for loss, 14 sacks, 19 quarterback pressures, four forced fumbles, one fumble recovery, one interception for a touchdown and 13 passes defensed.

G   TRAI TURNER, LOUISIANA STATE
      D3 '14 (92)

Turner played in 25 games with 20 starts at right guard for the Tigers before entering the NFL following his sophomore season. In two seasons, Turner delivered 115 knockdowns and 29 touchdown-resulting blocks while surrendering just three sacks. In his final season, Turner earned second-team All-SEC honors, leading the conference with 21 touchdown-resulting blocks and ranking first on the team with 64 knockdowns. Turner allowed only one sack and opened holes for the Tigers to rush for 2,630 yards and a school-record 37 touchdowns while providing protection for an offense that passed for 3,263 yards — the third most in school history.

S   TRE BOSTON, NORTH CAROLINA
      D4 '14 (128)

In four seasons (2010-13) with the Tar Heels, Boston led or tied for the team lead in interceptions in three of them and twice paced the team in tackles. Boston played in 48 games with 40 starts — 31 starts at safety and nine at cornerback — finishing his career third in school history with 13 interceptions. In 2013, Boston was a second-team All-ACC choice, starting 13 games at safety and leading UNC with 94 tackles, five interceptions and 13 passes defensed.

CB   BENÈ BENWIKERE, SAN JOSE STATE
       D5 '14 (148)

Benwikere was a two-time all-conference selection and twice led San Jose State in interceptions. He finished his career tied for first in school history with 14 interceptions. As a junior in 2012, he tied for second in the nation with seven interceptions and matched a school record with three interceptions, all in the second half, against Louisiana Tech.

This offseason, Bank of America Stadium underwent its first major renovation. The project included the installation of escalators, two ribbon boards that encircle the entire stadium bowl and two new high-definition video boards located above each end zone.

2014 PRESEASON OPPONENTS

A nationally-televised game against the Kansas City Chiefs highlights the Carolina Panthers 2014 preseason schedule. The Panthers play the Chiefs on Sunday, Aug. 17 at 8 p.m. on FOX. The game is the second of two home games to open preseason play. The Panthers host Buffalo on Friday, Aug. 8 and travel to New England on Friday, Aug. 22 and Pittsburgh on Thursday, Aug. 28. The Panthers are 36-41 in the preseason. Carolina finished at least .500 in the preseason in each of its five playoff seasons, including a 3-1 mark last year.

Preseason Game 1: vs. Buffalo Bills
Friday, August 8, 7:30 p.m.

The Panthers open the 2014 preseason with a home game against the Buffalo Bills. The game will mark the fourth preseason meeting between the teams. The teams played preseason contests against each other in 1996, 1998 and 2006. The teams met during the 2013 regular season with the Bills earning a 24-23 victory.

Preseason Game 2: vs. Kansas City Chiefs
Sunday, August 17, 8 p.m.

The preseason continues for the Panthers with a second consecutive home game, taking on the Kansas City Chiefs in a game televised nationally on FOX. The Panthers and Chiefs have met just once previously in the preseason with the Chiefs earning a 30-10 victory in 1997.

Preseason Game 3: at New England Patriots
Friday, August 22, 7:30 p.m.

The Panthers travel to New England for the first road game of the 2014 preseason on Aug. 22. The game marks the seventh preseason meeting between the teams. The teams met in the preseason for four consecutive years between 1999-2002 and again in 2004 and 2007. The game is a rematch of last season's Monday Night Football contest that came down to the final play as the Panthers earned a 24-20 victory.

Preseason Game 4: vs. Pittsburgh Steelers
Thursday, August 29, 7:30 p.m.

The Panthers will conclude the 2014 preseason with a road game against the Pittsburgh Steelers, the Panthers most common preseason opponent. The Panthers and Steelers will match up for the 12th consecutive year in the finale and 16th time in 20 seasons overall. The only preseasons they haven't played are 1995, 1996, 2001 and 2002. Pittsburgh leads the preseason series 10-5.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR IN 2014

- These players can reach the 100 career games played milestone in 2014: Antoine Cason (96 games), Colin Cole (99 games), Thomas DeCoud (89), Charles Johnson (93), Ryan Kalil (87), Mike Tolbert (91), and DeAngelo Williams (96).
- If running back DeAngelo Williams plays all 16 games in 2014, he will reach 127 games played, ninth-most in Panthers history. Williams can move into the top 10 by playing 12 games.
- With 13 games played in 2014, center Ryan Kalil would become the third offensive lineman in team history to play in 100 career games.
- With 16 starts in 2014, center Ryan Kalil and linebacker Thomas Davis would be the ninth and 10th players in Panthers history to start in 100 career games.
- With 178 tackles linebacker Luke Kuechly will pass Chris Gamble (558 from 2004-12) for third most in Panthers history.
- Quarterback Cam Newton can pass Steve Beuerlein (1996-2000) for second all-time in passing attempts, completions and passing touchdowns. Newton needs 249 attempts, 160 completions and 23 touchdowns to pass Beuerlein (1,723; 1,041;, 86) in those categories.
- With 54 rushing yards, Cam Newton can pass Stephen Davis (2,085 from 2003-05) for fifth all-time in Panthers history. Newton needs 499 rushing yards to pass Tshimanga Biakabutuka (2,530 from 1996-2001) for fourth all-time.
- With two interceptions, cornerback Antoine Cason would become one of three active players with multiple interceptions in each of their first seven seasons, joining Champ Bailey and DeAngelo Hall.
- With three interceptions, safety Charles Godfrey (11) can tie Doug Evans and Richard Marshall (14) for the fifth-most interceptions in team history.
- With 349 receiving yards tight end Greg Olsen will pass Brandon LaFell (2,385 from 2010-13) and Mark Carrier (2,547 from 1995-98) for fourth all-time in team history.
- With two sacks, defensive end Charles Johnson will pass Mike Rucker (55.5 from 1999-2007) for the second-most in team history.
- With 10 sacks this season, defensive end Charles Johnson would become the second player in team history with double-digit sacks in four or more seasons (Julius Peppers).
- With 10 sacks this season, defensive end Greg Hardy can become the fourth player in team history with double-digit sacks in three or more seasons.

Ryan Kalil can become the third offensive lineman in team history to play in 100 games if he plays in 13 games in 2014.

RIVERA & KUECHLY TAKE HOME NFL HONORS IN 2013

In February, Ron Rivera was selected as 2013 NFL Coach of the Year, and linebacker Luke Kuechly won 2013 NFL Defensive Player of the Year. The honors were presented by the Associated Press and determined by a vote of 50 media members who cover the NFL.

Rivera received 21.5 votes. Kansas City Chiefs coach Andy Reid finished second with 13.5 votes. He is the second coach in Panthers history to earn the award, joining Dom Capers who won in 1996.

Rivera previously was named NFL Coach of the Year by the Professional Football Writers of America, Sporting News and CBSSports.com. He was named NFC Coach of the Year by the NFL 101 Awards. On January 28, he signed a three-year contract extension through the 2017 season.

In his third year with the Panthers, Rivera led Carolina to 12 wins, the NFC South division title and their first playoff appearance since 2008. After starting the season with a 1-3 record, the Panthers won 11 of their final 12 regular season games – including a franchise record eight-game winning streak – to secure the No. 2 seed in the NFC and a first-round bye.

Carolina's record has improved every season since Rivera took over a team that went 2-14 in 2010, with the Panthers going 6-10 in his first year, 7-9 in 2012 and 12-4 in 2013. Dating back to Week 12 of the 2012 season, the Panthers have won 17 of their last 22 regular season games.

Kuechly, who received 13 votes to edge Robert Mathis of the Indianapolis Colts by 1.5 votes, has played a pivotal part in the Panthers' turnaround. He took over leadership of the defense midway through his rookie season in 2012 and has performed like a veteran in that role since Day One, being described by Rivera as the quarterback of the defense.

With Kuechly captaining the unit, the Panthers ranked second in the NFL in total and scoring defense in 2013, allowing 301.2 yards and 15.1 points per game.

Kuechly was named NFL Rookie of the Year after leading the Panthers with a franchise record 205 tackles in 2012. He led the Panthers again in 2013 with 176 stops and tied for the team lead with four interceptions. He is the first Panther to be named AP Defensive Player of the Year.

In the two seasons (2012-13) since Kuechly arrived in Carolina, he has helped the team rank fifth in the NFL in total defense (317.2 yards per game), fourth in rushing defense (98.5) and ninth in passing defense (218.7). That is a marked improvement from the defense's standings during the two seasons (2010-11) prior to Kuechly's arrival as the Panthers ranked 24th in total defense (356.8), 24th in rushing defense (127.3) and 18th in passing defense (229.4).

PRO BOWL PANTHERS

The Carolina Panthers were well represented at the 2014 Pro Bowl as seven players appeared in the game and the Panthers coaching staff coached "Team Rice," captained by Hall of Fame Receiver Jerry Rice.

The seven players selected for the game – quarterback Cam Newton, fullback Mike Tolbert, center Ryan Kalil, tackle Jordan Gross, middle linebacker Luke Kuechly, defensive end Greg Hardy and long snapper J.J. Jansen – tied for the most Panthers in the game, previously accomplished in 1996.

Newton, Tolbert, Kalil, Kuechly and Hardy were selected to the Pro Bowl when balloting results were initially released. Gross played in the game as an alternate, replacing San Francisco's Joe Staley, and Jansen was added by the Indianapolis Colts coaching staff, coaching "Team Sanders," as a need player.

These were the first Pro Bowl selections for Tolbert, Kuechly, Hardy and Jansen.

Team Rice defeated Team Sanders 22-21 after Tolbert scored a 2-point conversion on a rush with 41 seconds remaining in the game.

Contributions from Newton, Tolbert, Kalil and Gross allowed the Panthers offense to rank 11th in the NFL in rushing yards per game (126.6 yards per game), fourth in third down conversion percentage (43.8 percent), fifth in time of possession (31:54), third in fewest three-and-out drives (36) and seventh in red zone offense (58.0 touchdown percentage).

Newton made his second career Pro Bowl appearance after playing in the game as a rookie in 2011. In 2013, he established career highs in completion percentage (61.7 percent), passing touchdowns (24) and passer rating (88.8). He added six rushing touchdowns.

Tolbert earned a Pro Bowl selection by totaling seven touchdowns (five rushing and two receiving). Thirty-one of Tolbert's 101 carries resulted in first downs and his 30.7 first down percentage is the top mark in the NFL among running backs and fullbacks.

Kalil, the Panthers 2013 Ed Block Courage Award winner, was selected to his fourth career Pro Bowl after starting all 16 games this season. Kalil was selected to three consecutive Pro Bowls from 2009-11 before missing the final 11 games of 2012 with a Lisfranc injury.

Gross earned his third Pro Bowl appearance after joining Kalil as the only Panthers offensive linemen to start all 16 games in 2013. He is the Panthers all-time leader in games started with 167.

Defensively, the Panthers ranked second in the NFL in points allowed (15.1 points per game) and in total yards allowed (301.3). Kuechly started all 16 games for the Panthers and Hardy started 13 of 16 games played.

The 2013 AP NFL Defensive Player of the Year, Kuechly led the Panthers in tackles with 176, including two sacks, and tied for the team lead with a career-high four interceptions.

Hardy led the Panthers with a career-high 15 sacks, tying Kevin Greene's franchise record set in 1998. The Panthers finished the season with 60 total sacks, tying the team record set in 1996.

Jansen was part of a record-setting Panthers special teams unit in 2013 as he snapped for kicker Graham Gano to lead the NFL and set a Panthers record with six field goals from 50-yards or more and for punter Brad Nortman to set team records in gross average and net average. In five seasons, Jansen has been successful on 701-of-702 snaps (including the postseason), 99.9 percent.

Carolina Panthers fullback Mike Tolbert, of Team Rice, celebrates his 2-point conversion late in the fourth quarter of the NFL Pro Bowl football game.

FAMILY TIES

The Panthers coaching staff includes two members – Mike Shula and Sam Mills III – whose fathers are prominent football figures.

Mike Shula

Shula, the Panthers offensive coordinator, is the son of Don Shula, the NFL leader in career coaching victories with 347. Don Shula led the Miami Dolphins to two Super Bowl victories, including a perfect 17-0 season in 1972. "He's an unbelievable sounding board," Mike said of his father, now 84. "Whenever I've had to ask tough questions, I've always gone to him first because he's not going to give me the answer that I want to hear – he's going to give me the answer that I need to hear."

Sam Mills, III

The Panthers assistant defensive line coach, Mills, is the son of former Panthers linebacker and linebackers coach Sam Mills, Jr., who lost an inspiring battle with cancer six years ago. A starting linebacker on the Panthers inaugural team in 1995, Sam Mills, Jr., propelled the Panthers to their first victory with an interception return for a touchdown against the New York Jets (10/15/95) and he is the only player in the team's Hall of Honor. He was a member of the team's coaching staff from 1998-2004. "It's an honor, especially around here with how he was able to touch people's lives," Mills III, said. "I hope that I can live up to it."

RODGERS AND "THE PLAY"

Richard Rodgers

Richard Rodgers is the Panthers special teams coordinator. More than thirty years ago, Rodgers was part of one of the most famous plays in college football history – "The Play"

The improbable five-lateral kickoff return for a touchdown allowed Rodgers' California Golden Bears to defeat the John Elway-led Stanford Cardinal on the final play of the game between the two rivals in 1982.

In addition to featuring five laterals, "The Play" also included an appearance by members of the Stanford band, who thinking the play had been blown dead, entered he field of play midway through the return. Cal radio play-by-play announcer Joe Starkey called the return "the most amazing, sensational, dramatic, heart-rending...exciting, thrilling finish in the history of college football."

In his 25 years of coaching, "The Play" has served Rodgers well.

"Since then I've been able to call on The Play as a tool of learning for players that I coach – never give up, never quit, you never know when you're going to make history," said Rodgers. "I certainly didn't know that Saturday morning The Play was going to happen. That's why you keep playing."

A FAMILIAR FACE

Ricky Proehl

Ricky Proehl spent 17 seasons as an NFL player, including three with the Carolina Panthers from 2003-05. In 2014, Proehl enters his fourth season as a member of the coaching staff, serving as wide receivers coach for the second consecutive season.

In his career, Proehl played in 244 games with 110 starts for Phoenix/Arizona, St. Louis, Seattle, Chicago, Carolina and Indianapolis. Proehl was a member of four Super Bowl teams, including championship teams with the Rams and Colts. He finished his career with 669 catches for 8,878 yards and 54 touchdowns.

Proehl caught a touchdown from 16 different players, second-most in NFL history behind Irving Fryar (19).

Erik Kramer	7	John Friesz	1
Timm Rosenbach	4	Stan Gelbaugh	1
Chris Chandler	3	Rick Mirer	1
Trent Green	3	Tom Tupa	1
Steve Bono	2	Chris Weinke	1

In three seasons with the Panthers, Proehl tallied 86 catches for 1,327 yards and eight touchdowns and was a member of two playoff teams. He is responsible for one of the most well-known plays in franchise history when in the 2003 season opener vs. Jacksonville, his first game with Carolina, Proehl caught a 12-yard touchdown on fourth down with 16 seconds left to cap a come-from-behind win and propel the Panthers on their Super Bowl run.

WILKS AT HOME IN CHARLOTTE

Steven Wilks

When Steve Wilks was hired as secondary/pass defense coordinator prior to the 2012 season, it was a homecoming for the Charlotte native.

In the 1980s Wilks starred at quarterback for West Charlotte and played collegiately at Appalachian State before spending one season with the Charlotte Rage of the Arena Football League in 1993. He began his coaching career at Johnson C. Smith University in 1995.

Following 11 years coaching on the college level, Wilks entered the NFL coaching ranks in 2006 when he joined Panthers head coach Ron Rivera in Chicago. With Rivera serving as defensive coordinator and Wilks leading the Bears secondary, Chicago won the NFC Championship and advanced to Super Bowl XLI. The two reunited in 2010 in San Diego, helping the Chargers lead the NFL in total defense and pass defense.

Wilks has been an important part of the Panthers coaching staff. Last season, Wilks directed a unit that helped the Panthers finish second in the NFL in total defense and sixth in passing defense. Defensive backs were responsible for 16 of the team's 20 interceptions, including a team-record four returned for touchdowns. Carolina also limited opponents to an 81.4 passer rating, which ranked 10th in the NFL.

Wilks (9) played quarterback at West Charlotte.

Wilks' secondary received signifi cant contributions from rookies and veterans alike.

Undrafted rookie cornerback Melvin White started the last 10 games and posted two interceptions with one touchdown, while safety Robert Lester, another undrafted rookie, tallied three interceptions. Mike Mitchell, who started 14 games at free safety after a season-ending injury to Charles Godfrey, was one of two players in the NFL with at least four interceptions, three sacks and two forced fumbles, and cornerback Captain Munnerlyn returned his only two interceptions for touchdowns.

STREAKING

After beginning the 2013 season 1-3, the Carolina Panthers finished with a 12-4 record, winning eight consecutive games from Week Six at Minneosota (10/13/13) to Week Thirteen vs. Tampa Bay (12/1/13). The eight-game streak is a franchise record for consecutive regular season victories. Counting the playoffs, the 1996 team won eight consecutive contests.

During the win streak, the Panthers won all four games played in November, going undefeated during the month for the first time in franchise history.

AGGRESSIVE ON FOURTH AND SHORT

The Panthers offense saw success on fourth downs during the 2013 regular season, converting 10-of-13 fourth down opportunities. On fourth-and-short attempts (less than four yards) the Panthers converted 8-of-10. On fourth-and-1 the Panthers were eight-of-nine and scored touchddowns on four of those conversions:

Week Three vs. New York Giants (9/22/13): Mike Tolbert scores a 2-yard rushing touchdown to give the Panthers a 7-0 lead in the first quarter.

Week Six at Minnesota (10/13/13): Cam Newton throws a 2-yard touchdown pass to Steve Smith for a 7-0 lead on the Panthers first drive of the game.

Week Nine vs. Atlanta (11/3/13): With 4:14 left in the second quarter, the Panthers run a play-action pass from the Falcons 14-yard line and Newton finds tight end Greg Olsen who was left uncovered. The Panthers take a 14-3 lead.

Week Thirteen vs. Tampa Bay (12/1/13): With 30 seconds left in the second quarter, quarterback Cam Newton dives over his offensive line and extends the ball across the goal line for a touchdown to take a 17-6 lead just before the half.

MAINTAINING CONTROL

The Panthers offense controlled the ball in 2013, ranking fifth in the NFL in time of possession, second in drives of 5-plus minutes and tied for seventh in 10-play drives.

The Panthers averaged a team-record 31:54 time of possession per game, bettering the previous mark of 30:48 in 1996.

WILLIAMS GETS TOP BILLING

DeAngelo Williams

Running back DeAngelo Williams led the Panthers in 2013 with 843 rushing yards, his highest rushing total since the 1,117 he gained in 2009. Williams added a career-high 333 receiving yards to lead the Panthers with a combined 1,176 total yards from scrimmage.

Williams totaled four touchdowns (three rushing, one receiving) in 2013 and now has 53 total touchdowns in his career (46 rushing, seven receiving), passing wide receiver Muhsin Muhammad (50 receiving) for the second-most touchdowns in team history.

Williams' production is evident throughout the Panthers record books.

A first-round draft choice (27th overall) out of Memphis in 2006, Williams is the Panthers all-time leader with 6,627 rushing yards, 1,370 rushing attempts, 46 rushing touchdowns, 4.84-yard average rushing gain (minimum 500 carries) and 18 games with 100 or more rushing yards. He also holds the team's single-game rushing mark with 210 yards at New Orleans (12/30/12).

Williams earned a Pro Bowl selection in 2009 after rushing for 1,117 yards and becoming the first player in team history to record back-to-back 1,000-yard rushing seasons, gaining a team-record 1,515 yards in 2008.

Williams' career 4.84-yards per carry average (6,627 yards on 1,370 attempts) is 12th in NFL history among players with a minimum of 750 attempts.

OLSEN LEADS THE WAY AT TIGHT END

Tight end Greg Olsen led the Panthers in receiving with 73 receptions, 816 yards and six touchdowns in 2013. This season marked the first time since 1997 that a wide receiver did not lead the team in receptions or receiving yards. Tight end Wesley Walls led the Panthers in receptions (58) and receiving yards (746) that season.

Olsen's 73 receptions in 2013 are a career-high and tight end record for the Panthers, surpassing his own 69 in 2012. The 816 yards are the third-most by a tight end in team history and the six touchdowns are tied for third-most by a tight end in team history.

2013 marked the fifth time in the past six seasons that Olsen has registered at least 500 yards receiving. It is the fourth 50-catch season of his career.

Since entering the NFL in 2007, Olsen ranks among the top 10 players at his position in receptions (sixth – 381), receiving yards (eighth – 4,180) and receiving touchdowns (eighth – 36).

Tight end Greg Olsen catches a touchdown pass vs. New England (11/18/13). The touchdown catch was one of Olsen's team-leading six on the season.

OLSEN A CONSISTENT PRESENCE

Tight end Greg Olsen has been a consistent presence in NFL line-ups since his rookie year in 2007. Olsen has played in 110 consecutive regular season games, the second-longest streak among active tight ends behind Dallas' Jason Witten (171).

A first-round choice (31st overall) by Chicago in 2007, Olsen missed the first two games of that season with a knee injury sustained in the preseason. He made his NFL debut vs. Dallas (9/23/07) and has not missed a game since.

ALL-PRO YEAR FOR TOLBERT

Fullback Mike Tolbert earned his first Pro Bowl selection and first-team All-Pro honors in 2013 after leading the Panthers with seven total touchdowns (five rushing, two receiving).

Thirty-one of Tolbert's 101 carries resulted in first downs and his 30.7 first down percentage is the top mark in the NFL among running backs and fullbacks with at least 100 carries. Tolbert finished the season with 361 rushing yards and 184 receiving yards.

Tolbert has made a habit of finding the end zone in his career. His five rushing touchdowns in 2013 gave him 31 since 2010, sixth-most in the NFL during that time.

COTCHERY RETURNS TO CAROLINAS

Wide receiver Jerricho Cotchery returned to North Carolina when he signed with the Panthers in March. A former record-setting receiver at North Carolina State University, Cotchery joined the Panthers after three seasons (2011-13) with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

In 2013, Cotchery led the Steelers with a career-high 10 touchdowns, all of which came in the red zone, including eight in the last nine games. His 10 touchdowns tied for 10th in the NFL. Cotchery finished the season with 46 catches for 602 yards and tied for fourth in the NFL with 78.3 percent of his receptions resulting in first downs.

Cotchery began his career with the New York Jets, playing seven seasons (2004-10) with the team. For his career, Cotchery has played in 146 regular season games with 73 starts, totaling 437 catches, 5,558 yards and 30 touchdowns. He posted back-to-back seasons of 82 catches in 2006 and 2007 with the Jets, tallying more than 1,000 receiving yards in 2007. Cotchery has played in 10 postseason games with five starts, making an appearance in the AFC Championship game in back-to-back seasons in 2009 and 2010.

Jerricho Cotchery joins the Panthers in 2014 after setting a career-high with 10 touchdowns with Pittsburgh last season.

CHANDLER STEPS UP

The Panthers were forced to shuffle the offensive line during the 2013 season after losing guards Garry Williams and Amini Silatolu to injuries in the first five weeks. Matters were made worse when Chris Scott, who replaced Williams in the lineup, and backup guard Jeff Byers went down late in the first half of the Week Nine game vs. Atlanta (11/3/13).

Nate Chandler, who played along the defensive line as a rookie in 2012, was the next man up. Chandler had moved over to offensive tackle during the offseason and had played a handful of snaps as an extra offensive linemen in short-yardage situations.

Despite having never played guard prior to that game, Chandler stepped into the lineup, starting the final eight weeks of the regular season. Chandler helped the Panthers finish the season ranked 11th in the NFL in rushing, averaging 126.6 yards per game.

Chandler did have some experience working on the offensive side of the ball prior to this season. He began his college career at UCLA in 2008 as an offensive lineman and tight end before moving to the defensive line as a junior in 2010.

Offensive lineman Nate Chandler started eight games for the Panthers in 2013 after playing in 10 games as a defensive lineman as a rookie in 2012.

In Week Thirteen vs. Tampa Bay (12/1/13), Newton passed Collins (1,340 from 1995-98) for the third-most pass attempts in team history.

Newton's 59.80 career completion percentage (882-of-1,475) ranks second in Panthers history behind Steve Beuerlein's 60.41 percentage (1,041-of-1,723) from 1996-2000.

Cam Newton threw for 223 yards in Week Three vs. the New York Giants (9/22/13), moving into third place on the Panthers all-time passing yards list.

NEWTON SETS PASSER RATING HIGH

Quarterback Cam Newton produced a career-high 88.8 passer rating in 2013. Two of Newton's top three games in passer rating came this season, including his career high 143.4 in the Panthers 35-10 victory in Week Six at Minnesota (10/13/13). Against Minnesota, Newton completed 20-of-26 passes for 242 yards and three touchdowns, bettering his previous high of 142.4 established vs. Tampa Bay (12/24/11).

Newton's three touchdown passes tied his career high, previously accomplished four times, most recently vs. the New York Giants (9/22/13).

Newton produced a 136.3 passer rating in Week Seven vs. St. Louis (10/20/13), the third-highest rating of his career.

Newton is the first player in NFL history to have 10,000 passing and 2,000 rushing yards in his first four seasons (accomplished in three seasons).

Newton displayed his dual-threat abilities in Week Six at Minnesota (10/13/13) as he threw three touchdown passes and rushed for another. Since entering the NFL in 2011, Newton has three games with at least three passing touchdowns and a rushing touchdown. He joins Daunte Culpepper as the only players in the Super Bowl era to have three such games in their first three seasons.

NEWTON RUSHES INTO THE END ZONE

In Week Thirteen vs. Tampa Bay (12/1/13), quarterback Cam Newton scored his sixth rushing touchdown of 2013, and the 28th of his career.

Newton has made a habit of finding the end zone with his legs as his 28 career rushing touchdowns are the most by a quarterback through his first three seasons in NFL history. The previous mark was held by New England's Steve Grogan who rushed for 16 touchdowns from 1975-77.

BOTTLING UP THE RUN

The Panthers were strong against the run in 2013, setting team records for fewest rushing yards allowed (1,391) and fewest rushing touchdowns allowed (four).

The strong play against the run dates to the end of the 2012 season as the Panthers have allowed just one 100-yard rusher and five rushing touchdowns since Week 14 of 2012. Starting running backs are averaging 43.00 rushing yards against the Panthers during that time.

Buffalo's C.J. Spiller ran for 103 yards in Week Two of 2013. Prior to that, Kansas City's Jamaal Charles was the last back to rush for 100 or more yards against the Panthers (Week 13 of 2012; 127 yards).

PANTHERS PITCH A SHUTOUT

With a 38-0 victory in Week Three vs. the New York Giants (9/22/13), the Carolina Panthers tallied the sixth shutout victory in team history and first since a 34-0 victory vs. Kansas City (10/5/08).

Versus the Giants, the Panthers tied a then team record with seven sacks, registered three turnovers and held New York to 150 total net yards. The Panthers are the first team in over a decade to post a shutout victory of 38 points or more, record at least seven sacks and three turnovers, and hold an opponent to 150 total net yards in a game. The last club to accomplish the feat was the Atlanta Falcons against Carolina on November 24, 2002.

YOUNG GUNS

The Panthers second-ranked defense received a number of contributions from young players in 2013. On several plays last season, the Panthers had as many as six rookies on the field at the same time.

Contributions came from the Panthers draft choices, defensive tackles Star Lotulelei and Kawann Short and linebacker A.J. Klein, as well as undrafted players, safety Robert Lester, cornerback Melvin White and defensive end Wes Horton.

Lotulelei started all 16 games in 2013 and tallied 47 tackles, three sacks and 12 quarterback pressures. Short saw action in every game this season, making 33 tackles, 1.5 sacks, 21 quarterback pressures and forcing and recovering a fumble. Both players were named to the Professional Football Writers of America All-Rookie team and Lotulelei received votes for Associated Press Defensive Rookie of the Year.

In his first eight games, Klein saw most of his playing time on special teams, but made his first start of the season in Week Ten at San Francisco (11/10/13) as Chase Blackburn was limited with a foot injury. Klein totaled 24 tackles, including two sacks.

Lester and White made an impact in the secondary. Lester, a three-time national champion at the University of Alabama, started four games at safety and accounted for four takeaways. White started 10 consecutive games to end the season, entering the lineup in Week Eight at Tampa Bay (10/24/13). He made 45 tackles, one forced fumble, four passes defensed and had two interceptions on the year, including one returned for a touchdown in Week Seventeen at Atlanta (12/29/13).

Horton saw action in 10 games, notching eight tackles, including two sacks, and a quarterback pressure. Horton's two sacks came in Week Thirteeen vs. Tampa Bay (12/1/13). Horton is the first undrafted rookie with two or more sacks in a game since New England's Justin Francis had 3.0 sacks on Dec. 30, 2012.

DEFENSE STANDS STRONG IN RED ZONE

The Panthers defense was effective against teams in the red zone in 2013, ranking third in the NFL in red zone defense. The Panthers allowed 17 touchdowns in 41 red zone possessions, a 41.5 touchdown percentage.

DPOY PUTS KUECHLY IN SELECT GROUP

Luke Kuechly

In 2013, linebacker Luke Kuechly became the first Panthers player to earn Associated Press NFL Defensive Player of the Year honors after leading the Panthers No. 2-ranked defense with 176 tackles and tying for the team lead with four interceptions.

The second-year linebacker won the award one season after being named AP NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year in 2012.

Kuechly is just the second player to win Defensive Player of the Year and Defensive Rookie of the Year in his first two seasons. New York Giants linebacker Lawrence Taylor won both awards as a rookie in 1981 and repeated as Defensive Player of the Year in 1982 (and later in 1986).

Kuechly is one of eight players in NFL history to win Defensive Rookie of the Year and Defensive Player of the Year in a career.

2013 Pro Bowl selection

In 2013, Kuechly finished with 156 tackles (based on press box statistics), fourth in the NFL, just one season after tallying a league-leading 164 tackles in 2012 to become the first rookie since San Francisco's Patrick Willis in 2007 to lead the NFL in tackles.

Using tackle totals from coaches' film review, Kuechly tallied a franchise-record 205 tackles in 2012 and continued to rack up tackles in 2013 as he led the team with 176 tackles.

KUECHLY EARNS POW HONORS TWICE

In Week Sixteen vs. New Orleans (12/22/13), linebacker Luke Kuechly turned in a career day and was rewarded with his second NFC Defensive Player of the Week honor of 2013.

Based on press box statistics, Kuechly had 24 tackles and an interception in the Panthers' 17-13 win over New Orleans. Since tackles began being tracked in 1994, Kuechly's 24 tackles are tied for the most in a game with the New York Jets' David Harris (11/4/07). Kuechly is the first player since Tampa Bay's Derrick Brooks (9/30/01) to record at least 20 tackles and an interception in the same game.

Panthers coaches credited Kuechly with 26 tackles after film review, a new Panthers record, suprassing James Anderson's 20 vs. the New York Giants (9/20/12).

It was Kuechly's third career Player of the Week Award and second of 2013 (Week 10). He was also honored in Week 14, 2012. Kuechly's three Defensive Player of the Week Awards are tied with Julius Peppers for the most in franchise history.

Kuechly's first player of the week honors in 2013 came in Week Ten for his performance at San Francisco (11/10/13).

Based on press box statistics, Kuechly had a game-high 11 tackles, a sack and a pass defensed in the Panthers' 10-9 win at San Francisco. Two of his tackles resulted in a loss and he recorded five tackles within three yards or behind the line of scrimmage. Kuechly led a Carolina defense that limited the 49ers to nine points and 151 total net yards. San Francisco entered the game on a five-game winning streak having averaged 34.8 points and 357.6 yards during that span. The Panthers allowed 46 net passing yards, the fewest gained by the 49ers in a game since 2005. In the previous five games, San Francisco averaged 173.8 net passing yards. Kuechly was part of a defensive unit that had six sacks and forced two turnovers.

He is the first linebacker in franchise history to be named Defensive Player of the Week multiple times.

Linebacker Luke Kuechly produced a Panthers record 26 tackles vs. New Orleans (12/22/13).

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT KUECHLY

Praise for linebacker Luke Kuechly came from his coaches, team-mates and members of the media in 2013.

Panthers head coach Ron Rivera:
I really do believe he has an opportunity to be one of the really good ones. He has to stay healthy first and foremost and continue to develop as a linebacker. There's a lot of things that we do in our defense that give opportunities to our linebackers to make plays and a lot of it starts up front. If you ask Luke about it, he'll talk about his front four that are in front of him, and the two linebackers next to him and the safeties behind him. He's a very humble young man, so I'll do it for him and tell you that he has an opportunity to ascend. And if he continues to grow, we'll most certainly be talking about him in the same way as those great linebackers.

Panthers quarterback Cam Newton:
I've always been a huge fan of Luke [Kuechly]. I know what a competitor he is and how hard he works. He's only reached the tip of the iceberg.

Jon Gruden, former NFL coach and current Monday Night Football analyst:
I think he's the best linebacker, hands down, in football. This kid is very unique. He can knock you down easily. He can find the ball. He can cover. I mean he makes a play against (Atlanta tight end) Tony Gonzalez, I had to go outside and shake my head and get some air. This double move that Tony Gonzalez runs against everybody, Kuechly just wheeled and intercepted it. There's nothing the kid can't do.

Doug Farrar, Sports Illustrated NFL writer:
When [Kuechly]'s on, he's nearly unstoppable. He's the best of the league's new wave of 360-degree linebackers — just as adept in coverage as he is running opponents down in space.

Mike Mayock, former NFL player and current NFL Network analyst:
What usually knocks inside linebackers down is their inability to stay on the field for three plays. I think he's the best pure zone drop pass linebacker I've ever seen on tape.

Brian Billick, former NFL coach and current FOX Sports analyst:
In my opinion, he is the best cover linebacker in the entire NFL, and that diversity makes him an invaluable asset.

Matt Williamson, former NFL scout and current ESPN.com writer:
Luke Kuechly, [2012]'s defensive rookie of the year, has already emerged as one of the league's truly elite linebackers and this is his 4-3 defense. Comparisons to greats such as Patrick Willis and Ray Lewis are not too far-fetched in terms of expectations for Kuechly's career, as he simply excels in all areas of playing the position. Kuechly is a great blitzer, rarely takes a false first step to the ball and is a tremendous tackler.

Tim Ryan, former NFL player and current FOX Sports analyst:
I think [Luke Kuechly]'s the best true middle linebacker in the game. Just watching him play, his desire, his range, diagnosing plays, finishing plays.

KUECHLY IS THE MAN IN THE MIDDLE

Luke Kuechly

Luke Kuechly has made a difference for the Panthers defense since arriving to the team as the ninth overall choice in the 2012 NFL Draft.

In the two seasons (2012-13) since Kuechly arrived in Carolina, he has helped the team rank fifth in the NFL in total defense (317.2 yards per game), fourth in rushing defense (98.5) and ninth in passing defense (218.7). That is a marked improvement from the defense's standings during the two seasons (2010-11) prior to Kuechly's arrival as the Panthers ranked 24th in total defense (356.8), 24th in rushing defense (127.3) and 18th in passing defense (229.4).

PANTHERS DEFENSIVE RANKINGS
Start of 2010 through end of 2011:

	Rank	Avg.
Yds/Game	24th	356.8
Rush Yds/Game	24th	127.3
Pass Yds/Game	18th	229.4

Start of 2012 through end of 2013 (With Kuechly):

	Rank	Avg.	Change
Yds/Game	5th	317.2	-39.6
Rush Yds/Game	4th	98.5	-28.8
Pass Yds/Game	9th	218.7	-10.7

Since moving to the middle linebacker position in Week Five of 2012, Kuechly has been on the field for nearly every play for the Panthers defense. Kuechly has played in 1,759 of a possible 1,783 snaps (98.7%) at middle linebacker, only coming off the field for the final five snaps of the team's 38-0 victory over the New York Giants in Week Three (9/22/13), the final 12 snaps of the team's 35-10 victory over the Minnesota Vikings in Week Six (10/13/13), five snaps in the 34-10 win over the Atlanta Falcons in Week Nine (11/3/13) and two snaps in the 31-13 loss at New Orleans in Week Fourteen (12/8/13).

Kuechly played all 769 of the Panthers defensive snaps in the final 12 games of the 2012 season and saw action in 990 of the Panthers 1,014 defensive snaps (97.6) in 2013.

In 28 career games in the middle, Kuechly has averaged 12.5 tackles per game (349), recorded three sacks, six interceptions, eight passes defensed and three fumble recoveries (based on coaches' film review).

In 2012, Kuechly's first game in the middle came vs. Seattle in Week Five (10/7/12). After ranking 24th in the NFL in total defense after four weeks, the Panthers improved to 10th by the end of the season with Kuechly in the middle. The Carolina defense finished in the top 10 for the first time since 2009.

DAVIS EARNS PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Linebacker Thomas Davis was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week for Week Six after his performance at Minnesota (10/13/13).

Davis, who has come back from three ACL surgeries, had a game-high 10 tackles, a career-best two sacks and a pass defensed in the Panthers' 35-10 win at Minnesota. One of the team's defensive captains, Davis led a unit that limited the Vikings to 10 points, 18.8 points below Minnesota's average (28.8 entering the game). The Panthers held the Vikings to 75 rushing yards and 290 total net yards. Minnesota entered the game averaging 126.8 rushing yards per game and 350.5 total net yards per game.

In his ninth year from Georgia, this is Davis' first career Player of the Week Award. Davis is the sixth linebacker in franchise history to be named Defensive Player of the Week. He joins Sam Mills (Week 7, 1995), Kevin Greene (Week 9, 1999), Dan Morgan (Week 14, 2004), Jon Beason (Week 16, 2009) and Luke Kuechly (Week 14, 2012; Week 10, 2013 & Week 16, 2013).

DAVIS ADDS MORE HONORS

Linebacker Thomas Davis was named NFC Defensive Player of the Month for November 2013 as he helped lead the Panthers to a 4-0 record during the month for the first time in franchise history.

According to press box statistics, Davis had 35 tackles, an interception, one sack and a forced fumble as the Panthers went 4-0 during November. During the month, Davis was the only player in the NFL to record at least 35 tackles, a sack and a forced fumble.

It was Davis' first career Player of the Month Award. He joins Sam Mills (November 1995 and 1996) and Jon Beason (October 2008) as the only linebackers in team history to be honored.

Davis is the first Panther to be named Defensive Player of the Month since Julius Peppers (November 2008).

Thomas Davis earned NFC Defensive Player of the Month honors for November 2013, the first Panther since Julius Peppers in 2008 to win the award.

DAVIS PERFORMING AT HIGH LEVEL

Linebacker Thomas Davis started all 16 games for the Panthers in 2013 and set or tied career highs in tackles (151), sacks (4.0), interceptions (2) and passes defensed (8).

He was named NFC Defensive Player of the Month for the Month of November as the Panthers went 4-0 in the month for the first time in franchise history. Davis also turned in a standout performance in Week Eleven vs. New England (11/18/13) as he produced a game-high 17 tackles.

He earlier earned NFC Player of the Week honors as he helped the Panthers to a 35-10 victory over the Minnesota Vikings in Week Six (10/13/13). He tallied 10 tackles and a career-high 2.0 sacks. The game marked Davis's first multi-sack performance since 2006 when Davis had 1.5 at St. Louis (11/19/06).

Davis, a defensive captain, has been performing at a high level since his return from three surgical reconstructions of the anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee. The surgeries forced him to miss much of the 2009, 2010 and 2011 seasons before returning to play in 15 games with 12 starts in 2012. Davis is the first known NFL player to return to action following three ACL surgeries on the same knee.

Davis has made 28 consecutive starts beginning in Week Five of 2012 vs. Seattle (10/7/12) and is averaging 9.32 tackles in those games (261 tackles). He has 10 double-digit tackle games in that span.

With eight tackles in the regular season finale at Atlanta (12/29/13), Davis moved into second place on the Panthers all-time tackles list, surpassing Jon Beason's 701 tackles from 2007-13. Davis previously overtook Chris Gamble (558 tackles, 2004-12) in Week One vs. Seattle (9/8/13).

Thomas Davis	702	2005-13
Jon Beason	701	2007-13
Chris Gamble	558	2004-12

Panthers linebacker Thomas Davis has 702 tackles, the second-most in Panthers history, despite missing most of the 2009, 2010 and 2011 seasons due to three reconstructive knee surgeries.

LOTULELEI PROVIDES EARLY RETURNS

Panthers defensive tackle Star Lotulelei, the 14th overall pick in the 2013 NFL Draft, was named to the Professional Football Writers of America's All-Rookie team and received votes for AP NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year in his first season.

Lotulelei started all 16 games for a Panthers defense that finished No. 2 in total defense, rushing defense and scoring defense. Lotulelei has produced 47 tackles, including three sacks, and 11 quarterback pressures. Lotulelei's three sacks tied Dwan Edwards for the most among Panthers defensive tackles.

His first career sack came in Week Three vs. the New York Giants (9/22/13) as the Panthers tied a then team record with seven sacks and shutout the Giants 38-0, the Panthers first shutout victory since 2008. Lotulelei also contributed a sack to the Panthers team-record nine sack effort in Week Seventeen at Atlanta (12/29/13).

Loutlelei played three seasons at Utah after playing one year at Snow College, a junior college in Ephraim, Utah. In his senior season, Lotulelei talled five sacks and ranked second in the nation with four fumble recoveries to go along with three forced fumbles as he became one of three defensive lineman in Utah history to earn All-America honors.

Defensive tackle Star Lotulelei started all 16 games for the Panthers No. 2-ranked defense, earning All-Rookie honors from the PFWA.

PANTHERS SET SACK RECORDS

In Week Seventeen at Atlanta (12/29/13), the Carolina Panthers established a new single-game team record with nine sacks. The previous record was seven sacks, previously accomplished seven times, most recently in Week Three vs. the New York Giants (9/22/13).

At Atlanta, the Panthers sack efforts were led by defensive end Greg Hardy who established a new single-game individual record with four sacks of Falcons quarterback Matt Ryan. The four sacks surpass the old record of 3.5 sacks set by Charles Johnson at Atlanta (9/30/12).

SHORT BRINGS PRESSURE

2013 second-round draft choice (44th overall) defensive tackle Kawann Short earned All-Rookie honors from the Professional Football Writers of America for his first-year performance. Short joined fellow defensive tackle as a PFWA All-Rookie honoree.

Short played all 16 games for the Panthers, tallying 33 tackles, including 1.5 sacks, and tying Charles Johnson for second on the team with 21 quarterback pressures. Only defensive end Greg Hardy (38) had more.

Short tallied his first sack in Week Three vs. the New York Giants (9/22/13) as part of the Panthers seven-sack effort in a 38-0 shutout.

Short started all 50 games he played at Purdue from 2009-12, gathering 186 tackles, 49 tackles for loss, 19.5 sacks, two forced fumbles, four fumble recoveries, two interceptions and 15 passes defensed. He finished his career ranked third in school history for the most tackles for loss and sacks by a defensive tackle and blocked a school-record eight kicks, including six field goals. He earned second-team All-America honors in 2012.

Defensive tackle Kawann Short earned PFWA All-Rookie honors after producing 1.5 sacks and 21 quarterback pressures, tied for second-most on the team.

PRESSURE RISING

One season after ranking ninth in the NFL in sacks with 39, the Panthers kept the pressure up on opposing quarterbacks in 2013 as the team led the NFL and tied the franchise record with 60 total sacks (1996).

HARDY IS PLAYER OF THE WEEK TWICE

Greg Hardy

Defensive end Greg Hardy was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week twice in 2013, first for his performance in Week Three vs. the New York Giants (9/22/13) and then in Week Seventeen at Atlanta (12/29/13).

At Atlanta (12/29/13), Hardy had a franchise-record four sacks in the Panthers' 21-20 win. With the victory, the Panthers clinched the NFC South division title and a first-round bye.

Hardy finished the season with 15 sacks, tied for the most in team history (Kevin Greene, 1998). In the final two games of the season, Hardy had seven sacks. He is the first player to enter the postseason with consecutive three-sack performances in the team's final two games.

Hardy, who was selected to his first Pro Bowl, was part of a defensive unit that had a franchise-record nine sacks in the game. The Panthers finished the season with 60 sacks, tied for the most in a season in team history (1996).

Hardy is the fourth player in team history to be named Defensive Player of the Week multiple times. He joins Luke Kuechly (three), Julius Peppers (three) and Mike Rucker (two).

The Panthers won five Defensive Player of the Week Awards this season, the most in a season in franchise history. In addition to Hardy's two, linebackers Kuechly (two) and Thomas Davis were honored.

In Week Three vs. the New York Giants (9/22/13) Hardy tied a then career high with three sacks in the Panthers' 38-0 win over the New York Giants, the team's first shutout since 2008. Carolina tied a then single-game club record with seven sacks.

Defensive end Greg Hardy was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week for his three-sack performance vs. the New York Giants (9/22/13) and his four-sack performance at Atlanta (12/29/13).

HARDY REACHES SACK RECORDS

Defensive end Greg Hardy earned Pro Bowl honors and was named Associated Press second-team All-Pro after tying a team record with 15 sacks in 2013. Linebacker Kevin Greene first set the Panthers sack record with in 1998.

PANTHERS SINGLE-SEASON SACK LEADERS

Player	Sacks	Season
Kevin Greene	15.0	1998
Greg Hardy	15.0	2013
Kevin Greene	14.5	1996
Julius Peppers	14.5	2008
Lamar Lathon	13.5	1996

Hardy established a single-game Panthers record with four sacks in Week Seventeen at Atlanta (12/29/13), bettering the previous record of 3.5 by Charles Johnson at Atlanta (9/30/12).

Hardy is just the fifth player in Panthers history to post multiple double-digit sack seasons, joining Kevin Greene, Lamar Lathon, Julius Peppers, Mike Rucker and Charles Johnson.

PANTHERS WITH 10+ SACKS IN MULTIPLE SEASONS

Player	Years with 10+ sacks
Kevin Greene	1996 (14.5); 1998 (15); 1999 (12)
Julius Peppers	2002 (12); 2004 (11); 2005 (10.5); 2006 (13); 2008 (14.5); 2009 (10.5)
Mike Rucker	2002 (10); 2003 (12)
Charles Johnson	2010 (11.5); 2012 (12.5), 2013 (11.0)
Greg Hardy	2012 (11.0); 2013 (15.0)

Defensive end Greg Hardy earned postseason honors after tying the Panthers single-season record with 15 sacks in 2013.

JOHNSON JOINS TEAM SACK LEADERS

Charles Johnson

Charles Johnson tallied 11 sacks in 2013, becoming the first player in franchise history with at least nine sacks in four consecutive seasons.

Johnson has 54.0 career sacks, third-most in Panthers history. He has been the Panthers leader in sacks in three of the last four seasons (2010-12).

Since becoming a full-time starter in 2010, Johnson's 44.0 sacks are tied for seventh in the NFL. He has 23.5 sacks in his past 27 games.

PANTHERS CAREER SACK LEADERS

Player	Sacks	Seasons
Julius Peppers	81.0	2002-09
Mike Rucker	55.5	1999-2007
Charles Johnson	54.0	2007-13
Kevin Greene	41.5	1996, 1998-99

Johnson is one of three players in team history with at least three double-digit sack seasons (Kevin Greene, Julius Peppers).

PANTHERS WITH 10+ SACKS IN THREE OR MORE SEASONS

Player	Years with 10+ sacks
Kevin Greene	1996 (14.5); 1998 (15); 1999 (12.0)

Charles Johnson	2010 (11.5); 2012 (12.5), 2013 (11.0)

KNOCK IT LOOSE

Defensive end Charles Johnson made an impact in Week One of the 2013 regular season vs. Seattle (9/8/13), when he made a strip-sack of quarterback Russell Wilson with the Seahawks threatening to score inside the Panthers 15-yard line.

Johnson's forced fumble vs. Seattle was the 14th of his career, tying him with Mike Rucker (1999-2007) for third place in team history.

PANTHERS CAREER LEADERS, FORCED FUMBLES

SACK ARTISTS

Defensive ends Charles Johnson and Greg Hardy have become one of the best pass rushing duos in the NFL in recent years.

After becoming the first pair of Panthers with double-digit sacks since 2002 last season, Johnson and Hardy repeated the accomplishment again in 2013. Hardy (11.0 and 15.0) and Johnson (12.5 and 11.0) are the only pair in the NFL with double-digit sacks in each of the last two seasons. In the last two seasons, they have combined for 49.5 sacks, tied for most in the NFL.

MOST COMBINED SACKS BY TEAMMATES, 2012-13

Sacks	Team	Players (Sacks)
49.5	Car.	G. Hardy (26.0) & C. Johnson (23.5)
49.5	St.L	C. Long (20.0) & R. Quinn (29.5)
44.0	Hou.	J.J. Watt (31.0) & W. Mercilus (13.0)
43.0	S.F.	A. Smith (28.0) & A. Brooks (15.0)
43.0	Hou.	J.J. Watt (31.0) & A. Smith (12.0)

With 26.0 combined sacks in 2013, Johnson and Hardy are the second-most productive single-season sack tandem in team history.

TOP SACK TANDEMS IN PANTHERS HISTORY

Sacks	Season	Players (Sacks)
28.0	1996	K. Greene (14.5) & L. Lathon (13.5)
26.0	2013	G. Hardy (15.0) & C. Johnson (11.0)

21.0	1998	K. Greene (15.0) & S. Gilbert (6.0)
20.5	2008	J. Peppers (14.5) & C. Johnson (6.0)

Defensive ends Greg Hardy and Charles Johnson teamed up to provide 26.0 sacks in 2013 as both had double-digit sack totals for the second consecutive season.

GANO GETS HIS KICKS

In 2013, Kicker Graham Gano converted 24 of 27 field goal attempts and all 42 PAT tries.

He made all six of his field goal attempts from 50+ yards, establishing a career-high and franchise record for most 50-yard field goals made in a season.

PANTHERS SEASON LEADERS, 50+ YARD FIELD GOALS

Player	FG	Seasons
Graham Gano	6	2013
John Kasay	4	2006
John Kasay	4	1998

Gano's six field goals from 50 yards or more tied for the NFL lead. He was the only kicker in the NFL with more than three attempts from 50-plus yards without a miss from that distance.

2013 NFL LEADERS, 50+ YARD FIELD GOALS

Justin Tucker, Bal.	6	7	85.7
Mason Crosby, G.B.	5	7	71.4
S. Gostkowski, N.E.	5	6	83.3

Gano's 55-yard field goal vs. the Atlanta Falcons (11/03/13) tied John Kasay's field goal vs. San Francisco (10/24/10) for the second-longest in team history.

In addition, Gano's strong leg was a weapon for the Panthers in the field position game. Sixty-three of Gano's 79 kickoffs resulted in touchbacks. His 79.7 touchback percentage was the top mark in the NFL this season and is the highest percentage in a season since Brad Daluiso in 1992 (81.3 percent).

55.75	Jason Baker	vs. Phi. 9/13/09 (4-223)

Nortman was named NFC Special Teams Player of the Month for December 2013.

Nortman averaged 48.1 yards per punt and had a net average of 43.9 yards in December as the Panthers went 4-1 and clinched the NFC South division. His 43.9-yard net average ranked second in the NFL for the month. He placed eight punts inside the 20-yard line during the month, including at least one in every game. He placed two punts inside the five-yard line in December.

Nortman had 13 punts of at least 50 yards, including two 60+ yarders, in the month. He had at least one 50-yard punt in all five December games.

Nortman is the first Panther to be named Special Teams Player of the Month since kicker Kasay in October 2003.
