

RAIDERETTE OF THE GAME

PRESENTED BY EōSFITNESS

Camille

Camille's dance journey began at 13 years old, when she auditioned for her high school dance team, the Sparklers. During her four years at Centennial High School, she served as a line leader, showcasing her leadership skills from an early age. Continuing her passion for dance, Camille attended the University of Oklahoma, where she obtained her degree in Neuroscience while being a member of the spirit department.

After college, Camille pursued her master's degree in medical nutrition at Arizona State University while dancing professionally for the Allen Americans Ice Angels and the Oklahoma City Thunder Girls. Her dedication and talent earned her the captain's title during her final season with the Thunder Girls.

Now, Camille has embarked on a new chapter in her dance career as a rookie Raiderette in Las Vegas. In her first year on the team, Camille has already made a significant impact both on and off the field. She is excited about the opportunity to work within the community and celebrate Raider Nation throughout the season. Camille's commitment to her craft and her desire to empower women make her a valuable asset to the team.

When asked about her motivation to audition for the Raiderettes, Camille credits the women on the team, the women within the organization, and the young girls in the community. She recognizes the unique sisterhood and strong bond among Football's Fabulous Females and aims to empower and support her teammates as they navigate their own journeys.

To young dancers aspiring to follow in her footsteps, Camille offers the advice of not being led by fear, but rather being led by their hearts. As an instructor at Raiderettes, the Studio, she encourages her students to pursue their passions and believe in themselves.

In addition to her role as a Raiderette, Camille has had rewarding experiences in the community. The ability to bring joy and be a part of someone's positive experience is one of her favorite aspects of the team.

Looking ahead, Camille aspires to continue empowering women as a physician.

With a love for medicine, she hopes to listen and care for women in the medical field, furthering her desire to make a difference in people's lives.

Camille's talent, dedication, and commitment to empowering youth make her a deserving recipient of the Raiderette of the Game. Her leadership on and off the field, as well as her positive impact in the community, exemplify the qualities of an exceptional Raiderette.