When asked about her motivation to audition for the Raiderettes, Brittany shared that her desire to be a part of the best was what drove her. Despite not growing up dancing, she never let that discourage her from pursuing her dreams. Her years in track taught her the importance of hard work and determination, and she applied those principles to her dance career. Brittany's story is a testament to the fact that with hard work and a passion that sets your soul on fire, your background should not limit your future.

Being a Raiderette is a dream come true for Brittany, and her favorite part is being a member of the iconic sisterhood. The bond between strong women coming together, embracing each other, and lifting each other up is truly powerful. Once a Raiderette, always a Raiderette, and Brittany feels blessed to carry on the legacy while paying homage to those who came before her and inspiring the next generation.

Outside of her role as a Raiderette, Brittany finds great reward in inspiring the next generation of dancers. Being able to speak positivity into their lives, encourage them, and be a role model is a heartwarming experience for her. She believes in staying focused on goals but also enjoying the process. Dancing with joy and passion is contagious, and it captivates the audience.

Looking ahead, Brittany's ultimate career goal is to become a sought-after wedding planner, known for creating extraordinary and unforgettable wedding experiences. She envisions taking her small wedding planning business and transforming it into a household name in the industry. Her deep passion for love stories and meticulous planning will allow her to turn dreams into reality, crafting personalized and breathtaking celebrations globally.

To young dancers aspiring to be in her shoes one day, Brittany advises staying focused on goals but also enjoying the process. Dancing with heart and letting the love for movement shine through in every step is key. When dancers perform with joy and passion, their energy is contagious, captivating the audience. Brittany's advice is to let your light shine and never give up on your dreams.
