This week, the spotlight shines brightly on Shayla, Raiderette of the Game. A professional baker by trade, Shayla has spent the last three seasons dazzling fans not only with her cheerleading skills but also with her infectious passion and determination. Originally from Long Beach, California, Shayla embodies the spirit of a true Raiderette, always ready to uplift those around her.

Baking has been more than just a profession for Shayla—it has been a transformative journey. “My business has helped me become the woman that I am today,” she says, reflecting on how her entrepreneurial spirit has shaped her character. Every pastry she crafts is a testament to her dedication and hard work, and she draws motivation from her achievements, constantly striving for excellence. Whether she’s in the kitchen whipping up a batch of cookies or out on the field performing for thousands, Shayla’s commitment to her goals is unwavering.

When she’s not baking or cheering, you can often find Shayla indulging in her favorite TV show, “Grey’s Anatomy.” The emotional depth and resilience portrayed by the characters resonate with her personal journey. Just like the doctors on the show, Shayla navigates the challenges of her profession with grace and determination, drawing inspiration from her own life experiences.

Living in Las Vegas, Shayla has developed a deep appreciation for the city’s vibrant dining scene. “The hospitality in Vegas is like no other,” she remarks, highlighting her love for exploring new culinary experiences. This passion for food not only fuels her baking career but also connects her to the community she serves as a Raiderette.

One of Shayla’s guiding principles is her favorite quote: “Success is not final; failure is not fatal: it is the courage to continue that counts.” This mantra perfectly encapsulates her approach to life and her professional journey. Inspired daily by her parents, Shayla is driven to better herself and live life to the fullest, embodying the very essence of resilience and perseverance.

As for the future, Shayla aspires to own a successful bakery, where she can share her love for baking with the world. Her dreams are fueled by the same passion that she brings to the Raiderette team, where she finds joy in stepping out into the community and promoting an organization, she truly believes in. “Being a Raiderette allows me to share my passion with amazing women who have similar aspirations,” she shares, emphasizing the camaraderie that comes with being part of such a dynamic team.

This week, as Shayla stands proud as the Raiderette of the Game, she not only represents the spirit of the Raiderettes but also serves as an inspiration to all who encounter her. With her unwavering determination, and commitment to the community, Shayla is a shining example of what it means to be a Raiderette.
