SUSTAINED SUCCESS: PATRIOTS TO FINISH ABOVE .500 FOR 10th STRAIGHT SEASON

With their eighth win of the 2010 season, the Patriots are guaranteed to finish the season with a record of .500 or better for the 10th consecutive year. Each of the other 31 NFL teams had at least one losing season between 2001 and 2009.

SANDERS PICK ICES GAME

James Sanders, last week's AFC Defensive Player of the Week, clinched the victory for the Patriots when he intercepted a Peyton Manning pass at the Patriots' 6-yard line with 31 seconds left and New England holding a 3-point lead. Sanders's big play thwarted a potential game-tying field goal try or a potential game-winning touchdown. The interception was Sanders's second of the season and his second in as many weeks. Last week at Pittsburgh, Sanders returned an interception 32 yards for a touchdown. The interception against the Colts was the seventh of Sanders's 6-year career.

GREEN-ELLIS SCORES SEVENTH RUSHING TOUCHDOWN OF THE SEASON

BenJarvus Green-Ellis scored his seventh rushing touchdown of 2010 on a 5-yard run in the second quarter. Green-Ellis has seven rushing touchdowns through the first ten games of the year. It is the first time that a Patriots running back has had seven rushing touchdowns in the first ten games since Corey Dillon had seven through the first ten games in 2006. Dillon finished with 13 rushing touchdowns that season. Green-Ellis is on pace for 11 rushing touchdowns in 2010, which would make him just the eighth player in Patriots history to record double digit rushing touchdowns in a season and the first since Corey Dillon did it three years in a row between 2004 and 2006. Besides Dillon, the other Patriots with 10 or more touchdowns in a season are Curtis Martin (2), Steve Grogan, Antowain Smith, Horace Ivory, Jim Nance and Tony Collins.

GREEN-ELLIS HAS THIRD GAME OF SEASON WITH 95+ RUSHING YARDS

BenJarvus Green-Ellis had 96 rushing yards, marking the third time this season that he has topped the 95-yard rushing mark. In addition to today's performance, Green-Ellis had 112 rushing yards on 17 carries against Minnesota (10/31) and he had 16 rushes for 98 yards against Buffalo (9/26). Green-Ellis is the first Patriots player to have 95 rushing yards or more in three or more games in a season since Laurence Maroney had 95 or more yards in three games in 2007. The last time a Patriots player eclipsed the 95-yard rushing mark more than three times in a single season was in 2004, when Corey Dillon broke the mark 10 times.

WOODHEAD SCORES ON A 36-YARD TOUCHDOWN RUN

RB Danny Woodhead scored on a career-long 36-yard touchdown run in the third quarter to give the Patriots a 28-14 lead. It is the longest run of the season for New England, besting a 26-yard run by RB BenJarvus Green-Ellis' vs. Minnesota (10/31). It is Woodhead's second touchdown run of 20 or more yards. He had a 22-yard touchdown run vs. Buffalo (9/26). The 36-yard touchdown run was the longest scoring run for the Patriots since Laurence Maroney had a 45-yard touchdown in the Patriots' 59-0 win over Tennessee on Oct. 18, 2009.

WOODHEAD HAS A CAREER HIGH 69 YARDS RUSHING

Woodhead had a career-high 69 yards rushing, topping the 63 yards he had vs. Baltimore (10/17).

PRODUCTIVE RUNNING TANDEM

BenJarvus Green-Ellis ran 21 times for 96 yards and Danny Woodhead ran seven times for 69 yards. Today's game marked the first time the Patriots have had two players rush for 69 or more yards in nearly two full years, dating back to a Dec. 21, 2008 game against Arizona where Sammy Morris had 88 yards and LaMont Jordan had 78 yards.

BRADY GOOD IN THE COLD

With a total of 31 points against the Colts today, the Patriots have now scored 30 or more points in five games in 2010 and lead the NFL with 289 points per game. The Patriots are on pace to score 462 points this season, a total that would rank second in franchise history to the Patriots' NFL record-setting 2007 total of 589 points. New England entered this week's games leading the NFL in averaging 28.7 points per game in 2010, and is now averaging 28.9 points per game.

He has caught at least one pass in each of his 59 games with the Patriots, including three postseason games. The last time that Welker did not catch a pass in a game was December 24, 2005 when he was with the Dolphins. The Patriots' record for most consecutive games with at least one pass is 63 by TE Ben Coates (12-17-92) to (12-15-96).

WELKER MATCHES HIS 2009 TOUCHDOWN TOTAL

LB JEROD MAYO ON PACE FOR 200 TACKLES

The day-of-game state crew credited Jerod Mayo with 15 tackles against the Colts, raising his total to 131 total tackles in 2010. Mayo had 139 tackles as a rookie in 2008 and 114 in 2009 and with his 131 tackles in 2010 he is the first Patriots player to have three consecutive 100-tackle seasons since Lawyer Milloy registered five straight 100-tackle seasons from 1997 through 2001. Mayo is on pace for a career-high 210 total tackles. That number will be the highest since LB Steve Nelson had 207 tackles in 1984.
