

Charlie Schneider's Tricks

As the trusted sidekick of John Schneider, I challenge 12s to bond with their fellow fur family members this week. Below are some of my favorite tricks that should be rewarded with lots treats and hugs. Good luck to my fellow fur 12s who are living their best lives with all the attention in the world right now; enjoy it while it lasts.

Did someone say "TRADE"!!??

The NFL Draft is hard work so you need to get your rest when you can,

LIE DOWN:

1. Hold a treat in front of your fur family member's nose.
2. Then bring the treat down to the floor and they will follow.
3. Move the treat away from yourself and toward them using the command "Lay Down".
4. If they need extra help, start by moving the treat toward you until their body is full extended. Use the command "Lay Down".
5. Give them the treat when they lie down.
6. Repeat steps 1-4 until they are successful.

STAY:

1. Give your fur family member the command "Stay" with your voice and show them your hand with your flat palm extended toward their face.
2. Make them sit by gently moving their back into a sitting position if they try to get up.
3. Move a short distance away from them, while still holding your hand and commanding them to "Stay".
4. If they do not move, give them a treat.
5. Repeat steps 1-3 moving further away each time and continue to practice until it becomes a habit.

SHAKE HANDS:

1. In your right hand, hide a treat and lower your hand to the ground.
2. Encourage your fur family member to get it by using the command "Get it" and once their paw comes off the ground and rests on top of your hand, reward them with a treat.
3. Raise your right hand and continue rewarding them as they follow your "Get it" command while you gradually stand up.
4. Repeat this until their paw is fully extended.
5. Stand up and hold the treat in your left hand behind your back and reach out your right hand and use the command "Shake". When they extend their paw, support it with your hand and gently shake it up and down, then reward them with a treat.
6. Repeat steps 1-5 until you have mastered the trick.

#WeGotThisSeattle

Go Hawks!
Charlie