DATE: Sunday, November 21, 2010 SITE: Gillette Stadium KICKOFF: 4:15 p.m. (EST)

CAPACITY: 68,756 SURFACE: FieldTurf

Renewing one of the National Football League's most prominent rivalries, the Indianapolis Colts, 6-3, visit the New England Patriots, 7-2, on Sunday, November 21. Kickoff for the contest in Gillette Stadium, broadcast by CBS Sports and Westwood One, is 4:15 p.m. (EST).

The Colts and Patriots will be meeting for the eleventh time since the 2003 season. Eight of the past nine Indianapolis-New England games has been contested before a nationally-televised audience, with the Colts owning a 5-4 edge in those battles. Three of the games have been playoff affairs, with two of those battles deciding the AFC champion. The Patriots topped the Colts on January 18, 2004, 24-14 in Foxborough, to win the conference title. New England beat Indianapolis the next season in the Divisional Playoffs, 20-3 on January 16, 2005 in Gillette Stadium. Indianapolis took consecutive November contests in Foxborough, 40-21 on November 7, 2005 and 27-20 on November 5, 2006. Both wins extended the Colts' record to 8-0. Indianapolis prevailed over New England, 38-34, in the AFC Championship Game on January 21, 2007, earning a berth in Super Bowl XLI. New England ended the Colts' series winning streak with a 24-20 verdict in the RCA Dome on November 4, 2007, in a meeting of the best undefeated records in NFL history (8-0, New England; 7-0, Colts). Indianapolis produced an 18-15 home win on November 2, 2008, and the Colts earned a 35-34 comeback victory last November 15 in Lucas Oil Stadium. That contest was the 18th consecutive regular-season victory for Indianapolis, and the club (23) would go on to eclipse New England's league mark of 21 consecutive regular-season wins established from 2006-08. The first of these nationally-televised outings was a 27-24 Patriots home win in the 2004 opener. The teams are meeting for the sixth consecutive season in November. The Colts reach Sunday's fray after a 23-17 home victory last Sunday over Cincinnati. New England earned a 39-26 victory last Sunday at Pittsburgh.

The Colts and Patriots stand as the winningest organizations since the start of the 1999 season. Indianapolis owns a 134-51 regular-season record during that span, while New England boasts a mark of 127-58. The Colts have an NFL-best 10 playoff appearances since 1999, including a league-best eight consecutive post-season berths, while the Patriots' seven appearances are the third-most. The Colts and Patriots each won five consecutive division titles (2003-07), before finishing second in their respective divisions in 2008. Indianapolis and New England are two of nine organizations to win five or more consecutive divisional flags since the NFL Merger in 1970 (7, LA Rams, NFC West, 1973-79; 6, Minnesota, NFC Central, 1973-78; 6, Pittsburgh, AFC Central, 1974-79; 5, Oakland, AFC West, 1972-76; 5, Chicago, NFC Central, 1984-88; 5, San Francisco, NFC West, 1986-90; 5, Dallas, NFC East, 1992-96; 5, Indianapolis, AFC South, 2003-07; 5, New England, AFC East, 2003-07). Both clubs added division titles last year, and six by the clubs lead all other teams since the 2002 Realignment. Indianapolis had 115 victories from 2000-09, while New England had 113 to rank among the most victories in a decade by an NFL team.

From November, 2003 to December, 2009, the Colts produced a regular-season record of 81-19, tying New England (2003-09) for the NFL's best 100-game regular-season mark. Indianapolis' winning ways include a 39-12 record in AFC South play, while the club has owned or shared the lead in 118 of 146 weeks of the division's existence. The Colts won five AFC South championships from 2003-07, the best divisional-title streak in club history. The Colts were wire-to-wire divisional leaders during the 2005, 2006, 2007 and 2009 seasons. The club's nine playoff berths in the 2000-09 decade tied the NFL record set by Dallas (9) in the 1970s. Indianapolis is the only team since 2002 Realignment to earn annual double-digit victory totals and playoff berths. From 2008-09, the Colts set an NFL record with 23 consecutive regular-season victories (21, New England, 2006-08). The streak was the sixth 10+-game regular-season winning streak in franchise history (23, 2008-09; 13, 2005; 11, 1964; 11, 1975-76; 11, 1999; 10, 2005-06), the fourth since 1999. Indianapolis extended its NFL record as the only franchise to win seven or more consecutive regular-season games in six consecutive seasons (8, 2004; 13, 2005; 9, 2006; 7 and 6, 2007; 9, 2008; 14, 2009). Additionally, the Colts posted their eighth consecutive 10+-victory season, setting the 2nd-longest such streak in NFL history (16, San Francisco, 1983-98). The Colts extended their league mark to seven consecutive seasons (2003-09) with 12+ victories.

COLTS-PATRIOTS SERIES NOTES

New England owns a 42-28 regular season series advantage over the Colts, and the Patriots have taken two of three playoff games between the clubs. These teams met last November 15 in Indianapolis. Overcoming a 24-point first-half New England assault and two 17-point deficits, including one in the final quarter, Indianapolis rallied for a 35-34 victory over the Patriots. QB-Peyton Manning was 28-44-327, 4 TDs/2 ints., directing the Colts to 21 fourth-quarter points, including two TD drives in the final four minutes. Manning teamed with WR-Reggie Wayne (10-126, 2 TDs; 20t, 1t) on two scoring tosses, the final one coming with :13 left to provide the winning tally. Manning hit RB-Joseph Addai on at 15t toss to open the game and WR-Pierre Garcon on a 29t pass early in the fourth quarter to start the comeback. New England had leads of 24-7, 31-14 and 34-21 before the Colts rallied. QB-Tom Brady was 29-42-375, 3 TDs/1 int. WR-Randy Moss was 9-179, 2 TDs (63t; 5t). The outcome was the 18th of an eventual NFL-record 23 consecutive regular-season victories, and it placed Indianapolis alongside New England as the only franchises to earn 18+ consecutive regular-season victories (21, New England, 2006-08; 18, New England, 2003-04). Jim Caldwell became the first NFL rookie head coach to win his first nine games, surpassing the 8-0 mark he shared with Patsy Clark (Portsmouth, 1931). He also became the only coach ever to start 9-0 when succeeding a head coach who won 100+ games (139, Tony Dungy). The Colts became the first team to produce three 9-0 starts in a five-year span. These teams met November 2, 2008 in Lucas Oil Stadium, with Indianapolis posting an 18-15 victory. K-Adam Vinatieri booted a 52-yard field goal midway through the final quarter to help Indianapolis earn the victory. Manning (21-29-254, 2 TDs) teamed with WR-Anthony Gonzalez (4-55, 2 TDs; 12t; 9t) on two scoring passes, while the Indianapolis defense produced takeaways on New England's final two possessions to secure the win. The Colts held leads of 7-0 and 15-12 before Vinatieri's winning kick. New England used three field goals by K-Stephen Gostkowski and a 6t rush by RB-BenJarvus Green-Ellis to tie the contest early in the final period. Tony Dungy coached in his 200th career regular-season game and posted his 131st victory, the third-highest 200-game regular-season total by any head coach in NFL history (147, Don Shula; 135, George Halas). The teams met on November 4, 2007 in the RCA Dome, with New England earning a 24-20 victory. The contest matched the best unbeaten records in NFL history, (8-0, New England; 7-0, Colts). The Patriots scored two touchdowns in the final 7:59 to top the Colts. Brady (21-32-255, 3 TDs/2 ints.) hit scoring tosses to WR-Wes Welker (3t) and RB-Kevin Faulk (13t) to erase a 20-10 Colts lead. Brady also teamed with Moss (9-145, 1 TD; 4t) to open the scoring, but Indianapolis seized the lead just prior to the half and led most of the way. Manning was 16-27-225, 1 TD/int., while Addai (26-112 rushing/5-114, 1 TD receiving) became the first Colts player ever to tally 100+ yards rushing and receiving in the same game. Manning and Addai teamed on a 73t scoring play just prior to the half. The outcome snapped a franchise-record 12-game home winning streak and a three-game overall Colts series winning streak. The Colts defeated the Patriots in the AFC Championship Game on January 21, 2007. In that contest, erasing an 18-point deficit with a 32-point second-half flurry, the Colts captured the AFC crown with a 38-34 victory. Manning (27-47-349, 1 TD/int.) scored on a 1t rush, tossed a 1t pass and guided the club to 17 fourth-quarter points to earn the club its first Super Bowl berth since the 1970 season. Indianapolis tallied 455 net yards, with second-half scoring drives of 76, 76, 67, 59 and 80 yards. The final drive concluded with a 3t rush by Addai with 1:00 remaining as the club produced the largest championship game comeback in NFL history. Vinatieri booted field goals of 42, 26 and 36 yards, while C-Jeff Saturday (fumble recovery) and DT-Dan Klecko (1t reception) scored touchdowns. New England bolted to a 21-3 lead behind Brady (21-34-232, 1 TD/int.) and a 39t interception return by DB-Asante Samuel. Indianapolis knotted the contest at 21-21, 28-28 and 31-31 before the final game-winning drive. The playoff win came after two such setbacks to the Patriots, a 24-14 decision on January 18, 2004 in the AFC Championship Game and a 20-3 decision on January 16, 2005 in the AFC Divisional Playoffs. The Colts have won the last two regular-season meetings at Gillette Stadium, 27-20 on November 5, 2006 and 40-21 on November 7, 2005. New England's last home regular-season series win came on September 9, 2004, 27-24. This marks the second time in the past nine meetings this rivalry has not been televised nationally, and Sunday's game marks the 10th straight meeting the clubs meet with both owning winning records.

WIDE RECEIVER REGGIE WAYNE

CONTINUED IMPROVEMENT: WR-Reggie Wayne, a four-time Pro Bowl choice (2006-09), became the 34th NFL player to surpass 10,000 career receiving yards. He ranks 2nd in club career receptions, yards and 100+ games and 3rd in TD receptions. He has recorded six consecutive 1,000-yard seasons, tied for the most consecutive 1,000+ seasons among active NFL receivers (Donald Driver). Wayne and Manning own the second-most completions and yards among a QB-WR duo in NFL history (trailing Manning-Harrison in each). Wayne holds the club record for single-game receptions with 15, set 10/3/10 at Jacksonville. He led the NFL in 2007 with 1,510 receiving yards. Wayne posted his second career 100+-catch season in 2009, and he and TE-Dallas Clark became the fourth set of teammates to reach 100+-receptions. Wayne became the third receiver in NFL history to increase his receptions total for the first seven seasons of a career, matching Raymond Berry (1955-61) and Shawn Jefferson (1991-97). Wayne had become the 11th receiver to increase his reception total in the first six seasons in 2006. Wayne leads the NFL in receptions and receiving yards since 2004 (see chart below).
