Honored as the “Raiderette of the Game,” Maddie shares her journey, inspirations, and aspirations, captivating fans both on and off the field.

Maddie, a passionate dance teacher from Cypress, California, has been part of the Raiderettes for two seasons. Her bubbly energy and love for dance shine brightly during every performance, making her a standout among her peers. “I try to bring joy, heart, and purpose into everything I do—on and off the field,” Maddie says, reflecting her commitment to her craft and teammates.

Living in Las Vegas offers Maddie unique experiences that fuel her creativity and enthusiasm. “Vegas has so much to love,” she expresses. “Two things stand out for me: the incredible live entertainment that brings so much energy to the city, and the amazing variety of high-end, diverse food options.”

Whether she’s performing at an electrifying game or exploring the latest culinary hotspot, Maddie relishes the excitement and motivation the city offers.

Describing her biggest inspiration, Maddie credits her mother with shaping her values and aspirations. “Her strength, selflessness, and constant support have molded who I am today,” Maddie shares. “She’s taught me how to lead with love and resilience. I hope to be even half the mom she is one day.” This deep love and admiration for her mother drive Maddie to pursue her goals, not just in dance but in her future career as well.

Beyond her time with the Raiderettes, Maddie has ambitious plans for her future. She aspires to become a Nurse Practitioner and hopes to open her own practice one day. “My goal is to provide compassionate, personalized care and create a space where patients feel seen, supported, and truly valued,” she explains. This aspiration highlights her desire to make a meaningful impact in the lives of others, continuing her passion for helping people beyond the dance floor.

When it comes to leisure, Maddie enjoys unwinding with her all-time favorite TV show, Friends. The classic sitcom resonates with her love for camaraderie and brings a smile to her face after a busy day. Her guiding philosophy in life can be summed up in a quote she treasures: “If something is not meant for you, it won’t pass you by.” This outlook reflects Maddie’s positivity and belief that everything happens for a reason, inspiring her to embrace every opportunity.

Maddie embodies the spirit of the Raiderettes, celebrating her achievements and her journey as a dancer and future healthcare provider. Honored as the “Raiderette of the Game,” she serves as a beacon of passion and purpose, encouraging others to pursue their dreams and make a difference.
